Teen Gunman Holds Girl Hostage, Fires At Police

HERE THEY COME—Mervyn Evans, Royal Air Force sergeant from Trefriw, Wales, gives the answers to questions by Independent-Journal reporter Randall Gould as Evans and Sgt. Patrick Maloney (dark glasses) of Kilmallock, Ireland, step along with never a pause on coast-to-coast record-breaking hike. The reporter was in good form as this photo was taken, but . . .

AFTER RECORD

Fast-Stepping Britons Zip Through Here

By RANDALL GOULD

San Rafael wasn't even a flag stop for two tough-hiking British Royal Air Force sergeants who stormed through northbound on foot this morning like a doubleheader fast express passing up a tank town.

Sergeants Mervyn Evans and Patrick Moloney of Wales and Ireland, respectively, took off at 6 a.m. from the Golden Gate Bridge, determined to set a new transcontinental walking record. At sunrise they'd sloshed their bare feet in Pacific Ocean surf.

Thousands of San Francisco-bound Marin motorists were startled to see two trim-uniformed figures coming up the side of Highway 101 with swinging arms in a fast march stride. Maloney preceding Evans about two paces.

They paused for nothing (least of all the press) as a panting reporter learned as they entered San Rafael's outskirts just after 9 a.m. There was just one way to conduct an interview, and that was to keep up, or try to.

"What about walking on the freeway?"

"We had the British consul in San Francisco check. He was told it would be all right if we kept single file off to one side and against the traffic.

"But we can't go over the Richmond Bridge so we're going around."

"When will you take a break?"

Six hours meant noon and

THERE THEY GO — The interview fags out as reporter Gould, no match for the fast-stepping Britons, falls behind. The two sergeants started at 6 a.m. today from the north end of the Golden Gate Bridge, hiked through San Rafael three hours later, plan to keep going to New York. (Independent-Journal photos)

I-J CENSUS CONTEST

Estimate Of Population In From 5 Of Marin's Cities

Residents of half of Marin's 10 cities are represented in the Independent-Journal's $3 7 5 countywide census contest. But up to this morning, no residents of Belvedere, Sausalito, Corte Madera, Ross or San Anselmo had sent in estimates of the 1960 population of their cities, the whole county and the circulation of the Independent-Journal.

A Larkspur resident, who hopes to win $150 in merchandise orders, puts his fate in the hands of 7s. If 7s repeat for him, he may win $100 award for his estimate of the county's population at 177,777; a $25 order for his guess of 5,777 for the population of Larkspur, and another $25 for his guess of 29,777 as the circulation of the Independent-Journal.

You can win one, two or three of the dozen prizes offered. Just send your estimates of these three totals, the population of the county as determined by the 1960 census, the population of the city in which you live, and the circulation of the Independent-Journal as of next April 30, to Census Contest, P.O. Box 330, San Rafael, or take them to the offices of the I-J in San Rafael, Corte Madera, Mill Valley or Novato.

Sunny Skies Spur Turnout At Marin Polls

9 Cities Electing Officials; Heavy Balloting Forecast

Polls in all cities will be open until 7 p.m.

Voting during the morning varied from light to "exceptionally heavy," but city clerks in most cities forecast a heavy turnout on the basis of more-than-usual absentee ballots.

Two of the cities will be the scenes of true election night celebrations tonight: Mill Valley and Novato. In others, no formal plans were announced for election night festivities.

OPEN HOUSE

Open house will be held at the Mill Valley City Hall from 7 to 9 p.m., with returns from the city's election being posted as rapidly as received. Coffee and doughnuts will be served free, announced City Manager A. E. Almcrants.

In Novato, an election night open house, featuring up-to-the minute election returns, coffee and doughnuts, will be held in the Independent-Journal office at 1129 Grant avenue.

On hand will be radio station KTIM manager Hugh Turner and his traveling microphone for on-the-spot interviews with winning and losing candidates in the city's second city council election in three months.

HEAVY VOTE

Among those with heavy morning vote turnout was Ross, where about 100 had voted by noon at the town hall. Election officials said this is not unusual in Ross, however, where many of the women vote during the morning. The election there finds four candidates for three city council spots—including the three incumbents.

"The vote is running unusually heavy in Sausalito," reported City Clerk Amelie Smith at noon. At the consolidated city hall precinct there, 120 out of a possible 532 votes had been cast by noon. Sausalito has a wide-open council race, with

Beverly Now Says Shot Was Accident

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Beverly Aadland has changed her story of how a youth was shot fatally in her apartment and now claims William Stanciu was shot accidentally during a playful scuffle on her bed Saturday, police said today.

Deputy Police Chief Thad Brown said: "Beverly admits she lied when she said Stanciu raped her."

He said she admitted lying after police told her a lie detector test administered to her yesterday indicated parts of her story were false.

Stanciu, 21, booked on suspicion of rape, died in the General Hospital prison ward early Sunday. Police at first listed his death as suicide.

There was no immediate word from police whether charges will be filed against Beverly. She is being held in juvenile hall under a law permitting detention in cases where there is a lack of adequate parental supervision.

'SELLING ITS SOUL'

Seminary Student Blasts 'Gag' Rule

A 23-year-old student at San Francisco Theological Seminary today accused the San Anselmo Presbyterian institution of "selling its soul" to finance a building program.

Keith Williams, a Corte Maderan living at Oxtoby Hall on the seminary campus, made the charge in a letter to the Independent-Journal. Queried, he declared he was willing to stand on what he had written in the letter.

CLEARANCE REQUIRED

Williams said he and other students were deeply disturbed by a notice distributed at the seminary yesterday requiring clearance of all types of publicity through the office of seminary development. The notice bore the name of John R. Little, former advertising agency executive who was named to the new position of provost of the seminary last January.

Wrote Williams:

"I am writing this letter because I am opposed to the subtle form of 'censorship' which this notice seeks to institute at this seminary.

"The public and the press have a right to information about the affairs of San Francisco Theological Seminary. The right of the public and of the press is not one of having only an 'official' version of these affairs. Equally important, the seminary has a duty to make its affairs known to the public. . ."

TEXT OF NOTICE

The notice distributed yesterday, was addressed to the "seminary family." It said:

"In an attempt to see that the image of the seminary which is presented to the world is promoted with consistency, would you please be sure that all printed pieces and all news releases are checked through the office of seminary development prior to their release?

"That does not mean that Mr. Miller's office will be responsible for the creation and production of all such materials. It does mean that they will be responsible for checking them to see if they conform with the new administration policies."

Dr. James C. Miller, former pastor of Los Gatos Presbyterian Church, was named director of development in January.

The notice went on to say that because of the astonishing amount of work" handled by Miller's office, an extra day or two" would be necessary "to process the material in an orderly fashion."

Wrote Williams:

"There is no 'consistent image' which the seminary can present to the public without also giving the lie to the public. The church is the product of the explosive conversation which takes place in each gen-

AF DISCLAIMS 'CREDIT' FOR SONIC BOOM

A Hamilton Air Force Base spokesman said today the 28th Air Division had no knowledge of a possible sonic boom reported in Marin and San Francisco at about 8:30 a.m. today.

"None of our planes, either from Hamilton, Travis or Castle Air Force Bases were supersonic at that time," the spokesman said.

Hendrickson Gets 25-Year Prison Term

John R. Hendrickson of 27 Dellwood court, San Rafael, yesterday was sentenced to 25 years in federal prison for embezzling more than three million dollars from a Long Beach bank.

The government had charged during his trial that it was one of the largest embezzlements in the history of American banking.

Hendrickson, 40, father of seven, was arrested last May and was convicted three weeks ago.

A wealthy manufacturer, he had faced a prison term which when all counted up could have totaled 130 years, and a fine of $130,000.

He was sentenced to serve the maximum term of five years each on five counts of misapplying funds and conspiracy.

Twenty-one other counts against him were suspended by Alexander Bicks of U. S. District Court in Los Angeles. Hendrickson, who maintained he was innocent throughout the trial, thanked Bicks after sentencing.

"I've examined my conscience and I realize that I must atone for my crime," he said. He admitted perjuring himself during the trial, and apologized to the judge.

The amount of the embezzlement from the East Long Beach branch of the U. S. National

Fair Skies Expected But Drizzle Possible

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Mostly fair skies were promised through tomorrow in Northern California except for a chance of showers tonight north of Santa Rosa and Red Bluff.

Sunny weather was also in store for the San Francisco Bay Area, although some cloudiness was expected tonight with possible light drizzle.

Besieged By Officers In Barricaded House

PULASKI, Va. (UPI)—A vengeful young mill hand today blasted random shotgun barrages at police from a barricaded house where he held his wife's 10-year-old sister hostage as a climax to in-law trouble.

Jack Jennings, 18, snarled to reporters that he would "kill me a couple of cops" before coming out of his father-in-law's home where he began his stand-off yesterday afternoon. He also asked for late papers so he could see his picture.

At one point, Jennings fired to police on an arrow a message vowing he would rape his sister-in-law, Barbara Butts, if someone did not come to talk to him. At other times he begged for a chance to barter for his freedom and demanded that his 16-year-old estranged wife, Sandra, be brought to him.

FURIOUS AT BLACKOUT

He ordered three hot dogs for lunch and became furious when the electricity in the house was turned off, depriving him of radio and television news of his seige.

Earlier, police ordered the phone disconnected to stop him from talking to reporters.

Outside, grim state troopers and police armed with rifles and shotguns waited for the youth with the ducktail haircut to make his next move in the waiting game that turned this southwest Virginia City of 12,000 into an armed camp.

FIRES AT OFFICERS

Jennings blamed his wife and father-in-law, C.W. Butts for his troubles. He bragged that he was "drinking my father-in-law's coffee, smoking my father-in-law's cigarettes, shooting my father-in-law's guns and busting up my father-in-law's house."

Jennings set up the siege when he broke away from police leading him from a courtroom where he had been bound over to a grand jury on charges he stole his father-in-law's car. He headed immediately for the Butts house and, since Barbara was there alone, took her hostage.

Fire Damages Ship Skippered By Marinite

Damage would run into "thousands of dollars," said a report from Bellingham. Both ship and cargo were damaged in the blaze, which was controlled shortly after midnight by Bellingham firemen.

Officials of the Grace Line in San Francisco said the ship will be able to sail here, however, and is expected to dock in Alameda late Sunday night. It was tied up at the Puget Sound Pulp and Timber Co. dock when the fire broke out. The cargo consisted of paper and flour.

Firemen and crewmen speculated that a smouldering cigarette may have started the fire.

Taylor started with the Grace Line some 20 years ago as a mate. He has sailed mainly to Central and South American ports, but recently captained ships to Japan and Korea. He served in the Orient with the company during World War II.

He and his wife, Irene, live at 8 Los Robles drive, San Rafael.

Former Airman Faces Sonoma Arson Charge

A discharged Hamilton Air Force Base airman and a Petaluma woman property owner were charged with arson in fires that destroyed five Petaluma area houses on March 21.

David Scott Aughtman, 22, who was an airman basic in the 78th Armament and Electronics Maintenance Squadron at Hamilton and was discharged as "undesirable" on Feb. 25, was arrested at his home in Geneva, Ala., announced Sheriff John Ellis of Sonoma County.

Arrested at her Petaluma home was Mrs. May Gale, owner of the five unoccupied houses that burned last month at a loss of $16,000.

Sheriff Ellis claimed Mrs. Gale had paid Aughtman to set fire to the houses, so she could collect the insurance.

Sheriff Ellis said Aughtman reported Mrs. Gale promised him $200 to burn seven houses. Aughtman quit on the fifth house when his gasoline can exploded, according to his account to the sheriff. He said Mrs. Gale paid him $75.

Mrs. Gale denied the whole story.

Sheriff Ellis said Mrs. Gale had collected insurance on other fires in previous years.

The five homes that burned March 21 were on two sections of property, a block apart, on Marshall lane just north of Petaluma.

Hamilton officials said Aughtman was given summary court-martial and fined $25 plus confinement to base for 30 days in July, 1958, for unbecoming conduct. In February of this year, he was given his discharge as undesirable.

Cuba Rejects U.S. Plea For 2 Fliers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fidel Castro's Cuban government has rejected an American plea to return two American fliers shot down in Cuba after a sneak flight from Florida.

The State Department, disclosed this yesterday, announced also its own rejection of three Cuban protests on other matters.

At the time the two fliers were arrested, Cuba said they were trying to spirit out of the country a former agent of ex-President Fulgencio Batista, who was deposed by Castro's revolution.

U.S. authorities later said they obtained a statement from one of the American fliers, William J. Schergales, 34, that Castro's regime cooked up the flight to embarrass the United States.

Cuba's refusal to return the men heightened Washington suspicions on this score. Cuba said Schergales and Howard Rundquist, 33, identified as a native of San Rafael, are subject to Cuban court action for a crime against Cuba.

The United States had wanted to invetigate Schergales and Rundquist for possible violation of American laws in making their secret flight.

The U.S. reply said a policy was begun two years ago of closely studying all Caribbean arms requests. It said arms shipments had been denied to Batista before Castro.

Cuban Rebel Band Rumored Bottled Up

HAVANA (AP)—An insurgent band led by a former Castro officer was reported bottled up in the Sierra Maestra Mountains of eastern Cuba today, but the government refused to talk about it.

Unconfirmed reports said troops and militiamen in Oriente province were moving in on an encircled group of about 40 guerillas led by Manuel Beaton, former captain in Fidel Castro's revolutionary forces.

Maj. Calixton Garcia, commander of the mountain area, refused to discuss the reports with newsmen.

Military authorities in Havana and officials in Oriente province said they knew nothing about Beaton or his guerillas.

The semi-official newspaper Revolucion said Saturday that Beaton was heading a gang of of bandits in the area. The paper accused the band of killing a peasant, Francisco Tamayo, who had been associated with Castro during the revolution. But the Havana newspaper El Crisol later identified Tamayo as chief of a government army unit.

Another unconfirmed report said a second guerilla band is roaming the Sierra Cristal, a mountain range north of the Sierra Maestra.

Beaton recently escaped from Havana's La Cabana military fortress, where he had been held on charges of killing an army major and two soldiers several months ago. Beaton denied he was responsible for the shooting. Friends said he had been made a scapegoat.

1,200-MILE TRIP

Fast-Talking Boy Mooches Free Plane, Train Rides

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A 13-year-old boy who hitched free plane and train rides for a 1,200-mile joy ride halfway across the country says next time he'll try for a through flight to the West Coast.

Dean Sierling of Sea Cliff, N. Y., was found by police in a hotel yesterday shortly after he had arrived from Chicago on a New York Central train.

His grandmother, Mrs. Robert L. Sierling, of Sea Cliff, said: "I'll see that he gets home, but we're going to let the proper authorities escort him here."

The youngster prepared for the trip with two hearty breakfasts Sunday morning at the home of his grandparents, with whom he lives. His parents are separated.

Then, impeccable in a charcoal-gray suit and horn-rimmed glasses, he set out for New York's Idlewild Airport, carrying $25 he had saved.

He told United Airlines officials he had lost his ticket and they had "better take me because my aunt is waiting for me" at O'Hare Airport.

In Chicago, he slipped away from airline officials while they were checking a fictitious address he had given them. He took a taxi downtown and boarded a New York Central train.

"I lost my ticket," he said. "They're waiting for me in Buffalo."

He tossed a towel across a concession stand counter. On the towel he had written: "Kidnaped. Help. It's the man with the brown suit."

Then he walked out of the terminal and took a taxi to a downtown hotel. Police traced him by checking taxi drivers.

When police asked why he took the trip, Dean said: "Just say it's domestic trouble. That's really all you need to know."

"He's got to learn to curb his more than ample imagination," his grandmother said. "He thinks he's been so smart."

Charge Against Doctor Dismissed

A battery charge was dismissed yesterday against Dr. Douglas E. Ramsey of Kentfield, who was accused of hitting his wife with the open hand last Jan. 3.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court dropped the charge on the motion of Deputy Dist. Atty. Hadden Roth. The attorney announced that civil litigation is pending between Dr. Ramsey and his wife, Roberta, and all parties have agreed to drop the criminal proceedings.

Mrs. Ramsey, who lives at 43 Kent avenue, Kentfield, charged that Dr. Ramsey straight-armed her and knocked her down. Dr. Ramsey, defended by attorney Jerome Duffy, contended that his wife attacked him, and he put out his hand to ward her off.

Muir Woods Visitors

Muir Woods National Monument reported today that 5,664 visitors went through the park last weekend. Visitors included group tours from San Francisco and many hikers.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Union Chief Guilty

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Carpenters' Union president Maurice A. Hutcheson today awaited sentencing after being convicted of contempt of Congress for balking at questions about possible misuse of union funds.

Federal Judge James W. Morris, who heard the case without a jury, yesterday found the 62-year-old union chief guilty on all counts.

Press Forum Slated

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The California Newspaper Publishers Assn. announced yesterday the first annual world newspaper forum will be held in Los Angeles Oct. 13-14.

Forum chairman Bert Stolpe said 1,000 editors and publishers from throughout the world are expected to attend.

The forum is planned to provide a sounding board for international opinion on education, government, finance, communications, science and industry.

Bumper Wheat Crop

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 1960 winter wheat crop has taken giant strides in the direction followed by most of its predecessors in recent years—toward a bigger wheat surplus.

The Agriculture Department's April crop summary yesterday estimated the fall-planted crop will total 976,957,000 bushels. This is 51 million bushels above the Dec. 1 forecast, nearly 6 per cent more than the 1959 crop, and 17 per cent above average. If the estimated crop materializes, it will be the fifth largest of record.

Chou To Visit Nepal

TOKYO (AP)—Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai will visit the tiny Himalayan kingdom of Nepal for three days beginning April 26, Peiping radio reported today.

Rhee Foes Demonstrate

Italian Premier Quits

ROME (AP)—President Giovanni Gronchi today turned once again to the task of trying to lead Italy out of its gravest postwar government crisis. But no solution was in sight.

Gronchi started consulting the nation's political and party leaders after Premier Fernando Tambroni resigned last night.

Ghost Writers Nabbed

NEW YORK (AP)—An assistant grammar school principal and five other persons have been arrested on charges of selling academic papers to college students who turned them in as their own work.

Prices for the ghost-written papers went as high as $3,000 for a dissertion aimed at a doctor's degree, said Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan.

'Peter Pan' Suicide

The name given in the suicide vedict was Peter Llewellyn Davies, 63. He was the original of the famous boy in James M. Barrie's play.

The coroner ruled that he threw himself under the train wheels last Wednesday while depressed because of failing health.

Dope Drive Mapped

SACRAMENTO (AP)—An all-out attack on narcotics—with special emphasis on the Mexican border—has been mapped by the attorney general's office.

Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk met behind closed doors yesterday with nine top narcotics agents to plan how to use extra funds voted by the 1960 Legislature.

"This meeting presages an all-out coordinated drive throughout California against dope peddlers," Mosk said.

Lie Test For Bev

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Beverly Aadland underwent a lie detector test last night and re-told her story of the shooting of William Stanciu.

Members of Stanciu's family have hinted the youth may not have shot himself.

She said Stanciu, a suitor, came to her Hollywood apartment early Saturday, menaced her with a revolver in a game of Russian roulette, raped her at gunpoint and then fired a bullet into his own temple. He died Sunday.

Ike On Golf Course

There was nothing on tap for him other than another electric cart tour of the Augusta National Golf Club fairways and a checkup on White House routine with staff secretary Andrew J. Goodpaster.

Space Study Urged

GENEVA (UPI)—A western spokesman proposed today that the 10-nation disarmament conference set up a subcommittee to study means of outlawing military uses of outer space.

Italy's Gen. Luigi Danielle said agreement on this phase of arms control could be achieved "mainly through good will" without lengthy studies or costly control measures.

Solons Set Hearing

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—An Assembly committee will hold a public hearing here May 20 on Gov. Edmund G. Brown's plan to reorganize the state government.

Chairman Gordon H. Winton Jr. (D-Merced) of the Interim Committee on Goverment Organization said additional hearings will be announced.

Killing Suspect Held

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Bobby Richard Van Over, strapping carnival roustabout, was held in jail without bond today awaiting grand jury action on charges of killing former Bradley University president David B. Owen in a $4-a-day hotel room here.

Van Over, of Tampa, Fla., was accused of strangling and fatally beating Owen, who was found nude beside a bed in the hotel room. Owen, 51, was manager of the Santa Cruz Chamber of Commerce.

The Weather Picture

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Warm winds and fair skies brought a bright spring day to most of the eastern United States today.

But showers and thunderstorms were expected to dot the Pacific Northwest, in a triangle from Northern California to Washington to Central Montana, and the southern Plains states, from Nebraska through Oklahoma and Arkansas into Texas and New Mexico.

Cooler air invaded the Rockies and Southwestern plateaus while a warm front moved up the Atlantic Seaboard from the Gulf to New England.

Lake Drive-In

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A nautical "drive-in" service for boaters, fishermen and swimmers is now in service on Lake Mendota.

From his enclosed, outboard motor powered raft, Robert Eckles sells hamburgers, hot dogs, coffee and soft drinks. Rails are located on both sides of the craft so boats can pull up for service.

Weed Fighter

GORDONSVILLE, Va. (AP) — Richard Davis says he has found the solution to the weed problem in his vegetable garden. He covers the garden with plastic with a tiny hole cut for each vegetable. Putting it between rows as do commercial growers leaves too much space for weeds, Davis says. Furthermore, his method causes his vegetables to be well watered.

The Friendly Robber

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Taxi driver John Shelley's nomination for the friendliest robber on record is a passenger who drew a revolver, robbed him and then forced Shelley to accompany him on a round of taverns. They spent the money on drinks. Shelley then hailed a pair of policemen and had his host, a former convict, arrested.

Out Of The Past

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—About 300 million years ago, says the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, a vast inland sea extended from what is now Lake Erie south across Ohio to West Virginia. It deposited salt up to 300 feet thick in some places and this is now the basic ingredient for about 14,000 manufacturing and industrial processes.

Independents Enliven Today's Illinois Vote

CHICAGO (AP)—Vigorous opposition by independent candidates bucking both Democratic and Republican regulars sparked interest in today's Illinois primary.

The turnout is expected to come close to two million of the more than five million registered voters.

The star national personality is Vice President Richard M. Nixon, running unopposed in Illinois' GOP presidential preference primary. There was no Democratic popularity test. Illinois preference votes are not binding on delegates to the national party conventions.

Sparking today's primary are a three-way contest for the Democratic governor nomination, a GOP challenger against Gov. William C. Stratton's third-term bid, and a six-way race for the Republican U.S. Senate nomination to oppose Democratic incumbent Paul H. Douglas.

Otto Kerner, recent Cook County judge picked by Mayor Richard J. Daley's Democratic machine for the governor nomination, faces Stephen A. Mitchell, former Democratic national chairman, and State Treasurer Joseph D. Lohman. The independents waged a sharp anti-bossism campaign.

State Sen. Hayes Robertson of suburban Flossmoor put substantial amounts of money and stumping into his fight against Stratton.

Republicans wage a lively battle for the honor of opposing Senator Douglas in the fall. The six-way field includes Samuel W. Witwer, Chicago attorney who has Stratton's endorsement and is favored to win.

FOES GANGING UP?

Talk Heard In W. Virginia Of Stop Kennedy Movement

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Talk of a stop Kennedy movement flared in West Virginia today at the same time talk of a stop Nixon movement seemed snuffed in New York.

In West Virginia, political observers wondered whether a host of Democratic presidential candidates had thrown their support to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota in the state's May 10 primary.

Their aim: To halt the momentum of Sen. John F. Kennedy's drive toward the party's nomination. The Massachusetts senator and Humphrey are the only candidates entered in the primary.

In New York, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller opposed circulation of a letter that belittled the qualifications of Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the presidency. Some Republican supporters of Rockefeller had signed the letter.

Nixon, in San Francisco to open the baseball season, told a newsman he was not disturbed by the letter and, in fact, thought it might add spice to the campaign.

Adlai Stevenson continued to draw support for the Democratic nomination despite his repeated statements he is not a candidate.

HABEAS CORPUS PETITION

Chessman Action Filed In High Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Supreme Court considered today a habeas corpus petition for convict-author Caryl Chessman, the third filed in his behalf in the past two weeks.

Chessman's attorney, George T. Davis, filed the action yesterday contending that confinement under death sentence for 12 years is cruel and unusual punishment, and that Chessman's penalty exceeded the charges upon which he was tried.

Davis said there wasn't enough time to include his claims of Sunday that Chessman was convicted through perjury, and that Los Angeles police are suppressing evidence. He had contended that evidence shows Chessman is innocent and reveals the identity of the real culprit.

Davis said he might file an amended petition based on those claims after he has conferred with co-counsels Rosalie Asher and A. L. Wirin.

Chessman, now scheduled to die in the San Quentin Prison gas chamber May 2, was condemned at Los Angeles in 1948 for kidnaping with bodily harm, forcing two women into unnatural sex acts.

That claim was rejected March 30 by Marin Superior Court Judge Jordan Martinelli and a week ago by three judges of the state District Court of Appeals, who also rejected the claim of cruel and unusual punishment.

In the new petition, Davis said Municipal Court Judge Arthur S. Guerin set a $25,000 bond for Chessman at a preliminary hearing. The state penal code prohibits admitting bail in any charge punishable by death, Davis said, and the $25,000 figure was "further proof, persuasive if not conclusive, that the offenses charged were not capital punishment offenses."

Davis cited Gov. Edmund G. Brown's declaration of Feb. 19, when he reprieved Chessman for 60 days, that he was "strongly influenced" by a telegram from a State Department official, advising that hostile demonstrations might greet President Eisenhower in Uruguay if Chessman were executed.

The attorney contended that using a man under death sentence for "political expediency" was a manifestation of cruel and unusual punishment.

Allied Foreign Policy Chiefs Start Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Allied foreign ministers started a round of pre-summit talks today with a blunt reminder that East-West leaders can't hope to settle their bitter disputes at a single conference.

"The road to peace is a long and hard one and no one can now say when the goal will be reached," the State Department said in a book of background documents.

STRATEGY SESSION

The meetings open this afternoon with a strategy session bringing together Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

The three Allied foreign policy chiefs, meeting in an atmosphere of low-key optimism, were reported confident they could draft proposals their government chiefs will lay before Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev at next month's Paris summit meeting.

OTHERS TO COME

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano joins them tomorrow and the Italian and Canadian foreign ministers will be brought into the disarmament discussion later.

In a move to curb excessive hope, the State Department published a bulky document recalling how the 1955 summit meeting at Geneva failed to break the East-West deadlock. The 478-page book of documents also recalled the angle of proposals and counter-proposals that led to the decision to have the Big Four leaders try again in Paris May 16.

Housewife Guilty Of Drunk Driving

Mrs. Carolyn Brolan, 31, Terra Linda housewife who was involved in a two-car collision north of Black Point cutoff last month, was found guilty of drunken driving yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas sentenced Mrs. Brolan to six months probation and $100 fine. Her car crashed with another on March 15.

Edwin Wiley Fuller, 39, an Air Force officer from Colorado Springs, drew six months probation and $150 fine for his first offense. He was caught on Highway 101 last Saturday.

Hazel Patricia Armstrong, 35, of San Jose must pay $150 fine and remain on six months probation. She was caught on Francisco boulevard near San Rafael last Saturday.

Child Recovering Following Mishap

The 7-year-old San Rafael girl, who nearly choked to death after she swallowed a thermometer yesterday, was released today from San Rafael General Hospital. She was reported to be "feeling fine."

Lisa Jane Chapman of 124 Linden lane was saved by San Rafael firemen, who pulled out the thermometer and applied a resuscitator.

Lakeman of 215 Laurel place, San Rafael, took part in an amphibious landing exercise recently on Formosa's southern coast while serving aboard the destroyer Picking.

IKE ADDS SOUTH KOREA TO ITINERARY

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today added a one-day visit to South Korea to the itinerary of his June trip to Russia and Japan.

Eisenhower will reach Japan June 19 and interrupt his visit June 22 to fly to Korea. He will go back to Japan and finish out his visit there June 23.

The White House announced that the President will make the brief visit to the Republic of Korea in response to a long-standing personal invitation of President Syngman Rhee.

Medical Societies, Drug Firms Linked

WASHINGTON (AP)—A doctor charged today some big medical societies are so beholden to certain free spending drug manufacturers they won't listen to criticism of the firms' products.

Dr. William Bean of Iowa State University's Medical School staff made the allegation in written testimony filed with the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee.

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (UPI) — Principal Leon W. Wells was quite embarrassed when three fire trucks roared up to his new and-not-yet occupied elementary school. He told firemen he was inspecting the building and pulled the fire alarm thinking it would ring only in the building.

Race Struggle Triggers New Dixie Violence

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

New violence erupted in the South during the 10th week of the sit-down demonstrations.

A fight, the brandishing of a shovel and the drawing of knives marked protests against segregation in Nashville, Tenn., yesterday after nearly three weeks of calm. Two arrests were made.

The first Negro boycott of white merchants in Mississippi was reported at Jackson. Police and merchants said it fizzled. But a spokesman for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People described the attempt as 70 per cent effective.

More than 100 Negroes demonstrated at four stores in Concord, N.C., and six of them were arrested. The woman proprietor of a store was charged with assault.

The turbulent scenes occurred on a day a United Nations mediator termed peaceful demonstrations for desegrated service at lunch counters "the resurgence of the American dream."

Dr. Frank P. Graham, former U. S. senator and a former president of the University of North Carolina, made the statement while speaking to the North Carolina Conference for Social Service at Raleigh.

At Atlanta, Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., a Negro integration leader, said Negro college students from 40 communities where protests have been staged will meet in Raleigh, N. C. this weekend.

Fluoridation Meet Set For Late This Month

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today decided to sponsor a public meeting on fluoridation sometime late next month. No exact date was set.

The issue of whether the water of the Marin Municipal Water District should contain fluoride as a method of fighting tooth decay will come before the voters June 7.

The action was taken after Dr. Stephen A. Duff of San Rafael, vice chairman of the Marin Pure Water Committee, read a 1,500-word letter agreeing to supply speakers for a public debate.

The supervisors last week had promised the Children's Dental Health Committee of Marin County an open meeting, and the Pure Water Committee today also endorsed the idea.

While the Pure Water Committee, which opposes fluoridation, asked certain rules to be set up for a debate, the supervisors were not specific on this request. The board instructed County Clerk George S. Jones to contact Mrs. William Loran of Mill Valley, chairman of the children's dental health group, on whether sometime between May 23 and May 27 would be suitable. The dates were suggested by Dr. Duff.

The board, which has declared itself neutral on fluoridation, filed several letters protesting statements by Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy in opposition to fluoridation.

Supervisor Chairman Walter R. Castro said Dr. Dufficy was speaking "on his own, and not as county physician."

HIKERS

apparently somewhere near Black Point. Evans added that the first day's hike was expected to total 51 miles and that after the noon halt, they would keep going for about another 25 miles and a day of a little more than 12 walking hours.

The accompanying car was later spotted in San Rafael picking up provisions. A British form of jeep, it had a trailer with room for supplies and sleeping space. Sgt. Roy Rogers of London was in charge.

There need be no shoes purchased for the 3,200-mile hike to New York, for only one sort can be worn: Rubber-soled, with nylon socks, provided by a British sponsoring firm.

"No use asking what you think of leather?" Evans was asked.

"These have leather tops, rubber soles only," he pointed out. They looked substantial, but it was hard to get them in focus.

Tonight should see them in Cordelia, Solano County, according to schedule; Sacramento, 48 miles farther, is tomorrow's objective. They hope for Reno by Saturday night.

They intend to follow U. S. Highway 40 to Salt Lake City, then change to 30, take 6 at Omaha, go to 30 again at Joliet, Ill., and reach New York on 22. Rogers will furnish their meals in the trailer.

Averaging 47 miles a day, the walkers hope by maintaining their steady army clip to reduce the present record of just over 79 days by a week or nine days. Clearly they're not planning to chat or admire the scenery, though they knew San Rafael when they reached it.

Close behind them will be another British cross-continent walker, a woman vegetarian, Dr. Barbara Moore, 56, reached New York today and was to fly to San Francisco tonight to start a more-or-less a duplicate route tomorrow morning, though she means to detour to Washington before reaching New York. Dr. Moore, too, has selected the Golden Gate Bridge as her starting point.

The sergeants recently walked 900 miles from John O'Groats to Land's End in 18 days. Dr. Moore has just finished a 1,028-mile walk in England.

Property Owners At Strawberry Select Officers

William Young has been elected as president of the Strawberry Property Owners' Assn. to succeed Forrest Randolph.

At the association's meeting last night, Marcel Ehrer was appointed to represent the club on the Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs and the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council.

Paul Burke was appointed to the association's improvement committee. Robert Davis, Michael Rabin and Mrs. R. R. Lloyd were appointed to the landscaping committee.

The association signed a contract for landscaping of Ricardo road and Belvedere drive entrances to Strawberry, the work to start shortly, Young said. The beautification program was made possible by the efforts of the association, the Strawberry Recreation District, Richardson Bay Sanitary District and Sam Neider, developer of Harbor Point.

Mill Valley Board Eyes Budget Items

Leo Edson, assistant superintendent of Mill Valley School District, presented the board of trustees with requests for $33,808 for maintenance and $34,455 for new equipment in relation to the 1960-61 school year budget at last night's meeting of the board.

Edson said the raw data on budget requests was presented so the board would have an idea of the work which the principal feel needs accomplishment during the next school year.

He said the trustees would want to review these lists after the general shape of the budget had been established.

Drunken Driving Trial Postponed

Mrs. Doris R. deBeaubien, 39, of Corte Madera, accused of felony drunken driving, won another two weeks continuance yesterday while her attorney attempts to toss out the charges.

Her next appearance in Marin Superior Court is set for April 25.

Mariner Cove Group Elects

Other officers named recently by Chairman Raymond J. Brandt and approved by the directors are Henry L. (Bud) Cole, vice president; Donald R. Fulton, treasurer; Mrs. Lois Adami, secretary, and Mrs. Barbara Clark, recording secretary.

The association directors have voted to recommend to the membership a "yes" vote on the May 3 school bond election.

Who was the first President of the United States? John Hanson, who served under the Articles of Confederation in 1781-82.

Plea Of Guilty Entered On Lewd Film Charge

A Mill Valley antique shop operator pleaded guilty today to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a teen-age boy by letting him view some lewd films last February.

Arthur H. Beal, who runs a shop at 173 Throckmorton avenue, pleaded guilty before Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court. The judge set May 9 as the date for a probation report and sentencing.

Contractor Licenses Due Two Marin Firms

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The Contractors' State License Board announced it plans to issue contractors' licenses to two Marin firms if no protests are received by April 25.

Faulk-Kin Electric Co., 664 Cedarberry lane, Lucas Valley, will be issued an electrical contractor's license. Insul-Wall Engineering Co., 175 Edward avenue, San Rafael will be issued an insulation contractor's license.

South Africa To Bid For More Whites

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The South African government, fully alert to the magnitude of its race problem, announced today it is embarking on a large scale program to bring in white immigrants.

Interior Minister J. F. Naude told Parliament the government now considers immigration "of the utmost importance for the union."

The nationalist government has been under fire for years from the opposition for failing to promote immigration and improve the balance of three million whites against 10 million blacks.

INQUIRY URGED

A spokesman for the opposition to the government of the wounded prime minister, Hendrik F. Verwoerd, called for an inquiry into the basic causes of African discontent.

Sir de Villiers Graaff, United Party leader, said he and his followers intend to bring pressure on the government for an investigation of the reasons for Negro unrest once the present state of emergency is ended.

WARNINGS PRINTED

Newspapers were filled with government warnings that apartheid policies will be strictly maintained while Verwoerd is on the sidelines.

A noon medical bulletin said there had been a distinct improvement in Verwoerd's condition after a satisfactory night.

Lands Minister Paul Sauer, heading the government in Verwoerd's absence, asserted that authorities are determined to stamp out Negro "inciters and intimidators."

NAME BANNED

Police ordered the press to stop printing the name of David Pratt, wealthy white farmer who shot Verwoerd twice in the head Saturday.

Pratt is being held under the emergency regulations which permit the government to file charges against him at its convenience. A police spokesman said he "will appear in court at some future date."

SEMINARY

eration between God and man. As soon as we eliminate that conversation we emasculate Christianity.

"At seminary there is disagreement between students, faculty and administration. This is as it should be. Why should it be hidden from the public? For this reason: The seminary is presently engaged in a 10-million-dollar building program. It seeks to present a consistent image so that it might find it easier to get the funds and donations it needs. But by so doing the seminary helps to turn itself into another faceless image of the organization church' which is so characteristic of our society.

"The seminary would finance its building program by selling its soul. The seminary has the duty to bring to the public its conversations of both agreement and disagreement. If the seminary chooses to betray its duty to the public it will find that it also has chosen to betray the Christianity which it purports to teach."

WHAT KIND OF RABBIT LAYS PLASTIC EGGS?

ASBURY PARK, N.J. (UPI)—Plastic eggs for the annual Easter egg hunt?

Well, look at it this way, say the city fathers: The kids get smeared something awful with the real thing and not all of the 58 dozen eggs buried in the beach are found. Comes the summer . . . bathers . . . rotten eggs . . . not so good.

That tears it—plastic eggs it will be.

AF Abandons Search For Crashed Jet

Search for a T33 jet trainer plane that went down in San Pablo Bay on March 30 has been abandoned, Col. George F. Ceuleers, Hamilton Air Force Base commander, announced today.

Bodies of the two fliers who went down with the plane, Capt. Moritz K. Fromme Jr. of Raphael Village and 1st Lt. Richard K. Ratliff of San Jose, were recovered shortly after the accident.

A Navy dredge last week struck what at first was believed to be the wreckage about two and one-half miles from the end of the Hamilton jet runway. But Navy divers from Alameda Naval Air Station yesterday discovered the dredge had merely hooked a telephone cable.

SENTENCE

Bank of San Diego was $3,740,000.

Last year, when he was arrested, Hendrickson was charged with aiding and abetting George A. Hewlett in the embezzlement of a lesser sum. Hewlett was found dead in a Long Beach parking lot a few days prior to the Hendrickson arrest. Hewlett had gone to a play with his wife, excused himself, went to a parking lot and shot himself to death.

He had written a note to his wife, saying, "this is the only way," and adding, "No one else is involved in this horrible mess or has the slightest knowledge of it except Johnnie Hendrickson. We have not used any of this ourselves. It's all gone to John."

Hewlett was a rising young executive and had just been named manager of the branch bank, the former Long Beach National Bank, following its merger with the San Diego banking institution. Investigation of his death and his note led federal authorities to Hendrickson, head of furnace and heating manufacturing plants at Sebastopol and Los Angeles. And invesigation led to charges of the larger sum of money.

Hendrickson had started out as a plumber, went broke and went into other businesses.

VFW At Mill Valley Seats New Officers

Joseph King has been installed as the new commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Muir Woods Post 6741 of Mill Valley.

Kentfield Incorporation Discussion Scheduled

The Kentfield Civic League last night reopened the subject of Kentfield's incorporation and decided to hold a membership meeting — probably in September — to discuss the possibility.

"It's a burning question and something that should be looked into," said president Albert H. Gommo.

Within two weeks the league will send out 2,700 questionnaires, along with notification of dues, which include several queries on residents' feelings toward incorporation.

"Nobody at this point is able to say incorporation is a good idea or bad. It must be evaluated in relation to assessed valuations, what can be expected in financial assistance from various sources, and budget requirements," Commo said.

The subject of incorporation was considered by the league three or four years ago, but was not favored at that time.

However, Gommo noted, "times change" and residents may now want incorporation. The league is not at this point recommending it, but is recommending a re-evaluation of the "whys and wherefores," he said.

Between now and September a committee will work on plans for the general meeting.

The president noted that since the subject came up there had been a growth in the area, and a number of communities about the same size as Kentfield had incorporated, "As long as Novato led off with the idea, we can follow through," he said.

In a questionnaire submitted to residents last year, most responses said, "Let's keep Kentfield the natural community it is," Gommo said.

Maybe incorporation would help keep it that way, he speculated.

ELECTIONS

nine aspirants (including two incumbents) for three seats.

Mill Valley City Hall precinct had 85 votes by noon out of 518 registered. The Mill Valley election found six candidates for three council seats and a two-way contest for city treasurer. Mill Valley had the highest absentee ballot total—72—of any city in Marin.

Extremely heavy morning voting was reported also in Belvedere, where there are 10 names on the ballot for three council seats. Of about 1,000 registered, 244 voted by noon.

Novato, holding its second city election in three months (the first made it a city) reported 355 votes by noon out of 4,835 registered at the five polling places. Five candidates are on the Novato ballot, three of them incumbents seeking re-election and the other two aspirants who failed of election to the council in January.

Fairly heavy voting was reported in San Anselmo, where four candidates (one the incumbent mayor) are out for two council seats and there is a two-way race for treasurer. At Yolansdale School, 74 had balloted by noon; at the city hall, 68.

Fairfax firehouse had received 63 ballots by noon. Three candidates are in the field for two Fairfax council seats, none an incumbent.

Larkspur, with a bitter nine-way race for three city council seats, and all incumbents seeking re-election, plus a two-candidate contest for city clerk, was the scene of a heavy morning turnout. By noon, 477 of 2,476 voters had cast ballots. Only at the Busse Realty polling place was the vote reported light.

At the Corte Madera Town Hall, 110 had voted by noon—"about normal," according to election officials. At the only other Corte Madera polling place, in Mariner Cove, 54 ballots had been cast by mid-day. Corte Madera has a three-candidate race for two council seats.

Cities Asked For Fire Tax Suggestions

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today decided that city councils will have to bring in requests for taxing areas outside cities and fire districts for structural fire protection.

The decision, made informally, came after a discussion touched off by a letter from Ronald A. Piper, Larkspur city manager and acting secretary of the Marin County Council of Mayors.

Piper informed the supervisors of the action of the mayors' group in endorsing the concept of less taxation by city taxpayers for the county fire department.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman said that while the mayors' group is a fine group there is lack of understanding of the problem. He said the people who live in cities pay 55 per cent of county taxes and because of this pay for a good share of the support of the county fire department.

He added that the mayors' group should contact city councils to ask for formal action. "Then," he said, "we will have to look into a way that this can be done." He said that the problem is not a new one and that no one had ever offered to find a way to change it legally.

Other supervisors went along with his thinking.

Lost Purse Found; Merely A Mixup

A purse lost during a county job examination at San Rafael High School Saturday has been recovered, San Rafael police reported today.

Miss Stella Hughes of the personnel commission, who conducted the examination, said the purse, belonging to Joan Cannizzaro of Glenwood, was found in another job applicant's car. She said it appears to be just a case of a mixup.

Youth Injured In Car-Bike Collision

Richard Allen Bright, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Bright of 265 Miller avenue, Mill Valley, was hit by a taxi yesterday while riding his bicycle.

Bright was resting at home today. His mother said he was being watched by a doctor for possible head injuries.

The boy was riding his bike on the sidewalk on Miller avenue when he was hit by a cab driven by James Roger Collins at about 1:40 p.m., reported Capt. Joe Canet of Mill Valley police.

Former Marinite Dies At Age 85

Fred Hawken, 85, a former co-owner of the Fairfax Lumber Co. and long-time Marin resident, died March 28 in a Stockton hospital.

He and his wife, Mrs. Jane Hawken, formerly lived at 15 Nokomis avenue, San Anselmo. Hawken came to the county about 1924, and become co-owner of the lumber company. He sold out his interest in 1945.

Private funeral services were held in Sacramento the day following his death.

Surviving are his wife; a son, Fred; brother, Harry, and sister Louise Dyer, all of New Jersey.

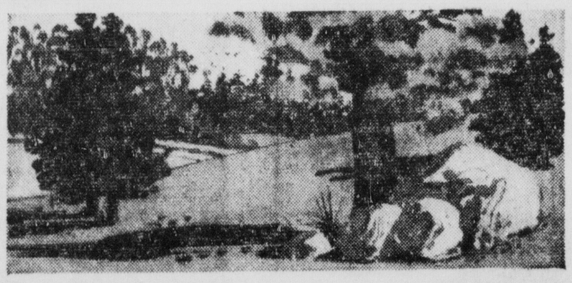
Set aside by Marin Pioneers... Secure for the Future



As a final resting place for their families, early pioneers chose a typical Marin beauty spot...a setting graced by lovely trees and shrubs, with a view of Mount Tamalpais.

Today, there is every assurance that this site will remain a haven of beauty. For Mount Tamalpais Cemetery is protected by a quarter-million dollar endowment fund, twice the legal requirement. Interest from this fund is dedicated to constant care and improvement of this 57-acre site.

We will gladly give you complete details about facilities here at Marin's pioneer cemetery. We welcome your personal visit. Or, we invite you to call or write for our brochure.

Fairfax Names Cordes Permanent Police Chief

Clifton C. Cordes was unanimously appointed permanent chief of police of Fairfax by the Fairfax City Council last night.

The appointment provides for a six-month probationary period and a starting salary of $530 a month.

Chief Cordes scored 85.7 out of a possible 100 points in a civil service examination last week. The then captain and acting chief was the only person to take the examination, although the four patrolmen serving under him were also eligible.

The city council denied James Cusumano a permit to add a third story on his apartment house at 235 Bolinas road. The council followed the recommendation of the city planning commission.

Cusumano, present at the meeting, contested the reasoning for not allowing another story. The council requested city planning commission chairman W. E. Radtke to explain for them.

Radtke told Cusumano that the apartment has more units than a lot of 7,500 square feet should contain. "Generally, the decision is based on what is considered good planning," Radtke said. He said Fairfax must "be geared toward spacious country living" and that "we don't want this city to be like San Francisco."

An angry council heard what was supposed to be a report by Building Inspector Robert Roy on a home being built on Deerpark drive by Gale Braith. The report was in the form of a narrative dialogue, apparently between the builder and the inspector. The report, reading like a TV script, discussed the construction of the building but never reached a conclusion as to whether it satisfied building codes.

"This report is obviously facetious and either we get another report or we get another inspector," said Mayor Edward A. Smith. "I don't think Roy is either a good playwright or a comedian."

Braith, councilmen said, has been building his house for seven years. "Although it may look abominable to some people, if it satisfies the building codes we have no right to stop him," said Vice Mayor Albert Fox.

City Atty. Wallace S. Myers suggested adoption of a new plumbing code requested earlier by the council. It would require that no plumbing construction be permitted except by licensed contractors. Councilmen objected that they thought it unconstitutional.

A home owner "has an American right to do his own work," said Fox. He added that he thought the intention of the council was only to amend the fees in the code. The matter was tabled.

The city attorney pointed out there was no provision in the law for extending a garbage collection contract without opening bids. This bidless extension had been done in 1950, according to Wallace, and the present garbage collection franchise is due to expire. Wallace was instructed by the council to look further into the matter and report at the May 9 meeting.

The council instructed Street Supt. Charles N. Thornton to have plans and specifications drawn for $11,000 worth of overlay work on Fairfax streets.

The council introduced an amendment to the building code adding a requirement for curbs and gutters.

It was suggested that fire and police personnel be required to take yearly physical examinations. Mayor Smith instructed the city clerk to inquire if county health department services could be obtained for the examinations.

City Clerk Alice Leonesio announced that a special meeting to swear in newly elected officers will be held next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the council chambers.

Roaming Dogs Protested

The Fairfax City Council got its "dog letter" last night.

City Clerk Alice Leonesio read a letter from Charles V. Snyder of 41 Westbrae drive.

"Some law must be made," wrote Snyder. "My neighbors loose their dogs on my property after I go to sleep . . . I need protection for my property . . . After complaining to one dog owner for the fifth time he threatened me with a gun."

Mayor Edward A. Smith said it would be impractical to try to control Fairfax dogs. "It is a countywide problem and perhaps should be handled by them," Smith said.

Snyder mentioned also in the letter that he owns two dogs.

A LITTLE GIRL'S DREAM COMES TRUE

Youths Nabbed For Pellet Gun Holdup

Two 15-year-old boys from Mill Valley, armed with a loaded pellet pistol, robbed two 9-year-old boys of a dime on a Mill Valley street at noon yesterday.

Caught and booked at county jail four hours later, the two youths told police they spent the loot to buy more ammunition for their pellet gun.

Officers Dan Terzich and William Walsh gave this account of the robbery: The younger boys, walking along Throckmorton avenue, found a dime on the sidewalk. They were flipping for the coin to see who would get it and dropped the dime on the sidewalk.

Two older boys, who had gone swimming, happened to be passing by and heard the metallic clink. They walked up to the 9-year-olds and demanded they give them the money. One of the younger boys clutched his dime and said, "Why should I?"

The 15-year-old with the pellet gun whipped out his weapon, pointed it at the youngster's head and took the dime away. The victims ran home and told their parents, who called police.

Terzich and Walsh caught the suspects on Miller avenue about 4 p.m.. They admitted taking the money. They said they had spent it right away. Officers said the only explanation they could give for the robbery was, "We needed the money."

The suspects were transferred to Marin Juvenile Hall.

New Rules Set On Interviews Of Condemned

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Backing up its ban on Death Row news conferences, the state Corrections Department has issued new rules for interviews with condemned prisoners.

They include a flat prohibition against the use of recording devices and a stipulation that movies may be made only with the inmate's consent and "for news purposes only."

Richard A. McGee, state corrections director, said the regulations are designed to give the public the information to which it is entitled "and at the same time provide for the orderly conduct of the administration of criminal justice."

AFTER PROTESTS

The department had ruled out Death Row press conferences following protests against those held by Caryl Chessman after his dramatic reprieve by Gov. Edmund G. Brown Feb. 19.

Other new rules provide:

Reporters must request interviews in writing.

Interviews will be during regular visiting hours in "an appropriate room" designated by the warden.

If numerous interview requests are made, there may be a pool interview by one reporter each from newspapers, wire services, foreign press, radio and television plus one movie photographer and one still photographer.

DECISIONS FINAL

No condemned man shall be interviewed on the day of or day preceding his execution.

Decisions by the warden of San Quentin or the California Institution for Women will be final, McGee said.

The director earlier told a legislative committee he was hoaxed into permitting the filming of "Justice and Caryl Chessman," a 43-minute film featuring the condemned convict-author.

Bridges Held Vital To Gate Authority Plan

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco Port Commissioners want private as well as public ports, and particularly all bridges—included in the proposed Golden Gate Authority.

"Everybody must get in or it won't work," Port Authority Chairman Cyril Magnin said yesterday. He spoke at a hearing held by the Golden Gate Authority Commission, studying the feasibility of an all-embracing agency for bridges, harbors and airports in the area.

Only public facilities have been discussed in previous considerations of the authority.

Magnin said private ports could remain private but work within the authority framework.

Henry Budde, vice chairman of the San Francisco Authority, as well as Magnin, emphasized that inclusion of all bridges is essential because they provide major revenue.

Budde also insisted that the up-river docks at Stockton and Sacramento be required members.

County Historical Society To Hear 'Bolinas Story'

"The Bolinas Story" with its Spanish grandees, shipwrecks, stagecoach robbery, and mining era will be unfolded at a meeting of Marin County Historical Society Thursday at the E Street School, San Rafael, at 8 p.m. Several authorities on the early days of the picturesque beach resort will take part in a panel discussion to be conducted by Florence Donnelly.

Speakers will be Thomas Barfield, San Francisco attorney who is a part-time resident of Bolinas and has made a study of Mexican land grants; Mrs. Lewis G. Pepper, the former Marin Waterhouse, whose father owned a large section of land at Bolinas, where she was born; Mrs. Guy Milner, who will tell of the Monarch butterflies which come to Bolinas to winter as regularly as the swallows return to Capistrano in the spring, and Roy Graves, who will talk on transportation from Bolinas by schooner and stage coach.

The meeting is open to the public.

Grand Jurors Urge Juvenile Hall Haste

Marin County Juvenile Hall in Lucas Valley is so overcrowded that the proposed construction of a new hall should proceed post-haste, the Marin County Grand Jury declared today in an interim report.

"At the present time juvenile hall contains 20 inadequate, outmoded sleeping units, and is housing approximately 40 juveniles and at times more, necessitating doubling up in single rooms," the grand jurors pointed out. "A report of projected needs on juvenile hall facilities made in November, 1957, indicated the necessity for 40 beds by the time the population of Marin County reached 122,000, and the need for 60 beds by the time the population reached 148,000. The current census will probably show that we have already exceeded this latter figure."

The Marin County Board of Supervisors has authorized the construction of a new juvenile hall in three separate phases. Twenty sleeping units and other necessary additions will be built with each phase.

Under present plans, phrase one is to start soon, phase two to start in 1962 with possible completion in December of 1962, phase three will probably not be completed until December of 1964, and the final phase will probably not be completed until 1966.

Since the county's population has already reached the point where 60 beds are needed now, the grand jurors urge construction of phase two at the earliest possible date, either concurrently with phase one or immediately following so that it may be a continuous process. The grand jury also urges that kitchen facilities be incorporated in an earlier phase rather than postponed to phase three if at all possible.

"In order to avoid the situation of continued chronic overcapacity of juvenile hall," the report concludes, "we recommend that there be uninterrupted construction of all phases until final completion."

The report is signed by Foreman Oliver J. Olson Jr. and secretary George W. Thierbach.

Novato Trustees To Meet Tonight

A review of applications for vacant teaching positions in the Novato Unified School District will be held tonight at 8 o'clock by trustees in the district office at 1015 Seventh street.

Supt. William J. J. Smith said about 25 vacancies from kindergarten through high school must be filled for the next school year.

Ralph Giovanniello, district curriculum coordinator, will report on the kindergarten program. A report will also be given on the summer school enrollment. Principals for the summer program will be appointed.

Drug Addict Suspected In Burglary

A thief believed to be a drug addict pried open a rear door of the Corte Madera Pharmacy at 18 Tamalpais drive, Corte Madera, and stole about $75 worth of narcotics and $10.75 in change, Chief Frank Nelson reported today.

The theft occurred late Sunday or early yesterday, the chief said. It had "all the earmarks of the work of a drug addict," he reported.

The thief used a jimmy bar to enter the store, then opened a cabinet in the rear and took a number of drugs, including such potent ones as morphine, cocaine, codeine phosphate and opium powder, the chief said.

The wholesale value of the drugs is about $75, owner Bernard Kaplan of 48 Elm avenue, Larkspur, reported. Kaplan discovered the break-in when he opened the store yesterday.

The cash—all in half dollars and quarters—was taken from the open drawer of the cash register. No other items were taken from the store.

Edna Maguire 9 Beats Twin Cities School

Edna Maguire School of Mill Valley yesterday defeated Larkspur-Corte Madera School 8-3 in a baseball game at Mill Valley.

John Hammond, with three hits, and Chuck Locati with two, led the Mill Valley 11-hit attack. Pat Smith was the winning pitcher, allowing four hits and striking out 10.

NICE OF HIM TO DRIVE ALL THE WAY BACK

FARMINGTON, Utah (AP)—It was late at night, and Paul Thompson's wife and two children were asleep in a camper in back when he stopped his pickup truck here to ask directions.

Before he climbed back into the truck, the Norwalk man shone his flashlight into the camper—just to make sure no one had gotten out during the pause. His wife thought he was signaling her.

Sleepily, she climbed down to see what he wanted—just in time to watch the truck pull away without her.

June Primary Attracts Big Field In State

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A big field of 385 candidates will battle for congressional and legislative nominations this June in California's first primary election since the repeal of crossfiling.

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced today that 211 Democrats, 172 Republicans and two Prohibitionists have filed for the 130 seats. Filing closed April 1.

SEATS AT STAKE

At stake are the state's 30 seats in the House of Representatives, all 80 Assembly seats and 20, or half, the Senate posts.

The contest takes on added political importance because the 1961 Legislature will reapportion Assembly and Congressional seats.

It will be the first primary since the 1959 Legislature abolished crossfiling. Under the crossfiling system, a candidate could be elected in June by filing for and winning both party nominations. It can still be done, but only by victory in one's own party plus sufficient write-in votes to capture the other party's nomination.

97 FOR CONGRESS

There are 97 candidates for the 30 congressional seats, 60 for the state Senate and 228 for the Assembly.

Eight lucky candidates will get a free ride in the June 7 primary, unopposed on their own or rival party tickets.

DEMOS HOLD EDGE

The Democrats now hold a 45-32 edge in the Assembly with three vacancies, and have a 28-12 margin in the Senate. The state's congressional delegation is 16-14 Democratic.

Candidates will have until Monday to file for the nomination for the Kern County Assembly seat left vacant last week by the death of Assemblyman Dorothy M. Donahoe (D-Bakersfield).

Boat Facilities To Be Discussed

The boating facilities committee of the Marin County Development Foundation Inc. will hold a meeting to discuss boating usage of the San Rafael Canal Thursday at 2 p.m. in Room 304, Independent-Journal Building, San Rafael.

Carroll A. Snyker, executive vice-president, said the two main items on the agenda were: word from Washington that money will not be coming out of the 1960-61 budget for canal dredging; and the recent canal survey made by the District Engineers indicating almost standard depths for boating and the reports of problems reported due to shallow depths.

He's Ladies' Man

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jack Liberator is the ladies' man. More than 1,000 women elected him president of District Twelve of the Ohio State Nurses' Assn.

U.S. Unemployment Rises During March

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment jumped 275,000 in March, the biggest increase for a March since World War II. Employment declined to 253,000.

The Labor Department, reported these figures today, blamed the darkened job picture almost entirely on heavy snows and generally bad weather in March. It predicted a sharp rebound in April.

Employment dropped from 64,520,000 in February to 64,267,000 in March. Normally, employment increases during March by about 450,000.

Unemployment rose from 3,931,000 to 4,206,000. Normally, the idle total declines by about 180,000 in March as compared with February.

The figures meant that 94.6 per cent of all Americans seeking work had jobs in March, but that 5.4 per cent of job seekers couldn't find employment.

Seymour Wolfbein, Labor Department manpower chief, said an indication of the March weather's impact on the job situation was a one-million increase in the number of people usually working full time who worked only part time during the mid-March survey week. The total of such workers rose to 2,200,000 in March Wolfbein added that he saw nothing in the figures warranting fear of an economic decline. He noted, however, that there have been some job layoffs in the auto industry.

One factor contributing to the employment decline was a drop of about 650,000 in farm employment to a March total of 4,565,000—the lowest farm job total for any month in many decades, possibly since before the turn of the century.

Citizen Committee For Water Bonds To Be Discussed

An informal meeting will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at offices of the North Marin County Water District in Novato to discuss organization of a citizen committee for support of the water bond program to be placed before the voters in June.

"During the past year," said Jerome B. Gilbert, general manager and chief engineer of the district, "the district has been engineering a water supply and system improvement program to meet the needs of the expanding North Marin area.

"Negotiations for purchase of water from the Sonoma County Flood Control and Water Conservation District are being concluded this month and plans are being considered to place a water bond program before the voters at the election of June 7.

"In order to inform the voters and to have a successful election, the support of a citizen group is essential."

He said that tonight's meeting will discuss organization of a committee and plans necessary to initiate a favorable election. All interested in working for the water program are asked to turn out.

School Bid Opening Set For Tuesday

The Sausalito School District board will open bids for a new school in Marin City at the meeting at 8 p.m. next Tuesday in the district office.

The date for the board meeting was changed from Monday to Tuesday, Supt. Marcus F. Davis said, to enable architects to have an added day to submit their bids.

At last night's meeting, the trustees:

1. Reviewed the 1960-61 school budget and put it over for discussion until next week.

2. Postponed action on a raise in teacher salaries until April 19 to see what the budget will stand.

3. Discussed the possibility of adopting a new policy of supervision of the playground and cafeteria by non-certificated employees instead of teachers.

4. Agreed to send four people to a one-week cafeteria supervisor summer school program at San Jose State College, June 20-25. The four are Mrs. Delores Quadros, Mrs. Alice Evans and Mrs. Margaret Shimmin, cafeteria supervisors, and Mrs. Mary Laviolette, secretary at the district office.

5. Agreed to match a $200 fund given by Loren Jay on behalf of the Richardson Bay Parent-Teachers Assn. for purchase of library books for the school.

6. Approved warrants of $8,109 for the general fund, $289 for child care center and $1,119 for special reserve fund.

Jail Term Given To Check Forger

Mrs. Dorothy J. Boothe, 28, Novato clerical worker, must serve one year in county jail for forging a series of checks.

She was sentenced yesterday by Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court. The judge put her on five years' probation on condition she serve a year at the San Francisco County Jail and make restitution for the bad checks. If she violates probation, she has a state prison term hanging over her head.

Mrs. Boothe was arrested last February on a complaint by her employer, who said she had forged his name to cash checks. Mrs. Boothe admitted passing $835 worth of bad checks.

Cuban Plane Crew Asks U.S. Asylum

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Cubana Airlines flight crew brought their airplane to Miami on a regular run today, then asked for political asylum.

The three crew members, joined by one passenger, said the Cuban government is infiltrated by communism and they want no part of it.

The plane landed safely, but two of its engines burned out after it reached the ground.

The crew was greeted by Eduardo Whitehouse, Cuba's civil aviation chief under the ousted Batista dictatorship. He said he had a hunch that the defectors were en route.

The crew members added that another reason for their disenchantment with the government of Premier Fidel Castro is that they were forced into the Cuban Air Force although employed at the same time by Cubana.

San Anselmo Teachers Turn Down Pay Plan

Instead, a Ross Valley Teachers Assn. report recommended to the district board an overall teacher pay hike of 6 per cent.

The merit pay plan had been suggested by a San Anselmo administration committee. It would have retained a set pay scale, but given bonuses to "outstanding" teachers.

In rejecting the plan, a "tentative" statement by the teachers association stated members "agree in principle with the recognition for exceptional service, but reject merit pay for such service."

The statement went on to say that scholarships, extended study in the U.S. and foreign countries and leaves to observe outstanding educational systems should take the place of merit pay for "outstanding" teachers.

The rejection of the merit pay plan also will go to the Fairfax and Kentfield boards, who undertook the study with San Anselmo.

The school board heard a recommendation from the teachers association that the pay scale be increased 6 per cent on all levels. The scale now ranges from $4,600 to $8,000.

Also recommended were a 3 per cent increase for those with masters' degrees, 5 per cent for those with doctors degrees, no matter what step on the scale.

The report stated that cost of living in the county, from December, 1958, to December, 1959, had risen 3 per cent.

In other business, the board:

1. Heard a report from psychologist William Berzman on tests given sixth grades in English, arithmetic and reading. Tests showed work was needed to strengthen student knowledge of some areas of arithmetic, said Berzman.

2. Approved appointment of Donald Kirkpatrick, seventh grade teacher at Sleepy Hollow, as principal of the summer school session, June 22-July 22.

3. Set June 13 as the day for opening of bids on sandblasting and painting the remodeled part of Isabel Cook School.

4. Accepted resignations of Mrs. Angela DeGear, Wade Thomas School; Mrs. Barbara Grant, Mrs. Frances Rouda and Mrs. Catherine Momceau, Sleepy Hollow School; Jan Jaegling and Mrs. Charlene Travaglini, Brookside; Mrs. Janis Williams and Jacqueline Ingersen, Isabel Cook.

5. Agreed to schedule an adjourned meeting April 20 for budget study. Next regular meeting is May 9.

Transit Directors To Hear Report

Directors of the five-county Bay Area Rapid Transit District will hold a regular meeting Thursday at 2 p.m. in the district's assembly room, 985 Flood Building, San Francisco.

Included on the agenda, according to General Manager John M. Peirce, will be a progress report on engineering studies.

The second April meeting of the board will be held at 10 a.m. on April 28.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

It Won't Be Long Until State Legislature Meets Annually

Last week the special session of the 1960 state legislature finally adjourned, a week after the regular budget session had concluded.

California's peculiar legislative setup, which calls for a regular session on odd numbered years and a 30-day budget session in even numbered years, had once again run its course.

Using his prerogative, Gov. Edmund G. Brown called two special legislative sessions this year to run simultaneously with the budget session. In the second, he incluuded just one item, capital punishment. This was quickly disposed of by the solons and the second special session adjourned.

The first special, however, was a different matter. The governor put nearly two score items on the agenda. There were such major things as the automobile anti-smog bill, the master plan for higher education, and the Squaw Valley million dollars emergency fund.

He also included such innocuous matters as permitting governmental agencies to use each other's grape juice tests and permitting the State Bar to increase its annual membership fees.

He did not include such requested items as a new attack on narcotics violators, revision of the state water program, or reorganization of state government.

There is more than a little sentiment in Sacramento that the state has grown too big for such arbitrary determination of what the legislators may or may not consider when they are in session. Many feel, too, that the rush of an election year and a special session doesn't leave enough time for careful consideration of issues.

For example, as the bill requiring smog eliminators in cars was being passed, one assemblyman said to another, "I wonder how many people in this room realize we are voting on a proposition more expensive than the state water plan?"

He was basing his estimate on approximately eight million cars in California. Each one now must install a smog eliminator which might cost $200. There is no guarantee the price won't be that high, because the Assembly refused to put on a $100 limit.

If it were that high, the cost of those alone would be one billion, 600 million dollars plus other millions from new cars which will be purchased in the immediate future. The whole state water plan is to cost only one billion 750 million.

There is another angle, too. The state's legislators are this November asking the voters for a 50 per cent salary increase, from $500 to $750 per month. If they get the raise, some people are saying, they should work every year, not just every other year in regular session.

In any event, it shouldn't be long before a growing California will force its lawmakers to meet each year in order to get the state's business done in an orderly and sensible manner.

What Lincoln Said About Labor

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As a subscriber to your paper, from time to time I have noticed editorials and cartoons attacking Labor. Will you please be fair enough to print the following:

"If any man tells you he loves America yet hates Labor, he is a liar. If any man tells you he trusts America yet fears Labor, he is a fool. There is no America without Labor."

Abraham Lincoln said those words at Springfield,. Ill., on Oct. 1, 1854.

Private Medical Plans Can't Work

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

My compliments to Dr. Paul O'Rourke and William Dempster for their thoughtful letters on medical care for the elderly. They join Basil C. MacLean, M.D., recently retired president of national Blue Cross who recently stated: "experience has led me at last to conclude that the costs of care for the aged cannot be met, unaided, by the mechanisms of insurance or prepayment as they exist today."

I do not myself criticize voluntary plans or commercial carriers for their failure to provide adequate comprehensive coverage for citizens over 60 or 65. They simply cannot do this, individually, and stay in business: they will lose out to other carriers whose premiums can be lower because they do not cover elderly risks.

Just a glance at two facts reported recently by Health Information Foundation show what they're up against: Persons 65 and over average 7.6 annual out-of-hospital visits with doctors; this is 40% higher than the average of 5.3 for the entire population including the elderly. Again the National Health Survey reports the admission rate to short-stay hospitals are about 20% higher for persons 65 or over than for the total population. You cannot provide comprehensive coverage for such a high-cost group and keep your premiums down for the lower age brackets.

But I do criticize commercial carriers and voluntary plans and organized medicine when they try to block the only possible approach to a solution of this increasingly serious social problem. Of course, virtually every advance in this general field over the past two generations has been opposed by the medico-politicians: including the American Hospital Association and Blue Cross; so we should not be too surprised.

AMA deserves unstinted praise for its work in protection against nostrums and quackery, for its sponsorship of "refresher" conferences and institutes for doctors — and unstinted condemnation for its blind opposition to progress in providing comprehensive medical care for people of all ages and walks of life.

Recently I reviewed a dozen or more commercial plans for a medium-size employee group seeking a reasonably broad coverage health plan. Very few would provide continuation of coverage past age 65 even if the coverage was purchased while gainfully employed at an earlier age. Those that did provide coverage hedged it with reduced benefits or increased rates or both.

The much-touted "65 Plus" commercial plans offer a good public relations argument with no real substance: preexisting conditions are not covered, coverage is far from comprehensive and premiums are much too high for income which frequently reduces sharply with retirement. And if you set up a system for "screening" out those who are able to pay, you raise the administrative costs substantially.

There is no practical alternative but for we who are younger to pay now for the medical and health security of those older—confident that we will be similarly covered in our turn.

Audit Shows Tiburon Sanitary Directors Doing Pretty Good Job

(NOTE: A recent Reporter's Notebook dealing with the 3-R School appeared under the picture and by-line of Deedee Abramson. This was an error. The article was actually written by Bryce Anderson.)

With all of the interest in the Tiburon Sanitary District No. 5 recently, its annual audit comes in for a bit more scrutiny than usual.

The district's current tax rate of 60 cents per $100 assessed evaluation is the maximum rate allowed. According to district secretary Robert A. Sterling, "the actual costs of operation, as shown by audit, were less than 45 cents per $100 assessed evaluation. The remaining 15 cents go into the reserve savings fund."

He notes that the sum of $5,607 in connection fees received from new construction during the 1958-1959 year also was deposited in a reserve fund, available only for capital construction.

THE EVER-VIGILANT board of directors figures that further economies along the lines of actual costs of treatment are generally achieved through larger volume treatment plants. Since the present plant is now operating at near-capacity, the board is considering all possibilities of enlarging treatment facilities to achieve more economical operation.

Overhead (fixed costs) represent about 28 per cent of the budget, a sum far exceeded in most districts.

In 1923 the district tax rate was 15 cents per hundred, and in 1924 the district ended the fiscal year with a balance of 21 cents.

THE TREATMENT plant, located on Tiburon boulevard, represents an investment of moer than $160,000 at 1949 prices. A recent engineering estimate gave a value of more than $230,000 as a replacement cost.

From a perusal of the audit reports, it becomes apparent that the directors are doing all they can to plan for the increased population on the Tiburon peninsula without the present residents being prohibitively taxed for the future service.

MANY A LENGTHY discussion of a controversial subject by trustees of the Reed Union School District has been heightened by the somewhat dramatic antics of trustee Mrs. Ahleen Tresnon.

Mrs. Tresnon, who argues long and well for what she believes, is prone to show her pique by scribbling notes to herself on small pieces of paper and then crumbling them.

During a recent discussion of the school bond issue, when the board was divided 2 to 2 with a deciding vote cast only after hours of heated debate, trustees found themselves glaring with animosity at one another when it was all over.

There was a tense silence, broken only by the scraping of a match which Mrs. Tresnon lit. With all eyes upon her, she dramatically held up the piece of paper on which she had written her arguments for the plan which was voted down . . . and silently burned it in the ashtray.

As the flame flared up the tension broke and the animosity went out with the curled ashes. All of which proves even school board meetings have their dramatic moments!

HIGH PRICE FOR GENEROSITY

Trying to be a gentleman cost a gentleman $50 in Milwaukee not long ago.

When a woman autoist became ill, the 63-year-old man volunteered to drive her home in her car. But his noble gesture was short-lived. He hadn't gone two blocks before police, checking on motorists, found that he was without a driver's license.

When he appeared in court, the judge imposed a $50 fine.

Don't be surprised if difficulties, misunderstandings, and even downright ingratitude test your sincerity when you are working for the best interests of others. The Lord Himself paid this price for befriending the poor, the ill and the outcast.

In fact, it will be a real proof of your love for God if you persevere in seeking the well-being of others, especially those in need.

You will know in your own heart that you have done your part regardless of how others treat you. Better still, God sees that you have triumphed over discouragement and He will reward you for it.

"If the world hates you, know that it has hated Me before you."—(John 15:18)

Thanks to You, O generous Father, for the countless blessings You shower on all of us.

Don't Count The Navy Out As America's First Line Of Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy—apostle of the moving duck theory as against the sitting duck—would like to be this country's first line of defense. It may never be, but it's making progress.

Since World War II, the sea-going arm of national defense has been overshadowed by the development of the fast, long-range bomber and the intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM).

Then the Navy began development of an atomic-powered submarine capable of firing the Polaris missile—with a nuclear warhead, 1,200 miles. In time it hopes to have 45 such subs. It has only two afloat now. None will be in operation till fall.

LAST WEEK President Eisenhower approved stepping up the production rate. In three years the Navy may have 21 of these submarines which can stay out of sight of an enemy, slip close to a continent, and start firing.

Each Polaris sub can fire 16 missiles.

An enemy would know the launching sites of this country's ICBMs and its shorter range missiles abroad because they'd be on fixed platforms, immovable. They'd then be sitting ducks for enemy missiles turned loose in a surprise attack.

BUT THE POLARIS submarines are like moving ducks whose locations would be unknown to an enemy and—in case an enemy began a missile attack on this country—could fire their own 1,200-mile range missiles against any enemy target.

And they'd be out of sight while they did it.

Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, has argued that if a nuclear war started—since all the destruction would be on land on both continents—the Navy, not a stationary target, would be the only defense line left.

Burke doesn't sell the aircraft carrier short, either, and naturally, since he's an admiral. No matter what anyone else thinks of the future role of carriers, the Navy brass is high on them.

But there's a difference between the use of a carrier and the use of a Polaris submarine. The former would be at its best in a limited war, such as around Formosa. The Polaris-submarine missile would be mainly for all-out nuclear war.

BURKE HAS SPOKEN out a number of times on the two subjects:

"As long as you need manned aircraft for any type of warcraft, you'll need carriers. And you'll need manned aircraft as long as you need search and attack missions where you've got to look for your target before you strike it."

He has described the use of the Polaris sub this way:

It "is good for only one thing—to destroy cities. It's the best city destroyer in the world. It will destroy any city you want — any place, any time. That's all it's good for, though.

"It's no good for destroying a village. It's a good weapon for mass destruction. Carriers on the other hand can do mass destruction if they want to, but that is not their primary job."

The Navy also puts up this argument: A Polaris sub costs about 100 million dollars. Forty-five of them would cost 4½ billion dollars. But they would last for about 20 years.

Psychiatrist Could Go Psycho Listening To These Tired Quips

"What do you guys really think about while patients are telling you their troubles?"

"How come you charge my wife $30 an hour to listen to her — and I've been listening to her 25 years for nothing?"

"Enough of my worries, doc. Now you lie down on the couch and tell me what's on your mind."

"No, he's not a real doctor. He's one of those head shrinkers."

"Now don't you try to tell me I secretly hated my mother. Why, when she died, I bought her the biggest headstone in the cemetery."

"Ever since I got that letter from the International Revenue Service, I've had the feeling I'm being followed. Is that a delusion of persecution, or a delusion of grandeur?"

"Night after night I have this weird dream of flying through the air with my neighbor's wife. I can't understand it. She's the homeliest dame in the block."

"Before I lie down, I'd like to ask you one thing. Do you accept credit cards."

"My problem is that lately my wife seems to be getting better looking. Do you think it's my eyes that are going—or could it be my mind?"

"It's about my husband. He mumbles in his sleep. No, I don't want to cure him. I just want you to find a way to make him speak more clearly."

"You're my last hope, doc. Just answer me one question. Can psychiatry help baldness?"

"You psychiatrists must have your own troubles, too. Who do you tell them to?"

"We have a mother-in-law problem in our home. Whose story do you want to listen to first—hers, my wife's or mine?"

"IT'S ABOUT my drinking. After my eighth martini, my mind begins to wander. Do you think I should switch to vodka?"

"Can a neurosis cause fat? The reason I ask is — ever since my wife started acting neurotic I've been putting on weight."

"NOW DON'T tell me what I need is a new hobby. My husband has a new hobby, and that's why I'm here. His hobby is his secretary."

"The way I diagnose it myself is that I've got an inferiority complex. Lately I been getting the feeling I'm dumber than my boss."

Some Day You May Be Glad Census Counted You

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — You may be glad some day that the census taker counted you 'way back in April 1960.

People who can't locate a birth certificate often find that the Census Bureau can furnish an acceptable substitute—a copy of the information listed about them in census files.

Nearly one billion names, together with identifying data, are filed in an agency warehouse at Pittsburg, Kan. The billion names include many duplications, of course, since a census is taken every 10 years.

You can find out what the files say about you by paying $3-$4 if you want the information in a hurry. Before sending any money, you should get an application form by writing to the bureau's Personal Census Service Branch, at Pittsburg.

Use of the census files spurted in the late 30s with the advent of the Social Security program. Many people had to supply proof of age in order to get coverage. About 200,000 people a year now use the agency's special service and 3½ million have done so since 1936.

Proof of age is not the only help the bureau can supply. Some people have to establish their relationship to someone else in order to claim their share of an estate. Such questions often can be settled through census records.

If you were counted in 1880, 1900 or 1920, finding your file should be a simple matter. WPA workers during the depression filed all the reports for those years in alphabetical order.

For other years, records are filed according to the communities in which people were counted. When you send in an application, you must give your address at the time of the census involved and the names of the people you lived with.

You can only apply for information about yourself. However, you can have your report sent to someone else. Even then, you will be notified if the record shows something that might embarrass you. Some people, for instance are counted in jail.

Phil Rizzuto, star Yankee shortstop now turned video announcer, nominates Leroy (Satchel) Paige as the greatest pitcher he ever saw. Once old Satch permitted Phil to advance as far as third base with nobody away, then called to him, "Stop jumping up and down on that base, boy. You ain't goin' nowhere!" He then proceeded to fan the side on 10 pitches.

After the game, Rizzuto asked Paige, "How come you needed 10 pitches?" Satch answered in all seriousness, "It was a lousy call. The Old Man never throws a bad ball at a time like that."

Probe Pledged After Complaints About Pool

The district attorney's office promised an investigation this afternoon of a deep pool in a San Rafael residential neighborhood which residents decry as a peril to their children.

The pool water is used to irrigate property surrounding the Colonial Motel, motel owner Charles Owens said. "There's nothing unlawful about it," he added.

The pool is just off Vineyard drive, almost opposite the home of Edward N. Rimola. The Rimolas and others in the neighborhoood have demanded some measure be taken to provide protection around the pool, or that it be filled in.

Owens said the pool has been there 25 to 30 years. He had it fenced about six to eight years ago, he said, and "the day after, the kids had cut the barbed wire."

Owens said it has been necessary to keep mending wire around the pool. "I'm going to fill it in," he said, but declined to say when.

Water in the pool was measured last year at about 10 feet deep.

Strands of barbed wire, widely spaced, now surround the hole, which is roughly 50 by 50 feet, with steeply sloping sides.

Privacy Of Homes Is Lynwood Topic

A solution to the problem of privacy for residents of Lynwood Park whose homes face the Leafwood Terrace apartments, under construction on Leafwood drive, will be sought at a meeting of the Lynwood Park Improvement Assn. at the Lynwood School at 8 o'clock tonight.

Association president Arthur W. Owen said occupants of the new apartments will look into the windows of Lynwood residents on Sunset parkway.

A mutual tree-planting project may be considered, Owen said.

Multiple zoning for the apartment sites was approved some time ago by the Marin County Board of Supervisors over the objection of the county planning commission, Owen said.

Cat Fanciers Here Elect

Elected as directors were Dr. Mary R. Jaros of Greenbrae, Mrs. Arne Kionig of Kentfield, R. D. Layman of Corte Madera, Robert Ebert of Sunnyvale and Frank Bucquoy of Concord.

It was announced the group's annual cat show will again be held in the Corte Madera Recreation Center. It is scheduled for Oct. 29-30.

After the meeting, Mel L. Morse, humane society director, showed the group new cat cages recently installed in the society's shelter. The cages were donated by the Marin fanciers.

Richardson Bay School Clerk Resigns Post

The Sausalito School District Board last night accepted the resignation of Mrs. Myna Lindberg, clerk at Richardson Bay School, to become effective July 1.

Mrs. Lindberg, who lives at 6 Tamal Vista, Corte Madera, has been with the district 15 years, according to Supt. Marcus F. Davis, and has reached the retirement age.

PLANNERS' DECISION

Corte Madera Says 'No' To Trampolines

The town's planning commission, after a public hearing last night, unanimously turned down luggage manufacturer H. M. Koch's proposal for a trampoline center on Tamalpais drive adjacent to the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

Commission chairman John Adlard said the trampoline center does not qualify as a conditional use under the town zoning ordinance. "It didn't fit into our idea of a shopping center," he reported.

Some of the commissioners also felt the center might become a health hazard or create a traffic problem.

Under Koch's plan, 20 trampolines would have been installed on the site for public jumping at a nominal fee. (The City of Novato has approved a similar trampoline layout for the Nave Shopping Center there.)

The commission unanimously approved a proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance that would automatically designate any land being annexed to the town as "R1A"—low density single residential zoning—for an interim period until the property could be zoned in conformity with the general plan.

In other matters, the commission:

1. Set a special meeting to consider a tentative map of the Russell Jones subdivision for April 27.
2. Approved architectural design and landscaping for a six-unit apartment house on Redwood avenue near Pixley avenue, to be built by Allison E. Schofield of Muir Beach.
3. Set for May 19 a hearing on a proposed amendment to an ordinance that would give Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wilkinson of Marina Village the right to rebuild on their lot at 2 Harbor drive at any time in the future they might wish to do so. Town acquisition of a seven-foot wide strip at the side of the lot, in connection with reconstruction of Paradise drive, reduces the lot to substandard size.
4. Announced it would elect officers at the May meeting.

Solon Warns Broadcasters To Cooperate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.) today advised the broadcasting industry and the Federal Communications Commission to cooperate with Congress in writing laws to outlaw quiz show rigging and payola.

Harris is chairman of a House subcommittee considering proposals for strict new curbs on television and radio.

"It seems that some elements in the industry are inclined to consider some of these questions in a rather jocular vein," he said.

Harris, in a statement opening an expected two days of hearings on various new broadcasting industry controls, also renewed criticism of the FCC.

He made an obvious reference to congressional charges that the FCC failed to perform its duties in cracking down on rigged TV quiz shows.

"The problem of legislating in these areas is not made any easier when there is some doubt whether the Congress can count on responsible cooperation on the part of the regulatory agencies whose job it is to administer broad delegations of power in the light of the rule of reason," Harris said.

Man Jailed After Crash

William Harold Cheek, 30, of 705 Monticello road, Terra Linda, suffered a bruised knee and got a drunken driving citation in a head-on two-car collision on Lincoln avenue in San Rafael yesterday.

Driver of the other car was Renee Maxine Myers of Santa Rosa, who told police she was headed north on Lincoln avenue about 4:50 p.m. when she saw a car heading in her direction on her side of the street. She tried to pull to the right but could not do so because of cars parked along the curb.

Cheek told police he did not know how his car got on the left side of the street. He was treated at Marin General Hospital for a bruised knee and booked in county jail. His wife bailed him out at 7:30 p.m.

FRIDAY MAY BE MOVING DAY IN MARIN CITY

A final inspection of the new low-rent housing project units will be made by the Marin County Housing Authority at 8 a.m. Friday and, after the signed acceptance of the units, tenants will be allowed to begin moving in.

Bert Klahn, executive director, said he thought the inspection and signing of the acceptance would be over by 9 a.m. and tenants might move in immediately.

Warning On Marin City Rents Issued

Bert Klahn, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority, issued a strong warning today to delinquent tenants that, unless they make prompt payment and clean up their records, they will not be admitted to the new low-rent project when it opens, presumably on Friday.

Klahn said this decision was made by the commissioners of the authority at their meeting yesterday.

"This means that the housing authority will no longer tolerate tenants with weak payment records and such tenants will be eliminated from the project by eviction," he declared.

The housing authority also approved a request for $1,000 from the Marin City Community Services District for summer recreation.

Firm Plans Apartments Instead Of Factory

Colonial Wax Products Corp. of San Rafael will not put up a candle factory at Fairfax street and Bellam boulevard in the East San Rafael Assessment District.

Instead, the corporation is asking for a permit for an apartment building where the candle factory was formerly planned. The request is to come before the San Rafael Planning Commission at its meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the city hall.

The planners have an agenda of 20 items for tonight. They include a request to renew an expired use permit for a mortuary at Lincoln and Prospect avenues, request for a bakery manufacturing and sales office across the highway from Terra Linda, and several rezonings, variances and small subdivisions.

George B. Miller, co-partner with Martin Kuehl in a San Francisco mortuary, wants to renew a permit for a mortuary on the northwest corner of Lincoln and Prospect avenues. Miller got a use permit in 1957, which has expired. "We just want to keep the permit active," Miller explained. He said he has no immediate plans to put in a mortuary because he wants to wait until the highway widening at Puerto Suello Hill has been cleared up.

"Eventually, we hope to build a beautiful mortuary," Miller said. "But that will be some time yet." Plans call for a 10,000 square foot structure with 70 parking spaces.

D. R. Cullen wants to locate a bakery manufacturing and sales office in an existing building at 4180 Redwood highway, across the highway from Terra Linda. It is located at Joseph court and the highway frontage road.

Third public hearing is set for the proposed apartment zoning of an area bounded by Belvedere and Canal streets and Bellam boulevard.

A public hearing will be held on a chapel proposed by San Rafael Military Academy at Fifth and Cottage avenues.

D. M. Christensen Construction Co. wants to put in a 20-unit apartment at Canal and Napa streets.

Ernest J. Giomi of 16 East Crescent drive wants permission to use the apartment residence for music instruction.

Ellen Dunbar seeks a four-lot subdivision on Gold Hill Grade.

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced that Marin Medical Foundation of Marin County has filed articles with his office to form a non-profit corporation.

The foundation listed its directors as Rafael G. Dufficy, Jr., 4 G street, Leonard A. Thomas, 2417 Fifth avenue, Desmond MacTavish, 11 Treehaven drive, San Rafael.

Giants Open Chase For N.L. Pennant

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants took the wraps off their new ball park today as well as what is tabbed as a pennant-bound team when they opened the National League season against the St. Louis Cardinals.

Manager Bill Rigney of the Giants, pronouncing his club "in great shape," was scheduled to send Sam Jones out to the mound to face the Cards' Larry Jackson. Both are right handers. Jones, 21-15 last year and the league's best earned run average man with a 2.82 mark, turned back St. Louis four times last year without a loss. Jackson had a 2-3 record against the Giants in 1959.

A sellout crowd of 43,000 was expected to jam the streets leading to Candlestick Park, the new home of the Giants.

Both Rigney and Card manager Solly Hemus said they were pleased with the park after their teams went through wind-whipped workouts yesterday.

"This will be a better place for us to play than Seals Stadium," Hemus said, referring to the former Giants' park which has been razed. "We won't have that problem of the jet stream to left field which helped such batters as Ed Bressoud and Jim Davenport. They both hurt us with home runs in that old park."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon headed the list of dignitaries showing up for opening day. Others included Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, National League President Warren Giles, American League President Joe Cronin who is a hometown boy, Mrs. John McGraw and Ty Cobb.

Today's inaugural launched a clutch year for the Giants and Rigney. They set the pace in the National League for six weeks last season, then folded while losing seven of their last eight games. Since then, Rigney has been signed to a contract which calls only for one year while the team has shored up its pitching and defense.

The main acquisitions have been pitchers Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes from Baltimore, who should help spell the starting unit of Jones, Johnny Antonelli and Mike McCormick.

Marin Team Wins Marathon Race

Other Marin team members were Bill Ranney of San Rafael, Bob Hope of Mill Valley, Henry Stroughter of San Francisco, and William Mazzini of Cloverdale.

Test Set For Count Device

BOZEMAN, Mont. (UPI)—Promoters of the Gene Fullmer-Joey Giardello middleweight championship bout have announced a new electric knockdown timekeeper would be used in the fight, the first time such a device has been used for a title contest.

The device is the invention of Charles Reed of 26 Somerset lane, Mill Valley.

The timer counts off 10 seconds when a knockdown is registered, then automatically takes a picture of the ring, showing the position of the fighters to determine if there was a knockout.

Co-promoter Norman Rothschild said the knockdown timekeeper was being used in order to avoid controversy such as occurred last Friday in the Bartolo Soni-Lamar Clark heavyweight bout in Ogden, Utah.

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Giant Pitching Worries Connolly; Fears Antonelli May Be Slipping

CONNOLLY

With or without a bottle, I cannot raise a faint glow of anticipation for a 1960 pennant for our S.F. Giants, unless I can tolerate the so called "strong pitching staff" that in a three-game stretch saw the team score 27 runs and lose all three games.

Whether you agree or not, you'll have to admit the ball club has power and defensive strength if it only can get pitching to match.

So far I've restrained myself from saying too much about the staffmen. Some of them are reaching the peak and others are on the way down.

I'd say Johnny Antonelli, the wise-cracking lefthander is off color in his work to date. He may be slipping.

Sam Jones, the ace of last year's mound crew, hasn't had any control and, while he is expected to be at his peak this season, could very well be headed for trouble. Ol' Sam, crowding 35 years of age, pitched in and out of turn in 1959 and might do it again with the season getting under way today.

But so far he hasn't proved it. I hope he will before long.

MIKE McCORMICK, in spots, is hot and cold. He could be coasting and I think he, more than either Antonelli or Billy O'Dell, might be the hottest flinger with the Rigneymen.

Jack Sanford, for some reason or other, just lacks the oomph of an ace performer. He throws hard, works hard and seems anxious, but just too jittery, to give any bench manager peace of mind. The only time I like Sanford is when he gets the last man out and the game is over. He hits me that way.

O'Dell, off his spring exhibitions, could be one of the best southpaws in the league. He has the know-how and the tools. All he needs is his share of luck and some runs in the early part of the game. I'd say that O'Dell, with a few runs spotted him, will be exceptionally hard to whip.

BILLY LOES may or may not make it. If he doesn't, he gave everybody the answer by saying his arm hurts every time he combs his hair.

Loes is on the safe side no matter what happens. He admits he's pitching all the time with pains in his arm and shoulder. So if he wins, he can credit his teammates; if he loses, his arm is to blame.

Stu Miller could see a lot of spring "starting" work. He'd like nothing better. Later in the season when the sun beams down on him the heat could get him a relief job only. I'd like to see Stu given a starting call. I'm sure he'll deliver.

The rest of the Giant pitching staff, will see limited service unless the starters hit the toboggan.

SO IF our Giants are to do what the experts think they can do — win the pennant — the pitching will have to be a lot greater and sharper and steadier than it has been to date.

Which makes the story of the 1960 Giants a bit cockeyed from the dope sheet.

My only worry as the boys tee off today is that the pitching so gloriously strong in numbers, isn't short in durability. Without a stout-hearted staff the Giants can make all the runs in the book and still find them short-enders at the finish.

The ghost of 27 runs in three games and still three defeats, just doesn't sit right with this old codger.

Boxer Near Death

Dodgers Open Defense Of World Title Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hopeful but not overconfident, the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers begin the defense of their National League championship against the Chicago Cubs in Memorial Coliseum tonight.

Some 50,000 fans are expected to be on hand when league President Warren Giles throws out the first ball just before 8 p.m. Clear but cool weather was predicted.

The attitude of the Dodgers was expressed, somewhat humorously, by Manager Walt Alston when he said:

"This club is not overconfident. In fact, there were a few days this spring when I wondered if we were the world champions."

The crack was made last night as the Dodgers, as well as the Cubs, were guests at the third annual party given for the local club by the Baseball Writers Assn. before some 1,200 fans in the Beverly Hilton Hotel ballroom.

Walter O'Malley the Dodger president, declared: "We are going to try to win another pennant back-to-back."

The individual hero of the evening was plucky Don Zimmer, the veteran Dodger third baseman who was traded to the Cubs last week. Charlie Grimm, the Cub manager, introduced Zimmer midway in the presentation of his players. At the instant Zimmer's name was mentioned the entire Dodger team seated on the dias arose as one cheered and clapped their hands. Zimmer, emotionally overcome, had to wipe tears from his eyes, but declined an invitation to go up and say a few words.

The Los Angeles writers honored Cubs shortstop Ernie Banks with a special award for meritorious service and contribution to baseball. Banks accepted and remarked that he was just as nervous "as I will be facing Don Drysdale in the opening game."

Royals Get Big O; Knickerbockers Draft Cal's Imhoff

NEW YORK (AP)—The big question among the National Basketball Assn. brass today was:

Will Oscar Robertson cast his lot with the league or will he go along with the Harlem Globetrotters?

They won't have their answer until after the Olympics this summer, because the towering University of Cincinnati All-America is a member of the U. S. team that will compete in Rome.

Robertson, who piled up a record-breaking 2,973 points during his collegiate career, was selected by the Cincinnati Royals at the annual NBA draft session yesterday.

All-Americas Jerry West of West Virginia and Darrall Imhoff of California, were drafted by the Minneapolis Lakers and New York Knickerbockers, respectively.

Lions Trade Off Fullback Johnson

MARIN KEGLER BARELY MISSES PERFECT GAME

He cranked off 10 strikes, but left one pin standing on his next frame and had to settle for a 289. Although he missed his perfecto, Christian had the satisfaction of breaking Greenbrae's high single game of 280, held by Zeno Gelatti.

Christian's great effort came in a pot game after his Marin Bowl team defeated Diablo Bowling Supplies for the 830 League championship. The total pinnage was 2,699 to 2,677 for the three games. Mike Weddell's 612 and Christian's 594 paced the winners; Austin Crane's 568 was high for the losers.

Sal Sent To Tacoma

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants sent outfielders Sal Taormina, a veteran, and Mattie Alou, a rookie, to their Tacoma farm club in the Pacific Coast League today. The Giants also announced that veteran infielder Danny O'Connell is joining the Tacoma club. O'Connell had been given a release earlier by San Francisco to try to get on with another major league club.

Closing Of Hamilton Field Flats Brings Heavy Storm Of Protest

The closure of Hamilton Field flats to fishing by 78th Fighter Wing at Hamilton Air Base has caused an overwhelming protest campaign against the proposal.

The Marin Rod and Gun Club and sportsmen of the Bay Area have protested the contemplated action by bombarding the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers at 180 New Montgomery street, San Francisco, with letters, petitions and personal calls.

All protests must be sent to the above office before Thursday after which time a public hearing will be held.

The proposed danger area would extend 2½ miles beyond the shoreline in the shape of a wedge. North and souht boundaries of the perimeter would be the Hamilton Field pipeline and the Petaluma River channel where it enters the bay.

The danger zone purportedly is a protective measure for the base firing range. It was built 23 years ago and now suddenly is "dangerous." The abutment behind the target pits rises 10 feet.

By raising the height of the abutments the problem in question could be easily remedied.

Marin Rod and Gun Club representatives will meet with the Hamilton Field officials this week, when they will try to determine ways and means of keeping the area open to fishing.

However, if a settlement is not agreed upon, the officials of the Marin Rod and Gun Club will explore every avenue, along with every sportsmen's group, the Department of Fish and Game, and Federal representatives from Northern California.

Club's Monthly Meeting To Be Held On Friday

Do you fish Papermill Creek? Have you gone home empty-handed more times than you care to remember? Would you like to see a program put into effect which would definitely result in heavier runs of silver salmon in that area? If the answer to these questions is yes, then you owe it to yourself to attend the April 15 meeting of the Marin Rod and Gun Club.

A highly interesting and informative talk on this subject will be given by Warden Al Giddings of Marin County who has made an intensive study of declining fishery in the Papermill Creek area, and has recently submitted to the Department of Fish and Game a report of a 10-year patrol survey of the fishery.

Warden Giddings is of the firm opinion that one of the principal solutions to this serious problem is the annual planting of yearling silver salmon in the live streams which would enable the fish to go to sea shortly after planting. He will explain in detail how a project of this nature would afford a progressively greater take each year, and how the club could avail itself of the opportunity to participate in such a worthy conservation program.

This matter is of vital interest to all anglers in the county. And to you, as members of a sportsmen's organization dedicated to conservation, it is of even greater concern. So be sure to attend the meeting and hear this important message from Warden Giddings.

Club Group Takes Conservation Tour

A committee of 12 officials and members of the Marin Rod and Gun Club toured northern Marin last Sunday checking every conservation problem, boat launching ramps, streams, reservoirs and every item appertaining to better conservation of our natural resources.

The group was headed by Rob Roy, who for years has been a staunch advocate of improving our streams, lakes and protecting lands from erosion.

First stop was at the proposed boat ramp at Black Point which received the approval of all present.

The caravan viewed Sausal Creek and recommended it should be check-dammed (it runs into Salmon Creek). Small dams should be constructed to stop erosion.

Many reservoirs have been built by land owners to catch run-off water in order to supply stock needs.

Headwaters of San Antonio Creek has been blocked so that normal flow never reaches the mouth of the stream on Petaluma River. We saw the great divide—where on one side of the mountain water flows to Sonoma on the northeast and emptys into San Pablo bay, while on the west side the water drains to the Pacific Ocean.

Stemple Creek area afforded good hunting years ago. Plenty of water this year in the lake at headwaters of Stemple Creek. We stopped at nearly every bridge, checked water flow and land elevation.

Good flow on the north fork of Walker Creek, which drains into Tomales Bay.

In another section, the Americano Creek was the division between Sonoma and Marin counties in the water flow.

We visited Tomales, Valleyford, Dillons Beach, Marshall and Nicasio.

At a later date the Point Reyes Peninsula and other sections will be visited by this committee.

Pt. Reyes Park Film Showing Scheduled

A pictorial presentation of the proposed Pt. Reyes Park project will be presented to the membership of the Marin Rod and Gun Club at their monthly meeting, Friday, April 15, 1960 at the clubhouse at Point San Quentin.

The old story of one picture being worth a thousand words will be graphically illustrated by the picture story of this proposed new recreational facility. It has become a contraversial subject in the area and the presenttation at the meeting should prove enlightening on many of the points in question.

Mr. Robert Luntey, of the National Parks Service, is scheduled to be on hand to answer questions and give other valuable information. For or against, come to the meeting and enjoy yourself.

President Peter Bertoni urges every member to attend this meeting—come and bring your friends.

Initiation of new candidates will be held. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Army Schedules Cleanup Of Bay

The biggest clean-up job in the area is scheduled to take place on the weekend of April 23 and 24 when the Army Engineers conduct a big sweep of San Francisco and San Pablo Bays.

The floating debris that is causing considerable damage to pleasure craft, endangering water skiers, and making life miserable for fishermen will be gathered by volunteers and taken to barges anchored at strategic locations to be disposed of. One such barge will be located in the vicinity of the Marin Rod and Gun Club's pier to receive flotsom and jetsom; many of the members will be afloat helping rid the bay of the menace. You can help too; contact secretary Paul Ware of the Marin Rod and Gun Club or the Army Engineers.

Boatmen from every club in the Bay Area will help in this worthwhile project. A real crackdown by the authorities is due against careless people who are responsible for littering up the bay waters.

Park Hearing To Be Held On Thursday

A meeting pertaining to the Point Reyes recreational area as outlined by the United States Park Service will be held on April 14, at the College of Marin, starting at 10 a.m.

The hearing will be public and is being held by the Senate committee on Interior and Insular Affairs at which time all pro and con arguments will be presented.

The congressional committee will tour the proposed area by land and air in order to better understand the proposal.

Many conservationists favor the acquisition of the area now. If delayed it will be too late and with the growing population of over 3½ million in this area at present with an anticipated growth of nearly 6 million in the foreseeable future, something must be accomplished now.

Dr. Gail Adams, conservation chairman of the Marin Rod and Gun Club and other members will be present at the hearing. Our organization is in favor of establishing the recreational area along the shoreline from Bolinas to Point Reyes.

Abalone Season Open Till Jan. 14

Abalone fishing season opened March 16 and will close on January 14, 1961.

Low tides will exist in April, however in May exceptionally low tides will give abalone fishermen every opportunity to have a successful catch.

Remember—it is necessary to own a state fishing license to legally take these mollusks. Fishing time one half hour before sunrise to one half hour after sunset. Limit is 5 abalone and the Red variety must measure 7 inches across the shell.

Auxiliary Plans Rummage Sale For May 6-7

The auxiliary has set the dates of May 6 and 7 for its annual rummage sale, the proceeds of which go toward conservation projects. The location of the sale has not yet been definitely confirmed, but will be published later. Meanwhile, any members having items for the sale may bring them to the meeting at the club house on April 26, or contact Mrs. Carolyn Lato in Mill Valley at DUnlap 8-5957; Mrs. Elsie Ware in San Rafael at GLenwood 3-6769, or Mrs. Regina Murray in San Anselmo-Fairfax area at GLenwood 4-2827.

Entertainment chairman, Mrs. Lane Harrington, has arranged for an accordion recital following the meeting on April 26. The performers are pupils of Mrs. Margaret Maciel, an auxiliary member.

Helen Schacht was elected a director at the last meeting of the board of directors, to fill the unexpired term of Mildred Smith, and will be installed during the business meeting.

Mrs. Robert Sturges, fishing chairman, is planning a day at the pier on Monday, April 25, and the group will meet at the pier at 10:30 that morning. We are hoping the big ones will be down from the delta country by then.

Marin Rod & Gun Club Barbecue, July 24

The annual chicken barbecue of the Marin Rod and Gun Club will be held on Sunday, July 24. The affair will again be held at the new picnic and barbecue grounds adjacent to the clubhouse at Point San Quentin.

Last year 1200 attended the fine days outing. Plans are being made to serve as many as our facilities will accommodate.

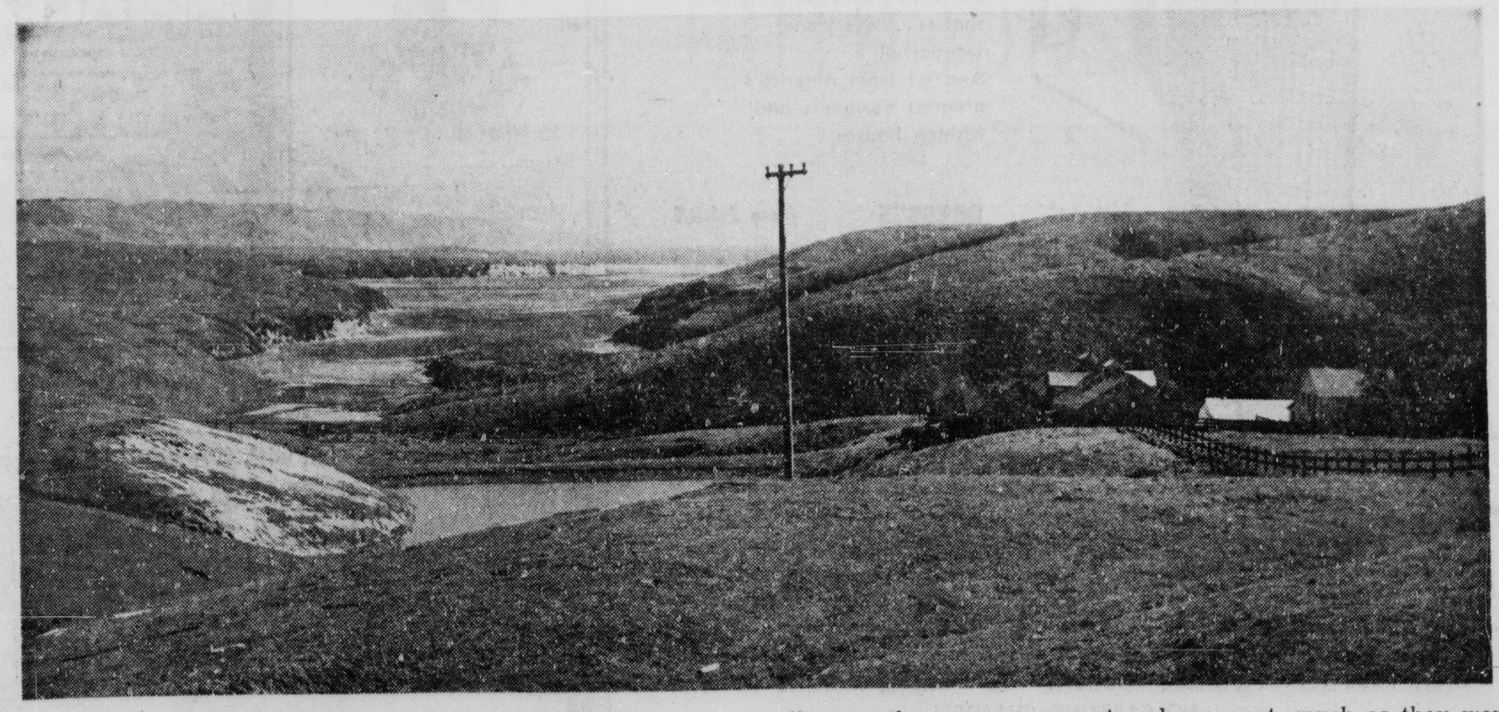
BEAUTIFUL PT. REYES: SUBJECT OF HEARING

From Inverness Ridge, outlined with stately evergreens, one can see the Pacific Ocean on the Pt. Reyes Peninsula. There is contrast and color in the big area proposed for a national seashore area. There will be a U.S. Senate hearing on the proposal Thursday at College of Marin in Kentfield.

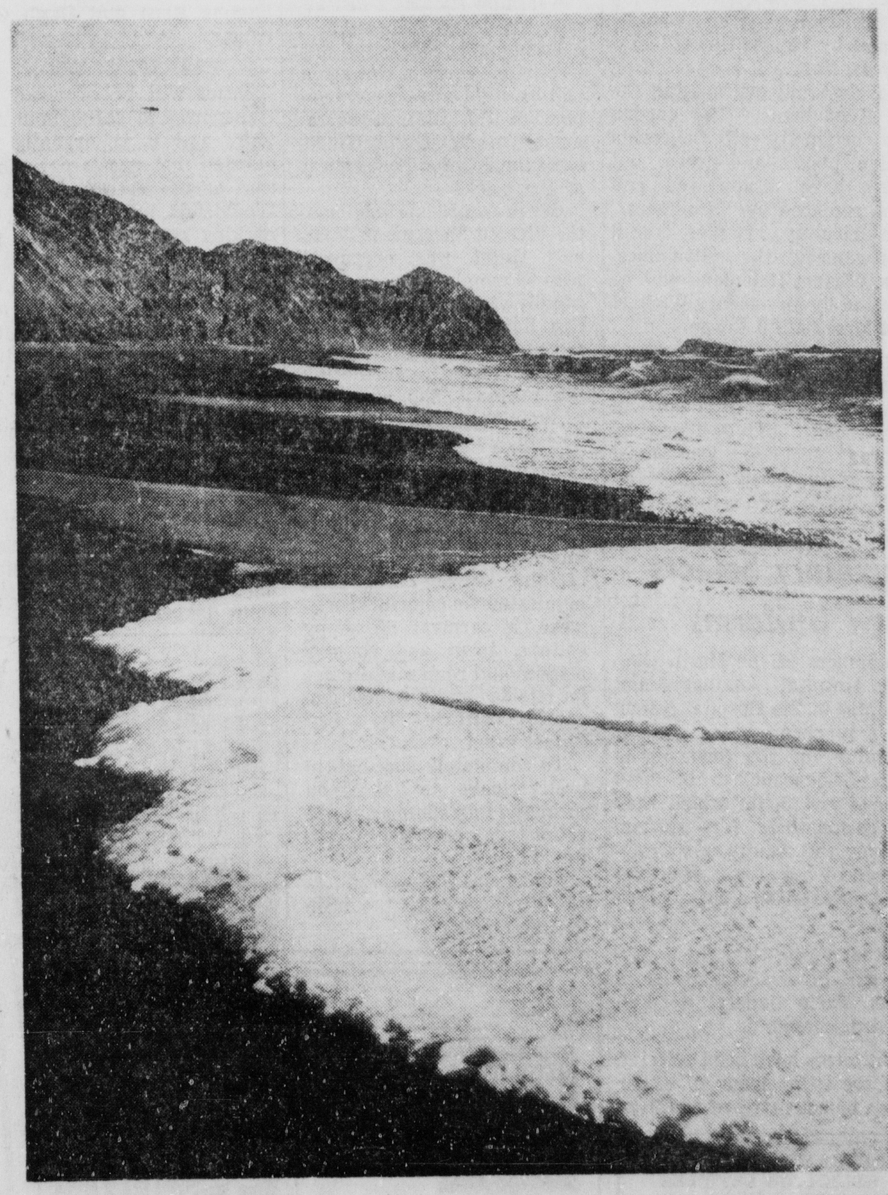
DRIFTWOOD AND SAND—A family and their dog walk along the beach near the Bolema Club, making tracks in the sand and looking over the sea-battered driftwood. Beaches are only part of the beauty of the Pt. Reyes Peninsula.

THE BEAUTIFUL LAND—This is a lake on the Tevis ranch near Double Point, and around it are fine examples of the varied flora of the Pt. Reyes Peninsula. This is a study in the contrast of the rugged beauty of the land near the peaceful sea.

THE DUNES, THE SEA—Cattle graze on a sunny heath north of the Radio Corp. of America area on the Pt. Reyes Peninsula. Dunes fall away to the sea in some areas and in others sharp cliffs fall off to warm beaches. The coastline is rugged, beautiful and varied.



DRAKE'S BAY—Drake's Bay lies in the distance while a finger of sea reaches inland to near this ranchhouse. These grazing lands lie near the ocean, sunswept and seaswept, much as they were when Sir Francis Drake landed near here in the 16th Century.



SEA FOAM AND BEACH — High sharp cliffs drop to soft beaches on the Pt. Reyes Peninsula and the sea foams ashore. This is almost a primitive area, much the same as it has been from the days of the Indians. (Independent-Journal photos by Dick Steinheimer)

Five Homes Will Be Featured On SH Kent Woodlands House Tour

The beautiful trees and hills of Kent Woodlands will be the setting for the first event of the 1960 season of Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary when they present the Kent Woodlands House Tour on Wednesday, April 20, from 1 to 5 p.m.

Five distinctive homes will be shown with a champagne fashion show to be presented at the home of the John Willcutts, which was once a part of the Kent Estate. It has a most interesting history beginning with its use as the overflow house for the many guests who frequently visited the Kents. The present garage was originally the laundry room for the estate. During later years when the Grape Festival was held on the Kent estate, the living room of the Willcutt home was used for the "shadow shows." Assisting Maudee Willcutt will be Mrs. Thomas Jones and Mrs. Vernon Norris.

Also a part of the Kent estate is the Lorry Di Grazia home, originally built by Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kent in 1933. It was the only home being built in Marin County during this difficult year and was designed by Henry Howard now of New York. It is situated on a lovely knoll overlooking the old Kent home. The garden was originally all California native plants and trees, but many have disappeared and been replaced by "foreigners." The driveway, however, is still landscaped in the native flora. Mrs. Miriam Delaplane will be assisted by Mrs. Henry Wickert and Mrs. Phillip Crane.

The Edward Hinshaw home was built in 1952 and is a lovely contemporary modern done in adobe brick and designed by George Rockrise. The focal point of this lovely home is the cathedral beamed ceiling in the living room. Antiques and oriental art treasures have been combined to give a wonderful warmth. Of particular interest will be Mrs. Hinshaw's collection of hand carved miniature birds and oriental porcelains. Hostesses for the Hinshaw home will be Mesdames Robert Mills, Spencer Smiley Jr., George Stempel and E. W. Peterson.

NEWEST HOME

The newest home on the tour is that of the A. L. McCormicks just completed this past November. It is contemporary Georgian in design set in a lovely garden designed by Herman Hein & Associates. Mrs. McCormick has a fabulous collection of china animals and jewel boxes which she began when she was a child. Mrs. J. Kenneth Peters will be assisted by Mesdames Joseph Wilson, William Cassidy Jr., and Samuel Crowell.

A modern traditional home built for the personalities of its owners is the charming residence of the Howard Hammonds. Of particular interest will be Dr. Hammonds' silversmith workshop, built as an integral part of the main floor. Many of Dr. Hammonds' lovely hand-forged silver pieces will be displayed. Hostesses assisting Mrs. Hammond will be Mesdames August C. Belden III, Paul S. Smith, Newton Longfellow, James J. Levensaler, and James Pressley.

Mrs. Lawrence Mayer will assist her sister, Mrs. Mozart Kaufman at the latter's home designed by John Lord King high in the hills of Kent Woodlands. It is four years old, the Kaufmans having lived there two years. Mrs. Kaufman has a pewter collection and some fine paintings, most of which were picked up in Europe. Also hostessing will be Mesdames Peter Phelps, Philip Brown, Eugene Kern and Hugh Carruthers.

TRANSPORTATION

Buses will be provided for transportation throughout the tour, and it is urgently requested that guests park their cars at the entrance to Kent Woodlands or in one of the parking areas just outside the entrance. The College of Marin has offered the use of the old Tam Center parking area, and immediately adjoining this the Marine Reserve 14th Rifle Company's parking area will also be made available for parking. It will be impossible for the buses to get to some of the homes if any cars are allowed on the tour.

Anyone interested in attending the House Tour may obtain tickets from any Auxiliary member or by contacting Mrs. John Rakow of Ross.

SPRING FEVER TO INVADE FOCUS SHOW

That delightful seasonal disease "Spring Fever" invades Rickey's Fashion Focus luncheon on Tuesday to be spread infectiously with the fashion flair of a distinctive San Rafael style shop.

Fashionable carriers of this irresistible form of contagion will be eight attractive members of the Blessed Sacrament Women's Guild, honored as the Fashion Focus guest of the week.

Seven short springs ago, the Blessed Sacrament Women's Guild was organized with 90 members to serve the rapidly growing area north of San Rafael. Now there are more than 300 guild members dedicated to furthering the religious and civic life of their community, with the new Blessed Sacrament School as their special responsibility.

No innoculation yet discovered can keep Tuesday's Fashion Focus audience from catching "Spring Fever" communicated via colorful sportswear, a carnival of happy cottons, town and country classics and romantic dresses for late-day and conversation-causing coiffures by a San Rafael salon.

To completely succumb to pretty looks to take you springing into summer, reservations may be made by calling Rickey's.

Auxiliary Selects New Uniforms

Members of the Marin General Hospital Auxiliary met recently in the Hospital Annex for a luncheon and a general planning for the forthcoming Ballet Aquacade, to be held June 4 and 5, for which they are co-sponsors. New stationery for the Auxiliary was approved by the group, according to Mrs. Harrison Leppo, president.

Other projects for the newly-formed, fund-raising group to assist Marin General Hospital were discussed.

Uniforms have been selected and are to be made of either green or aqua-striped material.

Rod Duncan Claims Bride In Berkeley

At the All Souls Church in Berkeley, Dorothea Lucinda Jones became the bride of Roderic Duncan Saturday afternoon. The bride's gown of white peau de soie was appliqued in a lilies of the valley design. Her satin cap trimmed with pearls held her short veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of Eucharist lilies.

Mrs. Raymond Boyd of Montrose, Colo. was her sister's matron of honor and Nancy Robinson was maid of honor. They wore bone colored chiffon sheaths with pleated cummerbunds and floating back panels.

James Driscoll, who was with the bridegroom in the Ford Interne Program in Sacramento, was best man and in the ushering contingent were James Davis, a former UC classmate, Bert Millard, a Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity brother, and Chris Green, a classmate of Roderic at Boalt Hall School of Law at UC.

After a honeymoon in Southern California the young couple will reside in Berkeley until Roderic completes his last year of Law school.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Bennett Jones of Denver and she was graduated from the University of Colorado, where she was a Phi Beta Kappa, Delta Gamma, and member of Mortar Board.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Duncan of Belvedere are parents of the bridegroom. He is a graduate of Tamalpais High School, College of Marin and UC. He worked on several newspapers and was a sports writer for the Independent-Journal.

Guild Plans Beat Party On April 30

Excitement is running high for members of the Sleepy Hollow Guild of Sunny Hills who are preparing for their annual dinner dance, this year Beatnik style, to be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, April 30, at the Sleepy Hollow Center. It is titled "Party Pad."

Co-chairmen Mesdames William Worth and Alfred Porter have planned the cocktail hour to include music by the Dave Spears Quartet with dancing later by an orchestra. Word has it that a prominent businessman will perch on top a ladder and read poetry "real beat" to carry out the party pad idea. Abstract paintings will provide the unusual approach to decorating according to Mrs. Alfred Nanizzi who is being assisted by Mesdames Robert Grant, Ernest Winkler, H. W. Laster, and Charlotte Hardeman. Any and all mediums have been employed by the self-styled artists, all members of the Guild, who will show and sell their art that night.

Round-The-World

Mrs. John Klinicki, 614 Manzanita avenue, Corte Madera, will leave April 16 from San Francisco International airport to begin a three-month round-the-world tour.

Stops include Honolulu, Japan, Athens and western European cities.

Marin Delta Zetas To Elect Officers

Officers for the coming year will be elected at the Delta Zeta Marin County alumnae chapter meeting, Thursday, April 21, at 7:30 p.m., in the Lucas Valley home of Mrs. William Brook.

The slate of officers will be presented by the chairman of the nominating committee, Mrs. James Smith of Terra Linda. Mrs. Earl Koehler of Lucas Valley is co-hostess of the meeting.

A report on the sorority's recent successful luncheon and bridge afternoon to benefit the Hearing Society of Marin will be given by the event chairman, Mrs. Robert Tanem of San Rafael. Over 100 local women attended the annual affair in March at Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

A discussion of the coming year's activities of the Hearing Society will be led by Miss Slavka Cibilich of Corte Madera, alumnae philanthropies committee chairman and newly-elected president of the society. She will outline the local group's participation in the May Society observance of National Hearing Month and project the Society's financial aims for the coming year.

President Mrs. Smith will review the Northern California State Day celebration held last week in Palo Alto and read the local alumnae report which she gave at the all-day workshop session and luncheon. The workshops were attended by Mrs. Smith, Mrs. William L. Blair of Fairfax, province director of the five Northern California college chapters, and Mrs. Thomas J. Mellon of Kent Woodlands, who was honored last month as Delta Zeta's first recipient of the Civic Achievement Award given by the Marin County alumnae chapter annually.

Alumnae will start preliminary planning on their semi-annual "get-together" for husbands and members which will be held in June this year. Traditionally, an outdoor barbecue supper and evening of entertainment is planned to introduce new members to the alumnae group.

Child Health Meet

The Larkspur-Corte Madera Child Health Conference will be held tomorrow from 9 to 11 a.m. at the Redwoods Presbyterian Church, Magnolia and Alexander avenues, Larkspur. Dr. Marilyn Hicks, attending physician, will be assisted by Mrs. Helen Engh, public health nurse, and volunteers from Larkspur and Corte Madera P-TAs. Appointments may be made by phoning Mrs. Richard Glassman, Larkspur.

Auxiliary Holds Bonnets Parade

Carpenters Ladies Auxiliary No. 495 held a gala Easter hat parade at its recent meeting at Carpenters Hall, San Rafael. All members present wore original creations ranging from the humorous to frilly varieties.

Judges Mesdames Willard Scovill and E. C. Beckius selected the following winners: Prettiest, Mrs. Marie Stone; funniest, Mrs. Henry Zackow; cutest, Mrs. Jesse R. Cornwell; homemade, Thelma Fitzmorris. There was a tie for the most original so the judges awarded two prizes to Mrs. Eva Jackson and Mrs. George Haskin.

An original skit written by Mrs. Beckius entitled "Gertie and Jimmy Hunt Easter Eggs" was presented with narration by Betty Beckius and the parts of Gertie and Jimmy being taken by Mrs. Clarence Haskin and Jane Beckius respectively.

Mrs. Charles Nelson sung "Sweet Little Alice Blue Gown" and "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody," accompanied my Mrs. A. H. Meyer, guest accompanist.

Haiti Religion To Be Topic For Churchwomen

"The Religious History of Haiti" will be the subject of the speaker, Mrs. Milton Farmer, at the meeting of the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Church of the Nativity on Tuesday, April 19, at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Gwynn Thomson, 312 Miller Creek road, Marinwood.

Mrs. Farmer, an energetic traveler, will illustrate her talk with colored slides taken on her visit to Haiti in 1958. While in Haiti, Mrs. Farmer was the guest of the Rev. and Mrs. Hall Partrick. Rev. Partrick was then Dean of the Episcopal Seminary of Haiti.

For many years Mrs. Farmer has been an enthusiastic worker for the Episcopal Churchwomen. She is the past president of the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Diocese of California, and this year conducted the Marin Convocation Workshop on programs.

Rev. Peter Farmer, the first vicar of St. Francis Episcopal Church in Novato, is her son.

A business meeting will follow the program. Mrs. Robert Bramman, the ways and means chairman, will present plans for the sponsorship of the Ross Valley Players' production of "Sabrina Fair" on Friday evening, May 20.

Dessert and coffee will be served after the business meeting. Co-hostess for the evening is Mrs. Richard Leaird.

Novato Court's Show Will Have Venetian Theme

The Catholic Daughters of America Court of Novato and friends will spend "An Afternoon in Venice" May 4 when their annual evening fashion show will be given, at 8 o'clock in Our Lady of Loretto parish hall, Novato.

With a limited supply of tickets available, early reservations are requested. Those interested in attending may contact Mrs. Eugene Cordone, 570 Sunset Parkway Novato who is reservations chairman.

Bethel Rummage Sale

At a recent meeting of Bethel 48, International Order of Job's Daughters, it was disclosed that a rummage sale will be held on April 14, 15 and 16th of this month for the senior princesses project. The sale will be held at Fourth and C streets.

It was announced that there will be such things as chaise lounges, baby cribs, radios, toys, and clothes.

'Africa' Topic For Guild On Thursday

"Africa," will be the topic on Thursday, April 14, for the Women's Guild meeting of the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo.

Enoch Abenoyap, of the Cameroun, will speak about work awaiting him there as will finish his work at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in June. Abenoyap is studying here on the Agape Fellowship for a year. This was granted to him by the World Service Department under the Board of Ecumenical Missions and Relations. He also spent a year at Lincoln Seminary and received his B.D. Degree there. He is an ordained minister and will preside over a circuit of churches in the Cameroun. It is a great privilege to hear him and to know more about his work.

Dr. John Milton Kelley, well-known music director from San Anselmo's Seminary, will show pictures taken on his good will tour to Africa. Dr. and Mrs. Kelly spent six months or more traveling by air to strategic spots in Africa and presenting programs with the Princeton group sent there by the State Department.

Mrs. Robert Clapham will bring the devotional message. Following this a solo "He Was Despised," from the Messiah will be sung by Mrs. Wesley Honeyman.

Luncheon will be served at noon by Mrs. Lewis Cummings Circle. Mrs. Bradford Muse will preside as chairman.

PATRICIA F. KNISER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Kniser, 315 Laurel avenue, Novato, has won the silver wings of a United Air Lines stewardess. After 4½ weeks at the company's stewardess training Wyo., she now serves school in Cheyenne, aboard Mainliners flying in and out of the New York area. Miss Kniser is a graduate of San Rafael High School.

Orientations Set For Prospective Junior Gray Ladies

Hospital Volunteers Workshop Set May 12 At Marin General

An innovation in Marin County will be a workshop for hospital volunteers which will be a highlight of National Hospital Week May 8 to 14. Sponsored by the Marin General Hospital Service League, the workshop for hospital volunteers will be held at Marin General Hospital on Thursday, May 12, according to Mrs. John Kyle, general chairman for the educational event.

Invited to attend are not only members of the Marin General Hospital Service League and the Marin General Hospital Auxiliary but also members of the Ross General Hospital volunteer workers, as well as women from Novato who are forming a service group to do volunteer work for the Novato hospital which will operate in the future. The volunteers from Novato are being organized under the direction of the Novato Junior Women's Club, according to Mrs. Eugene Biddle.

WORKSHOP COURSE

The workshop training course will start at 10 o'clock in the moring with coffee, enrollment and introductions.

The formalized program will start at 10:30 a.m. with a talk by S. Ames Pence, administrator of Marin General Hospital, who will talk on "Relationship of Volunteers and Administration."

Dr. Wilson P. Goddard, president of the board of directors of the Marin County Hospital District, will talk on "The Relationship of Volunteers to the Medical Staff and the Board of Directors."

An interesting account of nursing in the hospital will be given by Miss Amelia Ditt, director of nursing at Marin General. She will also discuss "The Relationship of Volunteers to the Nursing Staff."

Director of Volunteers for Marin General Hospital, Mrs. Frank Moore, will cover recruitment, orientation, and training of volunteers.

A PARADE

A parade of hospital projects and activities will be presented by Mrs Leslie Clason, vice president of the Marin General Hospital Service League. Chairmen will be present to present and discuss their projects.

From 11:45 to 12:15 p.m. there will be a discussion break and at 12:15 a basket lunch will be served to all of the volunteers attending. During lunch, a "buzz" session will be conducted by groups with common interests or problems.

At 1 p.m., the highlight of the program will take place when a talk on communications will be given by Dr. William Pemberton, an expert on semantics. Following his talk, tours will be conducted for those guests who would like to know more about the operation of Marin's community hospital.

Mrs. S. C. Stapp Is Named President Of Sausalito Club

The president-elect of the Sausalito Woman's Club is Mrs. S. C. Stapp. At Thursday's business meeting the report of the nominating committee was given by its chairman, Mrs. Richard E. Cruikshank.

Others elected to office for the 1960-61 season are:

Mesdames Robert Scarborough, first vice president; Delman D. Smith, second vice president; Wiley Smith, treasurer; Henry G. Douglas, recording secretary; James F. McIndoe, financial secretary; and board members, Mesdames Mervyn S. Cowen, Raymond G. Gergus, Byron Mayo, Clayton D. Mote, Wint F. Saint and Warren Zimmer.

Mrs. Richard F. Phillips will relinquish the gavel to the new president on June 2, when the installation of officers takes place at the annual June luncheon.

A native of Cleveland, Ohio, Mrs. Stapp has been a resident of Sausalito and 2 club member for almost 15 years and has served as a board member of the club and as chairman of many committees. Her civic and philanthropic interests include the Sausalito chairmanship of American Red Cross, a board member of Marin branch, Pro-America, and a volunteer at the Sausalito Salvage Shop.

Other business at the meeting for members only, included donations to Marin Society for Crippled Children; Sausalito Little League; Richardson Bay Recreation League and a membership in the Marin Conservation League.

Mrs. Phillips showed the members a gift from Miss Fanny Schoobert, the only living founder of the club. It is a handsome silver punch ladle and will be "christened" at the June luncheon.

Before the meeting, Mrs. George W. Quinn Jr. was a luncheon hostess for the members of the nominating committee and the new officers.

Greeting members at the clubhouse were Mesdames W. D. Funk and Charles P. Knaebel. Mrs. Leonard G. James was tea chairman and Mesdames Walter D. Barkdull and Frank E. Rossman poured.

This Thursday, the garden section, headed by Mrs. Wint F. Saint, will have a garden tour arranged by Mrs. Justin M. Day. Four outstanding Sausalito gardens, one with a swimming pool, will be visited. Starting at the clubhouse at 10:30 a.m., the tour will end at the Day residence where coffee will be served on the deck.

Laurel Dell P-TA To Elect Officers

The most important meeting of the year for the Laurel Dell P-TA will be the one held on April 21 at 7:30 p.m., with Mrs. Lester Ecke, president, presiding. All members are urged to be present.

The main item on the agenda will be the election of officers for the coming year. A nominating committee has selected a slate of officers to present to the membership.

Also to be presented will be expenditures of funds rasied and plans for the May Festival to be held May 14 at the school.

Of special interest for the evening will be short talks by exchange students, Miss Nina Knudsen from Holte, Denmark, and Miss Jill Sigler, San Rafael, home from Turkey. Refreshments will be served following the meeting by the sixth grade mothers.

Ewalds Will Speak At Guild Meeting

The St. Charles Guild of Holy Innocents Episcopal Church in Corte Madera will host a dessert on Tuesday evening, April 19, at 8 p.m. at the parish hall.

The evening will be an informal get together called, "South Seas with the Preacher."

The Rev. and Mrs. Tod Ewald have recently returned from their trip to the South Seas and will give a talk on their experiences on the trip. The talk will be divided into three parts: Life aboard ship, life in the islands, and the church in the South Pacific. Dessert will be served after the talk. The public is invited to attend. Anyone wishing to attend must contact Mrs. Tom Garrett or from anyone of the Guild members.

Familiar words? I doubt it! Yet fifty years ago they were in common usage in every American home.

As times change, we discard and replace an astounding number of things, modes, and habits. At the present time our way of living is keyed to speed and the availability of both commodities and ideas. The prospect of preparing an infusion of the bark, leaves and leaf buds of the laurel tree in order to make sassafras tea is not acceptable today. (sounds ugh, doesn't it?)

So, we shelved that item and replaced it with more pleasing and quickly prepared hot drinks. Good old sarsaparilla is gone too, and no regrets. (made from the bitter-flavored roots of a certain species of smilax . . . did you know that?)

Syllubub is another unlamented concoction blended of cider and cream, varied by using rum or wine. Well, you could TRY it if you like.

So, I bring you to another phase of modern living . . . diversion in time of leisure. You COULD dance the minuet providing you had a partner and the proper music. I think you'd prefer to dance in tune with your times. Why don't you?

Phone the Arthur Murray Studio: GL 4-6652 and make an appointment to learn those modern steps you've been wishing you could do. Nothing slow and tedious . . . streamlined, speedy instruction.

Tell them I sent you.

Today is Tuesday, April 12, the 103rd day of the year, with 263 more in 1960. Passover, first day.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1777, Henry Clay, American statesman and orator, was born.

In 1945, the 32nd President of the United States, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, died in Warm Springs, Ga.

In 1955, an effective anti-polio vaccine was announced, developed by Dr. Jonas Salk of Pittsburgh.

A thought for today: Franklin Delano Roosevelt, in his fourth inaugural address, said: "We have learned that we cannot live alone, at peace; that our well-being is dependent on the well-being of other nations, far away."

It's Not Smart Economy To Cut Costs On School Books

Do your children have good school books? Are there enough of them to go around?

They can't be educated without books.

Remember the texts you used — the big thin geographies, the drab little spellers, the fat arithmetics? They have been improved. Nowadays they are beautifully illustrated. They are very carefully written. There are books for fast learners, average learners and slow learners.

Teachers in some school districts complain about textbooks. They say they don't have enough books to go around.

It's odd. Some school districts erect expensive new buildings. They install fine new equipment. They hire good teachers. Then they cut the book budget to the bone. That is not smart, it it?

Another complaint is that school leaders order textbooks without consulting the teachers. The right way to choose books is to have teachers and principals do the selecting. They should try out all available books, carefully. Then they should decide which ones are best.

Politics shouldn't enter into the choice of school books.

I believe that neither of these criticisms apply here, in the local schools. I think they do apply in some other places.

Help your children take good care of their books. Teach them how to open a new book carefully, without breaking the binding. Teach them not to turn down leaves, or mark the pages. If the school encourages paper book covers, have them use them.

READERS' FORUM

(Q)—"How often should a 3-year-old be spanked? If I gave way to my feelings I'd spank my son four or five times a day. Would this be wise?"

—A.R.D.

(A)—No. Reserve your spankings for the few most dangerous things he does. Then spank hard enough for him to remember it.

Go-Kart Klub To Be Organized Thursday Night

Organization of a Marin County "Kart Klub" will take place tomorrow night at a meeting in San Rafael High School, it was announced yesterday by Tom Parks of San Rafael, one of the organizers.

The meeting will be held in the high school's "Little Theater" starting at 7:30 p.m., Parks said, and all interested persons are invited to attend.

Parks described "Go-Karting" as . . . a sport for kids from 6 to 60 years of age, a real thrill and excellent training for safety on the highways."

A Kart is equipped with a two-cycle engine, a "GO" pedal and a "STOP" pedal. It is three feet wide, five feet long, two feet high and weighs about 100 pounds. The driver's posterior is only two inches or so above the ground, so it gives the impression of going 90 mph when actually you are trevilling at 25 or 30 mph.

Parks said plans are in the making for construction of a Kart track north of San Rafael in the near future.

Reception Fetes Pastor, Wife In Corte Madera

A silver anniversary surprise reception was held for the Rev. Gerald Moyer, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Corte Madera, and Mrs. Moyer at the church on Paradise drive Sunday evening.

More than 100 of the Moyers' friends from throughout the Bay Area gathered to present a "silver tree" hung with silver dollars, and a large tiered wedding cake, in honor of the Moyers' 25th wedding anniversary. There was a buffet table. No formal program was included.

In Marine March

Back From Pacific

Carl W. Carlson, Navy fireman apprentice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilber H. Carlson of 515 Mission avenue, San Rafael, has returned to Alameda aboard the aircraft carrier Midway after a seven-month tour of duty with the 7th Fleet in the Western Pacific.

Brown Signs Bills For Bond Votes

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday signed a bill to put 700 million dollars in bond issues on the June primary ballot—400 million for veterans farm and home purchase loans and 300 million for local school construction bonds.

Bond issues usually appear on the general election ballot in November. But Brown had asked for special legislation so this year's bond proposals wouldn't conflict with his $1,750,000,000 water bond issue to go before voters in November.

The measure by Assemblyman Carley Porter (D-Compton) also puts on the primary ballot a proposal that would allow future bond acts to be submitted at primary as well as general elections.

Merchants Group Forms Committee In Corte Madera

The Corte Madera Shopping Center Merchants Council board of directors has formed a new committee to direct promotional activities of the center through next fall.

Robert Guelld, promotional manager of Montgomery Ward and Co., heads the promotional committee. Other members are Dean O'Connor, assistant manager of J. C. Penney Co.; James Zierolf, manager of Littleman's Market; Harry Baker, manager of Gallenkamp Shoes; Adrian Taylor, manager of W. T. Grant Co., and Cary Bowles, representing Madera Gardens Development Co.

The committee's first project will be May Dollar Days.

Ex-Marin Labor Leader Honored

Tribute was paid to the late Jack Wise, a leader in Marin building trades labor in the 1930s, at last week's meeting of the Marin Labor Council. The meeting was adjourned for one minute of silence in memory of Wise, who was a former delegate to the council.

Wise was a charter member of the Marin Laborers Local 291 and served it as secretary-treasurer from 1937 to 1940. When he went to Alaska he became an Iron Worker and also carried a card in the Pile Drivers Union while engaging in heavy construction in Alaska. He died last month in Seattle.

Catholic Schools Close Tomorrow

Marin County's Catholic grade and high schools will close for Easter vacation at 3 p.m. tomorrow. They will reopen on Wednesday morning, April 20.

Public schools are closed all this week.

$24,750 GLORIOUS VIEW Level Knoll-Top

Within TOUCHIN' distance of the stars, yet within WALKIN' distance to grammar and high school. Custom-built, this well-laid-out ranch home of 3 bedrooms and 2 baths is only five years old. Central hall plan, family room with double fireplace and sliding glass doors to patio area that is nicely landscaped for minimum care. Kitchen is large and has an unusual number of natural wood cabinets. So "liveable' you will want to start arranging your furniture in it the moment you step in. For you who love a view but don't want to be remote, this home has everything.

$31,500 SLEEPY HOLLOW Level Half Acre

A rambling Early California ranch-style home on an interesting LEVEL site at the end of a quiet tree-lined street. 3 bedrooms, 2 nice tile baths, full dining room, large electric kitchen with spacious breakfast area. Oak plank hardwood floors, forced air heat. Attached oversized garage that could easily be converted into a rumpus room. Property has a complete sprinkler system and there is loads of space for a pool, park a boat, have a badminton court or what-have-you. Greatest area in the world for kids—just one block to grade school, and easy walk to riding stables and community clubhouse. This is California living at its best for the whole family!

$47,500 KENT WOODLANDS Close-In Setting

Just a 10 minute walk to schools, shopping and commute bus. Beautiful ¾ acre with complete privacy. Handsome exterior of redwood board and batten painted white and heavy shake roof. $21,905 CHILDREN? CHARMING

Built with you in mind, this home has 4 full bedrooms, and 2 large baths. Commuters will love its proximity to bus lines and highway, and all the lovely new shops and schools. Completely fenced, this is a house that will take a beating. Bring the kids, they'll love it, and they will love you, too!

$25,500 THERE WAS AN OLD WOMAN WHO LIVED IN A SHOE—

If your lovely wife is tired of "just not enough bedrooms" for your brood, then see this true family home in Ross. 5 bedrooms, 2½ baths, and more extra rooms, for laundry and sewing, or just plain storage than you've ever dreamed of. On a large pool size lot, close to stores and schools, and whatever you need for a carefree, convenient family life. Yes, the home is old, but has a new roof, an excellent, giant heating system, and is wired for 220 V. These are the facts. You must see this home to appreciate its charm and possibilities.

$28,950 LARGE FAMILY!

Put 'em here, pal! We have a 4 bedroom home with 2½ baths, plus electric kitchen and a great big family room for the just listed price of $28,950. Located on a level street in Hawthorne Hills, the home boasts a clear view of Mt. Tamalpais and Ross Valley. The family room and one bedroom and ½ bath are below the main living area of the house. No need to have your large and lovely living room, with towering brick fireplace wall, cluttered with children's toys and play equipment. There's a separate utility room for storage, sewing or whatever-you-wish. Assume existing financing of $21,000 at approx. $155 per mo. Carpets and drapes included. Let us show you today.

ENCHANTING
Inside and Out

Do you like a provincial-type home that would be perfect for your priceless antiques? This precious house was built in 1955 and the designer has captured and "old-world charm" that is especially appealing. Has 3 bedrooms, 2 very pretty baths, beamed ceiling living room and raised hearth fireplace. Central blower furnace, gleaming hardwood floors. Large unfinished basement area that has good expansion possibilities. Immaculate, very well landscaped, pleasing view over the valley. Anyone can assume the 4½% GI loan and owner will help with the down payment.

Probation Given In Delinquency Case

Jimmy Jones, 38-year-old San Francisco cab driver, drew two years supervised probation and $100 fine Friday for staying overnight with two 16-year-old runaway girls in Mill Valley last January.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court sentenced Jones yesterday for contributing to the delinquency of minors. Jones must obey all probation rules and stay away from minors under 18.

The girls, who ran away from Lafayette to seek singing careers for themselves, said they went to a home on West Blithedale avenue in Mill Valley and stayed with Jones and two other men. They said they did not tell the men their ages until the last day, and the men then told the girls to leave.

The other two men, San Francisco singer Wally Hawkins, 23, and Worthington Lee, 23, of Mill Valley were sentenced previously.

12-Month School Session Studied

A committee has been formed to study the possibilities of holding school 12 months a year in the Mill Valley School District, Supt. G. Robert McConnell said today. A first meeting has not yet been set.

Committee members, representing citizens and employees of the school district, are Stephen Cook, Archer Forsyth, Donald Greene, maintenance foreman for the district; Robert Petersen, teacher at Edna Maguire School; Guy Poorman, principal of Tamalpais Valley and Marin Terrace Schools; Robert H. Andresen, school trustee; Robert K. Gordon, Mrs. Arne Anderson, Mrs. T. E. Theiss Jr. and Mrs. Willard Tribble.

New Car Smog Control Device Nears Market

DETROIT (UPI)—A new device which would provide a "practical and effective solution" to the problem of exhaust gases from cars will be on the market before the end of the year, the president of a Portland, Me., research and development company says.

Herman Cohen, president of Norton Portland Corp., said the U. S. Army Tank-Automotive Command Center here has expressed interest in the device and it is now undergoing final tests.

FOR ALL VEHICLES

Cohen said his company had been working on development of the device, which fits comfortably in the palm of the hand, since 1947. Originally the work was concentrated on devices to control exhaust fumes of vehicles which operated inside buildings, he said, but work was continued until a device practical for all vehicles was developed.

Cohen said he was not in a position to discuss price because the device would be marketed by Eboo., Inc., a licensee of Norton Portland, but added "it will be far less than $100."

TROUBLE-FREE

Known as "Monoxit," the device will provide trouble-free operation for the lifetime of vehicles using it, Cohen said. By eliminating known damaging elements it also will tend to lengthen the life of mufflers and tailpipes, which account for 17 to 18 per cent of the dollar volume of replacement parts sold each year, he said.

The device is an afterburner which can be attached directly to the exhaust manifold under the hood of vehicles. It will come in "about a dozen" sizes to make it applicable to all cars.

Air is pumped into the exhaust in a shielded ceramic chamber, Cohen said. A battery-powered glow-plug in the chamber is heated to an intensity of burning off unburned hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide.

The Automobile Manufacturers Association, which has been guiding the auto industry's attempt to develop an exhaust control device, said it was not familiar with the new device.

Sunrise Services Planned On Tam

Easter Sunrise Services will again be held this year at Cushing Memorial Theater on Mt. Tamalpais.

This annual event is co-sponsored by the citizens of Mill Valley and personnel of the 666th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron stationed on Mt. Tam.

The sunrise services will begin at 6 a.m.

Parking space is available. Boy Scouts of Mill Valley will assist in parking and ushering. Signs will be placed along the Panoramic Highway leading to the mountain theater. The members of the Hamilton Air Force Base contingent will do this placing.

School Job Contracts Up For Approval

Contracts for the addition of tennis courts and remodeling of the girls' lavatory at San Rafael High School will be put up for approval at the San Rafael Board of Education meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at 215 Mission avenue.

The contracts will be drawn with the architectural firm of Gromme, Mulvin and Priestley of San Rafael.

Plans for a national school public relations seminar will also be discussed.

A progress report on the Terra Linda High School access road will be presented to the board, and four teachers' names will be placed before the trustees for appointment.

6 Conferences Scheduled To Discuss Credit

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Consumer Counsel Helen Nelson of Mill Valley has announced a series of six conferences to be held throughout the state to discuss credit—"the No. 1 consumer problem in California."

Consumers, businessmen and representatives of community organizations have been invited to attend the discussions with Mrs. Nelson and experts from state agencies.

Mrs. Nelson said she hopes to gather accurate information and recommendations on problems faced by consumers in credit buying, with special emphasis on cost, revolving accounts, installment buying, personal loans, door-to-door credit buying and credit to teenagers.

The first meeting is scheduled in Fresno Thursday. Other conferences will be held in El Centro April 25, San Diego April 26, San Francisco May 5, Los Angeles May 9 and 10, and Salinas May 11.

Teen Gunman Holds Girl Hostage, Fires At Police

HERE THEY COME—Mervyn Evans, Royal Air Force sergeant from Trefriw, Wales, gives the answers to questions by Independent-Journal reporter Randall Gould as Evans and Sgt. Patrick Maloney (dark glasses) of Kilmallock, Ireland, step along with never a pause on coast-to-coast record-breaking hike. The reporter was in good form as this photo was taken, but . . .

AFTER RECORD

Fast-Stepping Britons Zip Through Here

By RANDALL GOULD

San Rafael wasn't even a flag stop for two tough-hiking British Royal Air Force sergeants who stormed through northbound on foot this morning like a doubleheader fast express passing up a tank town.

Sergeants Mervyn Evans and Patrick Moloney of Wales and Ireland, respectively, took off at 6 a.m. from the Golden Gate Bridge, determined to set a new transcontinental walking record. At sunrise they'd sloshed their bare feet in Pacific Ocean surf.

Thousands of San Francisco-bound Marin motorists were startled to see two trim-uniformed figures coming up the side of Highway 101 with swinging arms in a fast march stride, Maloney preceding Evans about two paces.

They paused for nothing (least of all the press) as a panting reporter learned as they entered San Rafael's outskirts just after 9 a.m. There was just one way to conduct an interview, and that was to keep up, or try to.

"What about walking on the freeway?"

"We had the British consul in San Francisco check. He was told it would be all right if we kept single file off to one side and against the traffic.

"But we can't go over the Richmond Bridge so we're going around."

Six hours meant noon and

THERE THEY GO — The interview fags out as reporter Gould, no match for the fast-stepping Britons, falls behind. The two sergeants started at 6 a.m. today from the north end of the Golden Gate Bridge, hiked through San Rafael three hours later, plan to keep going to New York. (Independent-Journal photos)

I-J CENSUS CONTEST

Residents of half of Marin's 10 cities are represented in the Independent-Journal's $375 countywide census contest. But up to this morning, no residents of Belvedere, Sausalito, Corte Madera, Ross or San Anselmo had sent in estimates of the 1960 population of their cities, the whole county and the circulation of the Independent-Journal.

A Larkspur resident, who hopes to win $150 in merchandise orders, puts his fate in the hands of 7s. If 7s repeat for him, he may win $100 award for his estimate of the county's population at 177,777; a $25 order for his guess of 5,777 for the population of Larkspur, and another $25 for his guess of 29,777 as the circulation of the Independent-Journal.

You can win one, two or three of the dozen prizes offered. Just send your estimates of these three totals, the population of the county as determined by the 1960 census, the population of the city in which you live, and the circulation of the Independent-Journal as of next April 30, to Census Contest, P.O. Box 330, San Rafael, or take them to the offices of the I-J in San Rafael, Corte Madera, Mill Valley or Novato.

Sunny Skies Spur Turnout At Marin Polls

9 Cities Electing Officials; Heavy Balloting Forecast

Polls in all cities will be open until 7 p.m.

Voting during the morning varied from light to "exceptionally heavy," but city clerks in most cities forecast a heavy turnout on the basis of more-than-usual absentee ballots.

Two of the cities will be the scenes of true election night celebrations tonight: Mill Valley and Novato. In others, no formal plans were announced for election night festivities.

OPEN HOUSE

Open house will be held at the Mill Valley City Hall from 7 to 9 p.m., with returns from the city's election being posted as rapidly as received. Coffee and doughnuts will be served free, announced City Manager A. E. Almcrants.

In Novato, an election night open house, featuring up-to-the minute election returns, coffee and doughnuts, will be held in the Independent-Journal office at 1129 Grant avenue.

On hand will be radio station KTIM manager Hugh Turner and his traveling microphone for on-the-spot interviews with winning and losing candidates in the city's second city council election in three months.

HEAVY VOTE

Among those with heavy morning vote turnout was Ross, where about 100 had voted by noon at the town hall. Election officials said this is not unusual in Ross, however, where many of the women vote during the morning. The election there finds four candidates for three city council spots—including the three incumbents.

"The vote is running unusually heavy in Sausalito," reported City Clerk Amelie Smith at noon. At the consolidated city hall precinct there, 120 out of a possible 532 votes had been cast by noon. Sausalito has a wide-open council race, with

Beverly Now Says Shot Was Accident

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Beverly Aadland has changed her story of how a youth was shot fatally in her apartment and now claims William Stanciu was shot accidentally during a playful scuffle on her bed Saturday, police said today.

Deputy Police Chief Thad Brown said: "Beverly admits she lied when she said Stanciu raped her."

He said she admitted lying after police told her a lie detector test administered to her yesterday indicated parts of her story were false.

Stanciu, 21, booked on suspicion of rape, died in the General Hospital prison ward early Sunday. Police at first listed his death as suicide.

There was no immediate word from police whether charges will be filed against Beverly. She is being held in juvenile hall under a law permitting detention in cases where there is a lack of adequate parental supervision.

'SELLING ITS SOUL'

Seminary Student Blasts 'Gag' Rule

A 23-year-old student at San Francisco Theological Seminary today accused the San Anselmo Presbyterian institution of "selling its soul" to finance a building program.

Keith Williams, a Corte Maderan living at Oxtoby Hall on the seminary campus, made the charge in a letter to the Independent-Journal. Queried, he declared he was willing to stand on what he had written in the letter.

CLEARANCE REQUIRED

Williams said he and other students were deeply disturbed by a notice distributed at the seminary yesterday requiring clearance of all types of publicity through the office of seminary development. The notice bore the name of John R. Little, former advertising agency executive who was named to the new position of provost of the seminary last January.

Wrote Williams:

"I am writing this letter because I am opposed to the subtle form of 'censorship' which this notice seeks to institute at this seminary.

"The public and the press have a right to information about the affairs of San Francisco Theological Seminary. The right of the public and of the press is not one of having only an 'official' version of these affairs. Equally important, the seminary has a duty to make its affairs known to the public. . ."

TEXT OF NOTICE

The notice distributed yesterday, was addressed to the "seminary family." It said:

"In an attempt to see that the image of the seminary which is presented to the world is promoted with consistency, would you please be sure that all printed pieces and all news releases are checked through the office of seminary development prior to their release?

"That does not mean that Mr. Miller's office will be responsible for the creation and production of all such materials. It does mean that they will be responsible for checking them to see if they conform with the new administration policies."

Dr. James C. Miller, former pastor of Los Gatos Presbyterian Church, was named director of development in January.

The notice went on to say that because of the astonishing amount of work" handled by Miller's office, an extra day or two" would be necessary "to process the material in an orderly fashion."

Wrote Williams:

"There is no 'consistent image' which the seminary can present to the public without also giving the lie to the public. The church is the product of the explosive conversation which takes place in each gen-

Fair Skies Expected But Drizzle Possible

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Mostly fair skies were promised through tomorrow in Northern California except for a chance of showers tonight north of Santa Rosa and Red Bluff.

Sunny weather was also in store for the San Francisco Bay Area, although some cloudiness was expected tonight with possible light drizzle.

AF DISCLAIMS 'CREDIT' FOR SONIC BOOM

A Hamilton Air Force Base spokesman said today the 28th Air Division had no knowledge of a possible sonic boom reported in Marin and San Francisco at about 8:30 a.m. today.

"None of our planes, either from Hamilton, Travis or Castle Air Force Bases were supersonic at that time," the spokesman said.

Hendrickson Gets 25-Year Prison Term

John R. Hendrickson of 27 Dellwood court, San Rafael, yesterday was sentenced to 25 years in federal prison for embezzling more than three million dollars from a Long Beach bank.

The government had charged during his trial that it was one of the largest embezzlements in the history of American banking.

Hendrickson, 40, father of seven, was arrested last May and was convicted three weeks ago.

A wealthy manufacturer, he had faced a prison term which when all counted up could have totaled 130 years, and a fine of $130,000.

He was sentenced to serve the maximum term of five years each on five counts of misapplying funds and conspiracy.

Twenty-one other counts against him were suspended by Alexander Bicks of U. S. District Court in Los Angeles. Hendrickson, who maintained he was innocent throughout the trial, thanked Bicks after sentencing.

"I've examined my conscience and I realize that I must atone for my crime," he said. He admitted perjuring himself during the trial, and apologized to the judge.

The amount of the embezzlement from the East Long Beach branch of the U. S. National

Besieged By Officers In Barricaded House

PULASKI, Va. (UPI)—A vengeful young mill hand today blasted random shotgun barrages at police from a barricaded house where he held his wife's 10-year-old sister hostage as a climax to in-law trouble.

Jack Jennings, 18, snarled to reporters that he would "kill me a couple of cops" before coming out of his father-in-law's home where he began his stand-off yesterday afternoon. He also asked for late papers so he could see his picture.

At one point, Jennings fired to police on an arrow a message vowing he would rape his sister-in-law, Barbara Butts, if someone did not come to talk to him. At other times he begged for a chance to barter for his freedom and demanded that his 16-year-old estranged wife, Sandra, be brought to him.

FURIOUS AT BLACKOUT

He ordered three hot dogs for lunch and became furious when the electricity in the house was turned off, depriving him of radio and television news of his seige.

Earlier, police ordered the phone disconnected to stop him from talking to reporters.

Outside, grim state troopers and police armed with rifles and shotguns waited for the youth with the ducktail haircut to make his next move in the waiting game that turned this southwest Virginia City of 12,000 into an armed camp.

FIRES AT OFFICERS

Jennings blamed his wife and father-in-law, C.W. Butts for his troubles. He bragged that he was "drinking my father-in-law's coffee, smoking my father-in-law's cigarettes, shooting my father-in-law's guns and busting up my father-in-law's house."

Jennings set up the siege when he broke away from police leading him from a courtroom where he had been bound over to a grand jury on charges he stole his father-in-law's car. He headed immediately for the Butts house and, since Barbara was there alone, took her hostage.

Fire Damages Ship Skippered By Marinite

Damage would run into "thousands of dollars," said a report from Bellingham. Both ship and cargo were damaged in the blaze, which was controlled shortly after midnight by Bellingham firemen.

Officials of the Grace Line in San Francisco said the ship will be able to sail here, however, and is expected to dock in Alameda late Sunday night. It was tied up at the Puget Sound Pulp and Timber Co. dock when the fire broke out. The cargo consisted of paper and flour.

Firemen and crewmen speculated that a smouldering cigarette may have started the fire.

Taylor started with the Grace Line some 20 years ago as a mate. He has sailed mainly to Central and South American ports, but recently captained ships to Japan and Korea. He served in the Orient with the company during World War II.

He and his wife, Irene, live at 8 Los Robles drive, San Rafael.

Former Airman Faces Sonoma Arson Charge

A discharged Hamilton Air Force Base airman and a Petaluma woman property owner were charged with arson in fires that destroyed five Petaluma area houses on March 21.

David Scott Aughtman, 22, who was an airman basic in the 78th Armament and Electronics Maintenance Squadron at Hamilton and was discharged as "undesirable" on Feb. 25, was arrested at his home in Geneva, Ala., announced Sheriff John Ellis of Sonoma County.

Arrested at her Petaluma home was Mrs. May Gale, owner of the five unoccupied houses that burned last month at a loss of $16,000.

Sheriff Ellis claimed Mrs. Gale had paid Aughtman to set fire to the houses, so she could collect the insurance.

Sheriff Ellis said Aughtman reported Mrs. Gale promised him $200 to burn seven houses. Aughtman quit on the fifth house when his gasoline can exploded, according to his account to the sheriff. He said Mrs. Gale paid him $75.

Mrs. Gale denied the whole story.

Sheriff Ellis said Mrs. Gale had collected insurance on other fires in previous years.

The five homes that burned March 21 were on two sections of property, a block apart, on Marshall lane just north of Petaluma.

Hamilton officials said Aughtman was given summary court-martial and fined $25 plus confinement to base for 30 days in July, 1958, for unbecoming conduct. In February of this year, he was given his discharge as undesirable.

Cuba Rejects U.S. Plea For 2 Fliers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fidel Castro's Cuban government has rejected an American plea to return two American fliers shot down in Cuba after a sneak flight from Florida.

The State Department, disclosed this yesterday, announced also its own rejection of three Cuban protests on other matters.

At the time the two fliers were arrested, Cuba said they were trying to spirit out of the country a former agent of ex-President Fulgencio Batista, who was deposed by Castro's revolution.

U.S. authorities later said they obtained a statement from one of the American fliers, William J. Schergales, 34, that Castro's regime cooked up the flight to embarrass the United States.

Cuba's refusal to return the men heightened Washington suspicions on this score. Cuba said Schergales and Howard Rundquist, 33, identified as a native of San Rafael, are subject to Cuban court action for a crime against Cuba.

The United States had wanted to invetigate Schergales and Rundquist for possible violation of American laws in making their secret flight.

The U.S. reply said a policy was begun two years ago of closely studying all Caribbean arms requests. It said arms shipments had been denied to Batista before Castro.

Cuban Rebel Band Rumored Bottled Up

HAVANA (AP)—An insurgent band led by a former Castro officer was reported bottled up in the Sierra Maestra Mountains of eastern Cuba today, but the government refused to talk about it.

Unconfirmed reports said troops and militiamen in Oriente province were moving in on an encircled group of about 40 guerillas led by Manuel Beaton, former captain in Fidel Castro's revolutionary forces.

Maj. Calixton Garcia, commander of the mountain area, refused to discuss the reports with newsmen.

Military authorities in Havana and officials in Oriente province said they knew nothing about Beaton or his guerillas.

The semi-official newspaper Revolucion said Saturday that Beaton was heading a gang of of bandits in the area. The paper accused the band of killing a peasant, Francisco Tamayo, who had been associated with Castro during the revolution. But the Havana newspaper El Crisol later identified Tamayo as chief of a government army unit.

Another unconfirmed report said a second guerilla band is roaming the Sierra Cristal, a mountain range north of the Sierra Maestra.

Beaton recently escaped from Havana's La Cabana military fortress, where he had been held on charges of killing an army major and two soldiers several months ago. Beaton denied he was responsible for the shooting. Friends said he had been made a scapegoat.

KILLED—John S. Moses, who appeared annually at the famed Pendleton Round-Up in full Indian regalia, will no longer be a part of those Oregon festivities. Moses, a member of the Nez Perce Tribe and a distant relative of the legendary Chief Joseph, was killed yesterday when a car he was driving collided with a freight train. The picture was taken in 1947. (AP Wirephoto)

1,200-MILE TRIP

Fast-Talking Boy Mooches Free Plane, Train Rides

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A 13-year-old boy who hitched free plane and train rides for a 1,200-mile joy ride halfway across the country says next time he'll try for a through flight to the West Coast.

Dean Sierling of Sea Cliff, N. Y., was found by police in a hotel yesterday shortly after he had arrived from Chicago on a New York Central train.

His grandmother, Mrs. Robert L. Sierling, of Sea Cliff, said: "I'll see that he gets home, but we're going to let the proper authorities escort him here."

The youngster prepared for the trip with two hearty breakfasts Sunday morning at the home of his grandparents, with whom he lives. His parents are separated.

Then, impeccable in a charcoal-gray suit and horn-rimmed glasses, he set out for New York's Idlewild Airport, carrying $25 he had saved.

He told United Airlines officials he had lost his ticket and they had "better take me because my aunt is waiting for me" at O'Hare Airport.

In Chicago, he slipped away from airline officials while they were checking a fictitious address he had given them. He took a taxi downtown and boarded a New York Central train.

"I lost my ticket," he said. "They're waiting for me in Buffalo."

He tossed a towel across a concession stand counter. On the towel he had written: "Kidnaped. Help. It's the man with the brown suit."

Then he walked out of the terminal and took a taxi to a downtown hotel. Police traced him by checking taxi drivers.

When police asked why he took the trip, Dean said: "Just say it's domestic trouble. That's really all you need to know."

"He's got to learn to curb his more than ample imagination," his grandmother said. "He thinks he's been so smart."

Charge Against Doctor Dismissed

A battery charge was dismissed yesterday against Dr. Douglas E. Ramsey of Kentfield, who was accused of hitting his wife with the open hand last Jan. 3.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court dropped the charge on the motion of Deputy Dist. Atty. Hadden Roth. The attorney announced that civil litigation is pending between Dr. Ramsey and his wife, Roberta, and all parties have agreed to drop the criminal proceedings.

Mrs. Ramsey, who lives at 43 Kent avenue, Kentfield, charged that Dr. Ramsey straight-armed her and knocked her down. Dr. Ramsey, defended by attorney Jerome Duffy, contended that his wife attacked him, and he put out his hand to ward her off.

Muir Woods Visitors

Muir Woods National Monument reported today that 5,664 visitors went through the park last weekend. Visitors included group tours from San Francisco and many hikers.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Union Chief Guilty

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Carpenters' Union president Maurice A. Hutcheson today awaited sentencing after being convicted of contempt of Congress for balking at questions about possible misuse of union funds.

Federal Judge James W. Morris, who heard the case without a jury, yesterday found the 62-year-old union chief guilty on all counts.

Press Forum Slated

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The California Newspaper Publishers Assn. announced yesterday the first annual world newspaper forum will be held in Los Angeles Oct. 13-14.

Forum chairman Bert Stolpe said 1,000 editors and publishers from throughout the world are expected to attend.

The forum is planned to provide a sounding board for international opinion on education, government, finance, communications, science and industry.

Bumper Wheat Crop

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 1960 winter wheat crop has taken giant strides in the direction followed by most of its predecessors in recent years—toward a bigger wheat surplus.

The Agriculture Department's April crop summary yesterday estimated the fall-planted crop will total 976,957,000 bushels. This is 51 million bushels above the Dec. 1 forecast, nearly 6 per cent more than the 1959 crop, and 17 per cent above average. If the estimated crop materializes, it will be the fifth largest of record.

Chou To Visit Nepal

TOKYO (AP)—Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai will visit the tiny Himalayan kingdom of Nepal for three days beginning April 26, Peiping radio reported today.

Rhee Foes Demonstrate

Italian Premier Quits

ROME (AP)—President Giovanni Gronchi today turned once again to the task of trying to lead Italy out of its gravest postwar government crisis. But no solution was in sight.

Gronchi started consulting the nation's political and party leaders after Premier Fernando Tambroni resigned last night.

Ghost Writers Nabbed

NEW YORK (AP)—An assistant grammar school principal and five other persons have been arrested on charges of selling academic papers to college students who turned them in as their own work.

Prices for the ghost-written papers went as high as $3,000 for a dissertion aimed at a doctor's degree, said Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan.

'Peter Pan' Suicide

The name given in the suicide vedict was Peter Llewellyn Davies, 63. He was the original of the famous boy in James M. Barrie's play.

The coroner ruled that he threw himself under the train wheels last Wednesday while depressed because of failing health.

Dope Drive Mapped

SACRAMENTO (AP)—An all-out attack on narcotics—with special emphasis on the Mexican border—has been mapped by the attorney general's office.

Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk met behind closed doors yesterday with nine top narcotics agents to plan how to use extra funds voted by the 1960 Legislature.

"This meeting presages an all-out coordinated drive throughout California against dope peddlers," Mosk said.

Lie Test For Bev

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Beverly Aadland underwent a lie detector test last night and re-told her story of the shooting of William Stanciu.

Members of Stanciu's family have hinted the youth may not have shot himself.

She said Stanciu, a suitor, came to her Hollywood apartment early Saturday, menaced her with a revolver in a game of Russian roulette, raped her at gunpoint and then fired a bullet into his own temple. He died Sunday.

Ike On Golf Course

There was nothing on tap for him other than another electric cart tour of the Augusta National Golf Club fairways and a checkup on White House routine with staff secretary Andrew J. Goodpaster.

Space Study Urged

GENEVA (UPI)—A western spokesman proposed today that the 10-nation disarmament conference set up a subcommittee to study means of outlawing military uses of outer space.

Italy's Gen. Luigi Danielle said agreement on this phase of arms control could be achieved "mainly through good will" without lengthy studies or costly control measures.

Solons Set Hearing

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—An Assembly committee will hold a public hearing here May 20 on Gov. Edmund G. Brown's plan to reorganize the state government.

Chairman Gordon H. Winton Jr. (D-Merced) of the Interim Committee on Goverment Organization said additional hearings will be announced.

Killing Suspect Held

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Bobby Richard Van Over, strapping carnival roustabout, was held in jail without bond today awaiting grand jury action on charges of killing former Bradley University president David B. Owen in a $4-a-day hotel room here.

Van Over, of Tampa, Fla., was accused of strangling and fatally beating Owen, who was found nude beside a bed in the hotel room. Owen, 51, was manager of the Santa Cruz Chamber of Commerce.

The Weather Picture

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Warm winds and fair skies brought a bright spring day to most of the eastern United States today.

But showers and thunderstorms were expected to dot the Pacific Northwest, in a triangle from Northern California to Washington to Central Montana, and the southern Plains states, from Nebraska through Oklahoma and Arkansas into Texas and New Mexico.

Cooler air invaded the Rockies and Southwestern plateaus while a warm front moved up the Atlantic Seaboard from the Gulf to New England.

Lake Drive-In

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A nautical "drive-in" service for boaters, fishermen and swimmers is now in service on Lake Mendota.

From his enclosed, outboard motor powered raft, Robert Eckles sells hamburgers, hot dogs, coffee and soft drinks. Rails are located on both sides of the craft so boats can pull up for service.

Weed Fighter

GORDONSVILLE, Va. (AP) — Richard Davis says he has found the solution to the weed problem in his vegetable garden. He covers the garden with plastic with a tiny hole cut for each vegetable. Putting it between rows as do commercial growers leaves too much space for weeds, Davis says. Furthermore, his method causes his vegetables to be well watered.

The Friendly Robber

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Taxi driver John Shelley's nomination for the friendliest robber on record is a passenger who drew a revolver, robbed him and then forced Shelley to accompany him on a round of taverns. They spent the money on drinks. Shelley then hailed a pair of policemen and had his host, a former convict, arrested.

Out Of The Past

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—About 300 million years ago, says the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, a vast inland sea extended from what is now Lake Erie south across Ohio to West Virginia. It deposited salt up to 300 feet thick in some places and this is now the basic ingredient for about 14,000 manufacturing and industrial processes.

Independents Enliven Today's Illinois Vote

CHICAGO (AP)—Vigorous opposition by independent candidates bucking both Democratic and Republican regulars sparked interest in today's Illinois primary.

The turnout is expected to come close to two million of the more than five million registered voters.

The star national personality is Vice President Richard M. Nixon, running unopposed in Illinois' GOP presidential preference primary. There was no Democratic popularity test. Illinois preference votes are not binding on delegates to the national party conventions.

Sparking today's primary are a three-way contest for the Democratic governor nomination, a GOP challenger against Gov. William C. Stratton's third-term bid, and a six-way race for the Republican U.S. Senate nomination to oppose Democratic incumbent Paul H. Douglas.

Otto Kerner, recent Cook County judge picked by Mayor Richard J. Daley's Democratic machine for the governor nomination, faces Stephen A. Mitchell, former Democratic national chairman, and State Treasurer Joseph D. Lohman. The independents waged a sharp anti-bossism campaign.

Republicans wage a lively battle for the honor of opposing Senator Douglas in the fall. The six-way field includes Samuel W. Witwer, Chicago attorney who has Stratton's endorsement and is favored to win.

FOES GANGING UP?

Talk Heard In W. Virginia Of Stop Kennedy Movement

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Talk of a stop Kennedy movement flared in West Virginia today at the same time talk of a stop Nixon movement seemed snuffed in New York.

In West Virginia, political observers wondered whether a host of Democratic presidential candidates had thrown their support to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota in the state's May 10 primary.

Their aim: To halt the momentum of Sen. John F. Kennedy's drive toward the party's nomination. The Massachusetts senator and Humphrey are the only candidates entered in the primary.

In New York, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller opposed circulation of a letter that belittled the qualifications of Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the presidency. Some Republican supporters of Rockefeller had signed the letter.

Nixon, in San Francisco to open the baseball season, told a newsman he was not disturbed by the letter and, in fact, thought it might add spice to the campaign.

Adlai Stevenson continued to draw support for the Democratic nomination despite his repeated statements he is not a candidate.

In Wheeling, Roosevelt said Kennedy was running against the combined "opposition" of Humphrey, Stevenson, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), and Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.).

Gorillas are vegetarians.

HABEAS CORPUS PETITION

Chessman Action Filed In High Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Supreme Court considered today a habeas corpus petition for convict-author Caryl Chessman, the third filed in his behalf in the past two weeks.

Chessman's attorney, George T. Davis, filed the action yesterday contending that confinement under death sentence for 12 years is cruel and unusual punishment, and that Chessman's penalty exceeded the charges upon which he was tried.

Davis said there wasn't enough time to include his claims of Sunday that Chessman was convicted through perjury, and that Los Angeles police are suppressing evidence. He had contended that evidence shows Chessman is innocent and reveals the identity of the real culprit.

Davis said he might file an amended petition based on those claims after he has conferred with co-counsels Rosalie Asher and A. L. Wirin.

Chessman, now scheduled to die in the San Quentin Prison gas chamber May 2, was condemned at Los Angeles in 1948 for kidnaping with bodily harm, forcing two women into unnatural sex acts.

That claim was rejected March 30 by Marin Superior Court Judge Jordan Martinelli and a week ago by three judges of the state District Court of Appeals, who also rejected the claim of cruel and unusual punishment.

In the new petition, Davis said Municipal Court Judge Arthur S. Guerin set a $25,000 bond for Chessman at a preliminary hearing. The state penal code prohibits admitting bail in any charge punishable by death, Davis said, and the $25,000 figure was "further proof, persuasive if not conclusive, that the offenses charged were not capital punishment offenses."

Davis cited Gov. Edmund G. Brown's declaration of Feb. 19, when he reprieved Chessman for 60 days, that he was "strongly influenced" by a telegram from a State Department official, advising that hostile demonstrations might greet President Eisenhower in Uruguay if Chessman were executed.

The attorney contended that using a man under death sentence for "political expediency" was a manifestation of cruel and unusual punishment.

Allied Foreign Policy Chiefs Start Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Allied foreign ministers started a round of pre-summit talks today with a blunt reminder that East-West leaders can't hope to settle their bitter disputes at a single conference.

"The road to peace is a long and hard one and no one can now say when the goal will be reached," the State Department said in a book of background documents.

STRATEGY SESSION

The meetings open this afternoon with a strategy session bringing together Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

The three Allied foreign policy chiefs, meeting in an atmosphere of low-key optimism, were reported confident they could draft proposals their government chiefs will lay before Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev at next month's Paris summit meeting.

OTHERS TO COME

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano joins them tomorrow and the Italian and Canadian foreign ministers will be brought into the disarmament discussion later.

In a move to curb excessive hope, the State Department published a bulky document recalling how the 1955 summit meeting at Geneva failed to break the East-West deadlock. The 478-page book of documents also recalled the angle of proposals and counter-proposals that led to the decision to have the Big Four leaders try again in Paris May 16.

Housewife Guilty Of Drunk Driving

Mrs. Carolyn Brolan, 31, Terra Linda housewife who was involved in a two-car collision north of Black Point cutoff last month, was found guilty of drunken driving yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas sentenced Mrs. Brolan to six months probation and $100 fine. Her car crashed with another on March 15.

Edwin Wiley Fuller, 39, an Air Force officer from Colorado Springs, drew six months probation and $150 fine for his first offense. He was caught on Highway 101 last Saturday.

Hazel Patricia Armstrong, 35, of San Jose must pay $150 fine and remain on six months probation. She was caught on Francisco boulevard near San Rafael last Saturday.

Child Recovering Following Mishap

The 7-year-old San Rafael girl, who nearly choked to death after she swallowed a thermometer yesterday, was released today from San Rafael General Hospital. She was reported to be "feeling fine."

Lisa Jane Chapman of 124 Linden lane was saved by San Rafael firemen, who pulled out the thermometer and applied a resuscitator.

She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Chapman.

IKE ADDS SOUTH KOREA TO ITINERARY

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today added a one-day visit to South Korea to the itinerary of his June trip to Russia and Japan.

Eisenhower will reach Japan June 19 and interrupt his visit June 22 to fly to Korea. He will go back to Japan and finish out his visit there June 23.

The White House announced that the President will make the brief visit to the Republic of Korea in response to a long-standing personal invitation of President Syngman Rhee.

Medical Societies, Drug Firms Linked

WASHINGTON (AP)—A doctor charged today some big medical societies are so beholden to certain free spending drug manufacturers they won't listen to criticism of the firms' products.

Dr. William Bean of Iowa State University's Medical School staff made the allegation in written testimony filed with the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee.

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (UPI) — Principal Leon W. Wells was quite embarrassed when three fire trucks roared up to his new and-not-yet occupied elementary school. He told firemen he was inspecting the building and pulled the fire alarm thinking it would ring only in the building.

Race Struggle Triggers New Dixie Violence

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

New violence erupted in the South during the 10th week of the sit-down demonstrations.

A fight, the brandishing of a shovel and the drawing of knives marked protests against segregation in Nashville, Tenn., yesterday after nearly three weeks of calm. Two arrests were made.

The first Negro boycott of white merchants in Mississippi was reported at Jackson. Police and merchants said it fizzled. But a spokesman for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People described the attempt as 70 per cent effective.

More than 100 Negroes demonstrated at four stores in Concord, N.C., and six of them were arrested. The woman proprietor of a store was charged with assault.

The turbulent scenes occurred on a day a United Nations mediator termed peaceful demonstrations for desegrated service at lunch counters "the resurgence of the American dream."

Dr. Frank P. Graham, former U. S. senator and a former president of the University of North Carolina, made the statement while speaking to the North Carolina Conference for Social Service at Raleigh.

At Atlanta, Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., a Negro integration leader, said Negro college students from 40 communities where protests have been staged will meet in Raleigh, N. C. this weekend.

Fluoridation Meet Set For Late This Month

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today decided to sponsor a public meeting on fluoridation sometime late next month. No exact date was set.

The issue of whether the water of the Marin Municipal Water District should contain fluoride as a method of fighting tooth decay will come before the voters June 7.

The action was taken after Dr. Stephen A. Duff of San Rafael, vice chairman of the Marin Pure Water Committee, read a 1,500-word letter agreeing to supply speakers for a public debate.

The supervisors last week had promised the Children's Dental Health Committee of Marin County an open meeting, and the Pure Water Committee today also endorsed the idea.

While the Pure Water Committee, which opposes fluoridation, asked certain rules to be set up for a debate, the supervisors were not specific on this request. The board instructed County Clerk George S. Jones to contact Mrs. William Loran of Mill Valley, chairman of the children's dental health group, on whether sometime between May 23 and May 27 would be suitable. The dates were suggested by Dr. Duff.

The board, which has declared itself neutral on fluoridation, filed several letters protesting statements by Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy in opposition to fluoridation.

Supervisor Chairman Walter R. Castro said Dr. Dufficy was speaking "on his own, and not as county physician."

HIKERS

apparently somewhere near Black Point. Evans added that the first day's hike was expected to total 51 miles and that after the noon halt, they would keep going for about another 25 miles and a day of a little more than 12 walking hours.

The accompanying car was later spotted in San Rafael picking up provisions. A British form of jeep, it had a trailer with room for supplies and sleeping space. Sgt. Roy Rogers of London was in charge.

There need be no shoes purchased for the 3,200-mile hike to New York, for only one sort can be worn: Rubber-soled, with nylon socks, provided by a British sponsoring firm.

"No use asking what you think of leather?" Evans was asked.

"These have leather tops, rubber soles only," he pointed out. They looked substantial, but it was hard to get them in focus.

Tonight should see them in Cordelia, Solano County, according to schedule; Sacramento, 48 miles farther, is tomorrow's objective. They hope for Reno by Saturday night.

They intend to follow U. S. Highway 40 to Salt Lake City, then change to 30, take 6 at Omaha, go to 30 again at Joliet, Ill., and reach New York on 22. Rogers will furnish their meals in the trailer.

Averaging 47 miles a day, the walkers hope by maintaining their steady army clip to reduce the present record of just over 79 days by a week or nine days. Clearly they're not planning to chat or admire the scenery, though they knew San Rafael when they reached it.

Close behind them will be another British cross-continent walker, a woman vegetarian, Dr. Barbara Moore, 56, reached New York today and was to fly to San Francisco tonight to start a more-or-less a duplicate route tomorrow morning, though she means to detour to Washington before reaching New York. Dr. Moore, too, has selected the Golden Gate Bridge as her starting point.

The sergeants recently walked 900 miles from John O'Groats to Land's End in 18 days. Dr. Moore has just finished a 1,028-mile walk in England.

Mariner Cove Group Elects

Other officers named recently by Chairman Raymond J. Brandt and approved by the directors are Henry L. (Bud) Cole, vice president; Donald R. Fulton, treasurer; Mrs. Lois Adami, secretary, and Mrs. Barbara Clark, recording secretary.

The association directors have voted to recommend to the membership a "yes" vote on the May 3 school bond election.

Property Owners At Strawberry Select Officers

William Young has been elected as president of the Strawberry Property Owners' Assn. to succeed Forrest Randolph.

At the association's meeting last night, Marcel Ehrer was appointed to represent the club on the Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs and the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council.

Paul Burke was appointed to the association's improvement committee. Robert Davis, Michael Rabin and Mrs. R. R. Lloyd were appointed to the landscaping committee.

The association signed a contract for landscaping of Ricardo road and Belvedere drive entrances to Strawberry, the work to start shortly, Young said. The beautification program was made possible by the efforts of the association, the Strawberry Recreation District, Richardson Bay Sanitary District and Sam Neider, developer of Harbor Point.

Mill Valley Board Eyes Budget Items

Leo Edson, assistant superintendent of Mill Valley School District, presented the board of trustees with requests for $33,808 for maintenance and $34,455 for new equipment in relation to the 1960-61 school year budget at last night's meeting of the board.

Edson said the raw data on budget requests was presented so the board would have an idea of the work which the principal feel needs accomplishment during the next school year.

He said the trustees would want to review these lists after the general shape of the budget had been established.

Drunken Driving Trial Postponed

Mrs. Doris R. deBeaubien, 39, of Corte Madera, accused of felony drunken driving, won another two weeks continuance yesterday while her attorney attempts to toss out the charges.

Her next appearance in Marin Superior Court is set for April 25.

Plea Of Guilty Entered On Lewd Film Charge

A Mill Valley antique shop operator pleaded guilty today to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a teen-age boy by letting him view some lewd films last February.

Arthur H. Beal, who runs a shop at 173 Throckmorton avenue, pleaded guilty before Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court. The judge set May 9 as the date for a probation report and sentencing.

Contractor Licenses Due Two Marin Firms

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The Contractors' State License Board announced it plans to issue contractors' licenses to two Marin firms if no protests are received by April 25.

South Africa To Bid For More Whites

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The South African government, fully alert to the magnitude of its race problem, announced today it is embarking on a large scale program to bring in white immigrants.

Interior Minister J. F. Naude told Parliament the government now considers immigration "of the utmost importance for the union."

The nationalist government has been under fire for years from the opposition for failing to promote immigration and improve the balance of three million whites against 10 million blacks.

INQUIRY URGED

A spokesman for the opposition to the government of the wounded prime minister, Hendrik F. Verwoerd, called for an inquiry into the basic causes of African discontent.

Sir de Villiers Graaff, United Party leader, said he and his followers intend to bring pressure on the government for an investigation of the reasons for Negro unrest once the present state of emergency is ended.

WARNINGS PRINTED

Newspapers were filled with government warnings that apartheid policies will be strictly maintained while Verwoerd is on the sidelines.

A noon medical bulletin said there had been a distinct improvement in Verwoerd's condition after a satisfactory night.

NAME BANNED

Police ordered the press to stop printing the name of David Pratt, wealthy white farmer who shot Verwoerd twice in the head Saturday.

Pratt is being held under the emergency regulations which permit the government to file charges against him at its convenience. A police spokesman said he "will appear in court at some future date."

SEMINARY

eration between God and man. As soon as we eliminate that conversation we emasculate Christianity.

"At seminary there is disagreement between students, faculty and administration. This is as it should be. Why should it be hidden from the public? For this reason: The seminary is presently engaged in a 10-million-dollar building program. It seeks to present a consistent image so that it might find it easier to get the funds and donations it needs. But by so doing the seminary helps to turn itself into another faceless image of the organization church' which is so characteristic of our society.

"The seminary would finance its building program by selling its soul. The seminary has the duty to bring to the public its conversations of both agreement and disagreement. If the seminary chooses to betray its duty to the public it will find that it also has chosen to betray the Christianity which it purports to teach."

WHAT KIND OF RABBIT LAYS PLASTIC EGGS?

Well, look at it this way, say the city fathers: The kids get smeared something awful with the real thing and not all of the 58 dozen eggs buried in the beach are found. Comes the summer . . . bathers . . . rotten eggs . . . not so good.

That tears it—plastic eggs it will be.

AF Abandons Search For Crashed Jet

Search for a T33 jet trainer plane that went down in San Pablo Bay on March 30 has been abandoned, Col. George F. Ceuleers, Hamilton Air Force Base commander, announced today.

Bodies of the two fliers who went down with the plane, Capt. Moritz K. Fromme Jr. of Raphael Village and 1st Lt. Richard K. Ratliff of San Jose, were recovered shortly after the accident.

A Navy dredge last week struck what at first was believed to be the wreckage about two and one-half miles from the end of the Hamilton jet runway. But Navy divers from Alameda Naval Air Station yesterday discovered the dredge had merely hooked a telephone cable.

SENTENCE

Bank of San Diego was $3,740,000.

Last year, when he was arrested, Hendrickson was charged with aiding and abetting George A. Hewlett in the embezzlement of a lesser sum. Hewlett was found dead in a Long Beach parking lot a few days prior to the Hendrickson arrest. Hewlett had gone to a play with his wife, excused himself, went to a parking lot and shot himself to death.

He had written a note to his wife, saying, "this is the only way," and adding, "No one else is involved in this horrible mess or has the slightest knowledge of it except Johnnie Hendrickson. We have not used any of this ourselves. It's all gone to John."

Hewlett was a rising young executive and had just been named manager of the branch bank, the former Long Beach National Bank, following its merger with the San Diego banking institution. Investigation of his death and his note led federal authorities to Hendrickson, head of furnace and heating manufacturing plants at Sebastopol and Los Angeles. And invesigation led to charges of the larger sum of money.

Hendrickson had started out as a plumber, went broke and went into other businesses.

VFW At Mill Valley Seats New Officers

Joseph King has been installed as the new commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Muir Woods Post 6741 of Mill Valley.

Kentfield Incorporation Discussion Scheduled

The Kentfield Civic League last night reopened the subject of Kentfield's incorporation and decided to hold a membership meeting — probably in September — to discuss the possibility.

"It's a burning question and something that should be looked into," said president Albert H. Gommo.

Within two weeks the league will send out 2,700 questionnaires, along with notification of dues, which include several queries on residents' feelings toward incorporation.

"Nobody at this point is able to say incorporation is a good idea or bad. It must be evaluated in relation to assessed valuations, what can be expected in financial assistance from various sources, and budget requirements," Commo said.

The subject of incorporation was considered by the league three or four years ago, but was not favored at that time.

However, Gommo noted, "times change" and residents may now want incorporation. The league is not at this point recommending it, but is recommending a re-evaluation of the "whys and wherefores," he said.

Between now and September a committee will work on plans for the general meeting.

The president noted that since the subject came up there had been a growth in the area, and a number of communities about the same size as Kentfield had incorporated. "As long as Novato led off with the idea, we can follow through," he said.

In a questionnaire submitted to residents last year, most responses said, "Let's keep Kentfield the natural community it is," Gommo said.

Maybe incorporation would help keep it that way, he speculated.

ELECTIONS

nine aspirants (including two incumbents) for three seats.

Mill Valley City Hall precinct had 85 votes by noon out of 518 registered. The Mill Valley election found six candidates for three council seats and a two-way contest for city treasurer. Mill Valley had the highest absentee ballot total—72—of any city in Marin.

Extremely heavy morning voting was reported also in Belvedere, where there are 10 names on the ballot for three council seats. Of about 1,000 registered, 244 voted by noon.

Novato, holding its second city election in three months (the first made it a city) reported 355 votes by noon out of 4,835 registered at the five polling places. Five candidates are on the Novato ballot, three of them incumbents seeking re-election and the other two aspirants who failed of election to the council in January.

Fairly heavy voting was reported in San Anselmo, where four candidates (one the incumbent mayor) are out for two council seats and there is a two-way race for treasurer. At Yolansdale School, 74 had balloted by noon; at the city hall, 68.

Fairfax firehouse had received 63 ballots by noon. Three candidates are in the field for two Fairfax council seats, none an incumbent.

Larkspur, with a bitter nineway race for three city council seats, and all incumbents seeking re-election, plus a two-candidate contest for city clerk, was the scene of a heavy morning turnout. By noon, 477 of 2,476 voters had cast ballots. Only at the Busse Realty polling place was the vote reported light.

At the Corte Madera Town Hall, 110 had voted by noon—"about normal," according to election officials. At the only other Corte Madera polling place, in Mariner Cove, 54 ballots had been cast by mid-day. Corte Madera has a three-candidate race for two council seats.

Cities Asked For Fire Tax Suggestions

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today decided that city councils will have to bring in requests for taxing areas outside cities and fire districts for structural fire protection.

The decision, made informally, came after a discussion touched off by a letter from Ronald A. Piper, Larkspur city manager and acting secretary of the Marin County Council of Mayors.

Piper informed the supervisors of the action of the mayors' group in endorsing the concept of less taxation by city taxpayers for the county fire department.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman said that while the mayors' group is a fine group there is lack of understanding of the problem. He said the people who live in cities pay 55 per cent of county taxes and because of this pay for a good share of the support of the county fire department.

He added that the mayors' group should contact city councils to ask for formal action. "Then," he said, "we will have to look into a way that this can be done." He said that the problem is not a new one and that no one had ever offered to find a way to change it legally.

Other supervisors went along with his thinking.

Lost Purse Found; Merely A Mixup

A purse lost during a county job examination at San Rafael High School Saturday has been recovered, San Rafael police reported today.

Miss Stella Hughes of the personnel commission, who conducted the examination, said the purse, belonging to Joan Cannizzaro of Glenwood, was found in another job applicant's car. She said it appears to be just a case of a mixup.

Youth Injured In Car-Bike Collision

Richard Allen Bright, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Bright of 265 Miller avenue, Mill Valley, was hit by a taxi yesterday while riding his bicycle.

Bright was resting at home today. His mother said he was being watched by a doctor for possible head injuries.

The boy was riding his bike on the sidewalk on Miller avenue when he was hit by a cab driven by James Roger Collins at about 1:40 p.m., reported Capt. Joe Canet of Mill Valley police.

Former Marinite Dies At Age 85

Fred Hawken, 85, a former co-owner of the Fairfax Lumber Co. and long-time Marin resident, died March 28 in a Stockton hospital.

He and his wife, Mrs. Jane Hawken, formerly lived at 15 Nokomis avenue, San Anselmo. Hawken came to the county about 1924, and become co-owner of the lumber company. He sold out his interest in 1945.

Private funeral services were held in Sacramento the day following his death.

Fairfax Names Cordes Permanent Police Chief

Clifton C. Cordes was unanimously appointed permanent chief of police of Fairfax by the Fairfax City Council last night.

The appointment provides for a six-month probationary period and a starting salary of $530 a month.

Chief Cordes scored 85.7 out of a possible 100 points in a civil service examination last week. The then captain and acting chief was the only person to take the examination, although the four patrolmen serving under him were also eligible.

The city council denied James Cusumano a permit to add a third story on his apartment house at 235 Bolinas road. The council followed the recommendation of the city planning commission.

Cusumano, present at the meeting, contested the reasoning for not allowing another story. The council requested city planning commission chairman W. E. Radtke to explain for them.

Radtke told Cusumano that the apartment has more units than a lot of 7,500 square feet should contain. "Generally, the decision is based on what is considered good planning," Radtke said. He said Fairfax must "be geared toward spacious country living" and that "we don't want this city to be like San Francisco."

An angry council heard what was supposed to be a report by Building Inspector Robert Roy on a home being built on Deerpark drive by Gale Braith. The report was in the form of a narrative dialogue, apparently between the builder and the inspector. The report, reading like a TV script, discussed the construction of the building but never reached a conclusion as to whether it satisfied building codes.

"This report is obviously facetious and either we get another report or we get another inspector," said Mayor Edward A. Smith. "I don't think Roy is either a good playwright or a comedian."

Braith, councilmen said, has been building his house for seven years. "Although it may look abominable to some people, if it satisfies the building codes we have no right to stop him," said Vice Mayor Albert Fox.

City Atty. Wallace S. Myers suggested adoption of a new plumbing code requested earlier by the council. It would require that no plumbing construction be permitted except by licensed contractors. Councilmen objected that they thought it unconstitutional.

A home owner "has an American right to do his own work," said Fox. He added that he thought the intention of the council was only to amend the fees in the code. The matter was tabled.

The city attorney pointed out there was no provision in the law for extending a garbage collection contract without opening bids. This bidless extension had been done in 1950, according to Wallace, and the present garbage collection franchise is due to expire. Wallace was instructed by the council to look further into the matter and report at the May 9 meeting.

The council instructed Street Supt. Charles N. Thornton to have plans and specifications drawn for $11,000 worth of overlay work on Fairfax streets.

The council introduced an amendment to the building code adding a requirement for curbs and gutters.

It was suggested that fire and police personnel be required to take yearly physical examinations. Mayor Smith instructed the city clerk to inquire if county health department services could be obtained for the examinations.

City Clerk Alice Leonesio announced that a special meeting to swear in newly elected officers will be held next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the council chambers.

Roaming Dogs Protested

The Fairfax City Council got its "dog letter" last night.

City Clerk Alice Leonesio read a letter from Charles V. Snyder of 41 Westbrae drive.

"Some law must be made," wrote Snyder. "My neighbors loose their dogs on my property after I go to sleep . . . I need protection for my property . . . After complaining to one dog owner for the fifth time he threatened me with a gun."

Mayor Edward A. Smith said it would be impractical to try to control Fairfax dogs. "It is a countywide problem and perhaps should be handled by them," Smith said.

Snyder mentioned also in the letter that he owns two dogs.

Youths Nabbed For Pellet Gun Holdup

Two 15-year-old boys from Mill Valley, armed with a loaded pellet pistol, robbed two 9-year-old boys of a dime on a Mill Valley street at noon yesterday.

Caught and booked at county jail four hours later, the two youths told police they spent the loot to buy more ammunition for their pellet gun.

Officers Dan Terzich and William Walsh gave this account of the robbery: The younger boys, walking along Throckmorton avenue, found a dime on the sidewalk. They were flipping for the coin to see who would get it and dropped the dime on the sidewalk.

Two older boys, who had gone swimming, happened to be passing by and heard the metallic clink. They walked up to the 9-year-olds and demanded they give them the money. One of the younger boys clutched his dime and said, "Why should I?"

The 15-year-old with the pellet gun whipped out his weapon, pointed it at the youngster's head and took the dime away. The victims ran home and told their parents, who called police.

Terzich and Walsh caught the suspects on Miller avenue about 4 p.m.. They admitted taking the money. They said they had spent it right away. Officers said the only explanation they could give for the robbery was, "We needed the money."

The suspects were transferred to Marin Juvenile Hall.

New Rules Set On Interviews Of Condemned

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Backing up its ban on Death Row news conferences, the state Corrections Department has issued new rules for interviews with condemned prisoners.

They include a flat prohibition against the use of recording devices and a stipulation that movies may be made only with the inmate's consent and "for news purposes only."

Richard A. McGee, state corrections director, said the regulations are designed to give the public the information to which it is entitled "and at the same time provide for the orderly conduct of the administration of criminal justice."

AFTER PROTESTS

The department had ruled out Death Row press conferences following protests against those held by Caryl Chessman after his dramatic reprieve by Gov. Edmund G. Brown Feb. 19.

Other new rules provide:

Reporters must request interviews in writing.

Interviews will be during regular visiting hours in "an appropriate room" designated by the warden.

If numerous interview requests are made, there may be a pool interview by one reporter each from newspapers, wire services, foreign press, radio and television plus one movie photographer and one still photographer.

DECISIONS FINAL

No condemned man shall be interviewed on the day of or day preceding his execution.

Decisions by the warden of San Quentin or the California Institution for Women will be final, McGee said.

The director earlier told a legislative committee he was hoaxed into permitting the filming of "Justice and Caryl Chessman," a 43-minute film featuring the condemned convict-author.

Bridges Held Vital To Gate Authority Plan

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco Port Commissioners want private as well as public ports, and particularly all bridges—included in the proposed Golden Gate Authority.

"Everybody must get in or it won't work," Port Authority Chairman Cyril Magnin said yesterday. He spoke at a hearing held by the Golden Gate Authority Commission, studying the feasibility of an all-embracing agency for bridges, harbors and airports in the area.

Only public facilities have been discussed in previous considerations of the authority.

Magnin said private ports could remain private but work within the authority framework.

Henry Budde, vice chairman of the San Francisco Authority, as well as Magnin, emphasized that inclusion of all bridges is essential because they provide major revenue.

Budde also insisted that the up-river docks at Stockton and Sacramento be required members.

County Historical Society To Hear 'Bolinas Story'

"The Bolinas Story" with its Spanish grandees, shipwrecks, stagecoach robbery, and mining era will be unfolded at a meeting of Marin County Historical Society Thursday at the E Street School, San Rafael, at 8 p.m. Several authorities on the early days of the picturesque beach resort will take part in a panel discussion to be conducted by Florence Donnelly.

Speakers will be Thomas Barfield, San Francisco attorney who is a part-time resident of Bolinas and has made a study of Mexican land grants; Mrs. Lewis G. Pepper, the former Marin Waterhouse, whose father owned a large section of land at Bolinas, where she was born; Mrs. Guy Milner, who will tell of the Monarch butterflies which come to Bolinas to winter as regularly as the swallows return to Capistrano in the spring, and Roy Graves, who will talk on transportation from Bolinas by schooner and stage coach.

The meeting is open to the public.

Grand Jurors Urge Juvenile Hall Haste

Marin County Juvenile Hall in Lucas Valley is so overcrowded that the proposed construction of a new hall should proceed post-haste, the Marin County Grand Jury declared today in an interim report.

"At the present time juvenile hall contains 20 inadequate, outmoded sleeping units, and is housing approximately 40 juveniles and at times more, nevessitating doubling up in single rooms," the grand jurors pointed out. "A report of projected needs on juvenile hall facilities made in November, 1957, indicated the necessity for 40 beds by the time the population of Marin County reached 122,000, and the need for 60 beds by the time the population reached 148,000. The current census will probably show that we have already exceeded this latter figure."

The Marin County Board of Supervisors has authorized the construction of a new juvenile hall in three separate phases. Twenty sleeping units and other necessary additions will be built with each phase.

Under present plans, phrase one is to start soon, phase two to start in 1962 with possible completion in December of 1962, phase three will probably not be completed until December of 1964, and the final phase will probably not be completed until 1966.

Since the county's population has already reached the point where 60 beds are needed now, the grand jurors urge construction of phase two at the earliest possible date, either concurrently with phase one or immediately following so that it may be a continuous process. The grand jury also urges that kitchen facilities be incorporated in an earlier phase rather than postponed to phase three if at all possible.

"In order to avoid the situation of continued chronic overcapacity of juvenile hall," the report concludes, "we recommend that there be uninterrupted construction of all phases until final completion."

The report is signed by Foreman Oliver J. Olson Jr. and secretary George W. Thierbach.

Novato Trustees To Meet Tonight

A review of applications for vacant teaching positions in the Novato Unified School District will be held tonight at 8 o'clock by trustees in the district office at 1015 Seventh street.

Supt. William J. J. Smith said about 25 vacancies from kindergarten through high school must be filled for the next school year.

Ralph Giovanniello, district curriculum coordinator, will report on the kindergarten program. A report will also be given on the summer school enrollment. Principals for the summer program will be appointed.

Drug Addict Suspected In Burglary

A thief believed to be a drug addict pried open a rear door of the Corte Madera Pharmacy at 18 Tamalpais drive, Corte Madera, and stole about $75 worth of narcotics and $10.75 in change, Chief Frank Nelson reported today.

The theft occurred late Sunday or early yesterday, the chief said. It had "all the earmarks of the work of a drug addict," he reported.

The thief used a jimmy bar to enter the store, then opened a cabinet in the rear and took a number of drugs, including such potent ones as morphine, cocaine, codeine phosphate and opium powder, the chief said.

The wholesale value of the drugs is about $75, owner Bernard Kaplan of 48 Elm avenue, Larkspur, reported. Kaplan discovered the break-in when he opened the store yesterday.

The cash—all in half dollars and quarters—was taken from the open drawer of the cash register. No other items were taken from the store.

Edna Maguire 9 Beats Twin Cities School

Edna Maguire School of Mill Valley yesterday defeated Larkspur-Corte Madera School 8-3 in a baseball game at Mill Valley.

John Hammond, with three hits, and Chuck Locati with two, led the Mill Valley 11-hit attack. Pat Smith was the winning pitcher, allowing four hits and striking out 10.

At the end of 1957, a total of 326 common stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange had paid cash dividends consecutively for 25 years or more.

Rambler wins again! Under official USAC supervision, a Rambler American Custom scored best gas mileage of all cars—28.35 M.P.G.—in the 17th running of the Mobilgas Economy Run. All cars were equipped with automatic transmission—and were chosen at random by USAC officials from dealer showrooms or factory assembly lines.

No car owner should expect to match in everyday driving the mileage achieved in this test by Rambler or any of the other cars. However, this test provides additional proof that Rambler delivers best gas mileage wherever you drive.

NICE OF HIM TO DRIVE ALL THE WAY BACK

FARMINGTON, Utah (AP)—It was late at night, and Paul Thompson's wife and two children were asleep in a camper in back when he stopped his pickup truck here to ask directions.

Before he climbed back into the truck, the Norwalk man shone his flashlight into the camper—just to make sure no one had gotten out during the pause. His wife thought he was signaling her.

Sleepily, she climbed down to see what he wanted—just in time to watch the truck pull away without her.

June Primary Attracts Big Field In State

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A big field of 385 candidates will battle for congressional and legislative nominations this June in California's first primary election since the repeal of crossfiling.

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced today that 211 Democrats, 172 Republicans and two Prohibitionists have filed for the 130 seats. Filing closed April 1.

SEATS AT STAKE

At stake are the state's 30 seats in the House of Representatives, all 80 Assembly seats and 20, or half, the Senate posts.

The contest takes on added political importance because the 1961 Legislature will reapportion Assembly and Congressional seats.

It will be the first primary since the 1959 Legislature abolished crossfiling. Under the crossfiling system, a candidate could be elected in June by filing for and winning both party nominations. It can still be done, but only by victory in one's own party plus sufficient write-in votes to capture the other party's nomination.

97 FOR CONGRESS

There are 97 candidates for the 30 congressional seats, 60 for the state Senate and 228 for the Assembly.

Eight lucky candidates will get a free ride in the June 7 primary, unopposed on their own or rival party tickets.

DEMOS HOLD EDGE

The Democrats now hold a 45-32 edge in the Assembly with three vacancies, and have a 28-12 margin in the Senate. The state's congressional delegation is 16-14 Democratic.

Candidates will have until Monday to file for the nomination for the Kern County Assembly seat left vacant last week by the death of Assemblyman Dorothy M. Donahoe (D-Bakersfield).

Boat Facilities To Be Discussed

The boating facilities committee of the Marin County Development Foundation Inc. will hold a meeting to discuss boating usage of the San Rafael Canal Thursday at 2 p.m. in Room 304, Independent-Journal Building, San Rafael.

Carroll A. Snyker, executive vice-president, said the two main items on the agenda were: word from Washington that money will not be coming out of the 1960-61 budget for canal dredging; and the recent canal survey made by the District Engineers indicating almost standard depths for boating and the reports of problems reported due to shallow depths.

U.S. Unemployment Rises During March

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment jumped 275,000 in March, the biggest increase for a March since World War II. Employment declined to 253,000.

The Labor Department, reported these figures today, blamed the darkened job picture almost entirely on heavy snows and generally bad weather in March. It predicted a sharp rebound in April.

Employment dropped from 64,520,000 in February to 64,267,000 in March. Normally, employment increases during March by about 450,000.

Unemployment rose from 3,931,000 to 4,206,000. Normally, the idle total declines by about 180,000 in March as compared with February.

The figures meant that 94.6 per cent of all Americans seeking work had jobs in March, but that 5.4 per cent of job seekers couldn't find employment.

Seymour Wolfbein, Labor Department manpower chief, said an indication of the March weather's impact on the job situation was a one-million increase in the number of people usually working full time who worked only part time during the mid-March survey week. The total of such workers rose to 2,200,000 in March Wolfbein added that he saw nothing in the figures warranting fear of an economic decline. He noted, however, that there have been some job layoffs in the auto industry.

One factor contributing to the employment decline was a drop of about 650,000 in farm employment to a March total of 4,565,000—the lowest farm job total for any month in many decades, possibly since before the turn of the century.

Citizen Committee For Water Bonds To Be Discussed

An informal meeting will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at offices of the North Marin County Water District in Novato to discuss organization of a citizen committee for support of the water bond program to be placed before the voters in June.

"During the past year," said Jerome B. Gilbert, general manager and chief engineer of the district, "the district has been engineering a water supply and system improvement program to meet the needs of the expanding North Marin area.

"Negotiations for purchase of water from the Sonoma County Flood Control and Water Conservation District are being concluded this month and plans are being considered to place a water bond program before the voters at the election of June 7.

"In order to inform the voters and to have a successful election, the support of a citizen group is essential."

He said that tonight's meeting will discuss organization of a committee and plans necessary to initiate a favorable election. All interested in working for the water program are asked to turn out.

School Bid Opening Set For Tuesday

The Sausalito School District board will open bids for a new school in Marin City at the meeting at 8 p.m. next Tuesday in the district office.

The date for the board meeting was changed from Monday to Tuesday, Supt. Marcus F. Davis said, to enable architects to have an added day to submit their bids.

At last night's meeting, the trustees:

1. Reviewed the 1960-61 school budget and put it over for discussion until next week.

2. Postponed action on a raise in teacher salaries until April 19 to see what the budget will stand.

3. Discussed the possibility of adopting a new policy of supervision of the playground and cafeteria by non-certificated employees instead of teachers.

4. Agreed to send four people to a one-week cafeteria supervisor summer school program at San Jose State College, June 20-25. The four are Mrs. Delores Quadros, Mrs. Alice Evans and Mrs. Margaret Shimmin, cafeteria supervisors, and Mrs. Mary Laviolette, secretary at the district office.

5. Agreed to match a $200 fund given by Loren Jay on behalf of the Richardson Bay Parent-Teachers Assn. for purchase of library books for the school.

6. Approved warrants of $8,109 for the general fund, $289 for child care center and $1,119 for special reserve fund.

Jail Term Given To Check Forger

Mrs. Dorothy J. Boothe, 28, Novato clerical worker, must serve one year in county jail for forging a series of checks.

She was sentenced yesterday by Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court. The judge put her on five years' probation on condition she serve a year at the San Francisco County Jail and make restitution for the bad checks. If she violates probation, she has a state prison term hanging over her head.

Mrs. Boothe was arrested last February on a complaint by her employer, who said she had forged his name to cash checks. Mrs. Boothe admitted passing $835 worth of bad checks.

Cuban Plane Crew Asks U.S. Asylum

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Cubana Airlines flight crew brought their airplane to Miami on a regular run today, then asked for political asylum.

The three crew members, joined by one passenger, said the Cuban government is infiltrated by communism and they want no part of it.

The plane landed safely, but two of its engines burned out after it reached the ground.

The crew was greeted by Eduardo Whitehouse, Cuba's civil aviation chief under the ousted Batista dictatorship. He said he had a hunch that the defectors were en route.

The crew members added that another reason for their disenchantment with the government of Premier Fidel Castro is that they were forced into the Cuban Air Force although employed at the same time by Cubana.

San Anselmo Teachers Turn Down Pay Plan

Instead, a Ross Valley Teachers Assn. report recommended to the district board an overall teacher pay hike of 6 per cent.

The merit pay plan had been suggested by a San Anselmo administration committee. It would have retained a set pay scale, but given bonuses to "outstanding" teachers.

In rejecting the plan, a "tentative" statement by the teachers association stated members "agree in principle with the recognition for exceptional service, but reject merit pay for such service."

The statement went on to say that scholarships, extended study in the U.S. and foreign countries and leaves to observe outstanding educational systems should take the place of merit pay for "outstanding" teachers.

The rejection of the merit pay plan also will go to the Fairfax and Kentfield boards, who undertook the study with San Anselmo.

The school board heard a recommendation from the teachers association that the pay scale be increased 6 per cent on all levels. The scale now ranges from $4,600 to $8,000.

Also recommended were a 3 per cent increase for those with masters' degrees, 5 per cent for those with doctors degrees, no matter what step on the scale.

The report stated that cost of living in the county, from December, 1958, to December, 1959, had risen 3 per cent.

In other business, the board:

1. Heard a report from psychologist William Berzman on tests given sixth grades in English, arithmetic and reading. Tests showed work was needed to strengthen student knowledge of some areas of arithmetic, said Berzman.

2. Approved appointment of Donald Kirkpatrick, seventh grade teacher at Sleepy Hollow, as principal of the summer school session, June 22-July 22.

3. Set June 13 as the day for opening of bids on sandblasting and painting the remodeled part of Isabel Cook School.

4. Accepted resignations of Mrs. Angela DeGear, Wade Thomas School; Mrs. Barbara Grant, Mrs. Frances Rouda and Mrs. Catherine Momceau, Sleepy Hollow School; Jan Jaegling and Mrs. Charlene Travaglini, Brookside; Mrs. Janis Williams and Jacqueline Ingersen, Isabel Cook.

5. Agreed to schedule an adjourned meeting April 20 for budget study. Next regular meeting is May 9.

Transit Directors To Hear Report

Directors of the five-county Bay Area Rapid Transit District will hold a regular meeting Thursday at 2 p.m. in the district's assembly room, 985 Flood Building, San Francisco.

Included on the agenda, according to General Manager John M. Peirce, will be a progress report on engineering studies.

The second April meeting of the board will be held at 10 a.m. on April 28.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

It Won't Be Long Until State Legislature Meets Annually

Last week the special session of the 1960 state legislature finally adjourned, a week after the regular budget session had concluded.

California's peculiar legislative setup, which calls for a regular session on odd numbered years and a 30-day budget session in even numbered years, had once again run its course.

Using his prerogative, Gov. Edmund G. Brown called two special legislative sessions this year to run simultaneously with the budget session. In the second, he incluuded just one item, capital punishment. This was quickly disposed of by the solons and the second special session adjourned.

The first special, however, was a different matter. The governor put nearly two score items on the agenda. There were such major things as the automobile anti-smog bill, the master plan for higher education, and the Squaw Valley million dollars emergency fund.

He also included such innocuous matters as permitting governmental agencies to use each other's grape juice tests and permitting the State Bar to increase its annual membership fees.

He did not include such requested items as a new attack on narcotics violators, revision of the state water program, or reorganization of state government.

There is more than a little sentiment in Sacramento that the state has grown too big for such arbitrary determination of what the legislators may or may not consider when they are in session.

Many feel, too, that the rush of an election year and a special session doesn't leave enough time for careful consideration of issues.

For example, as the bill requiring smog eliminators in cars was being passed, one assemblyman said to another, "I wonder how many people in this room realize we are voting on a proposition more expensive than the state water plan?"

He was basing his estimate on approximately eight million cars in California. Each one now must install a smog eliminator which might cost $200. There is no guarantee the price won't be that high, because the Assembly refused to put on a $100 limit.

If it were that high, the cost of those alone would be one billion, 600 million dollars plus other millions from new cars which will be purchased in the immediate future. The whole state water plan is to cost only one billion 750 million.

There is another angle, too. The state's legislators are this November asking the voters for a 50 per cent salary increase, from $500 to $750 per month. If they get the raise, some people are saying, they should work every year, not just every other year in regular session.

In any event, it shouldn't be long before a growing California will force its lawmakers to meet each year in order to get the state's business done in an orderly and sensible manner.

What Lincoln Said About Labor

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As a subscriber to your paper, from time to time I have noticed editorials and cartoons attacking Labor. Will you please be fair enough to print the following:

"If any man tells you he loves America yet hates Labor, he is a liar. If any man tells you he trusts America yet fears Labor, he is a fool. There is no America without Labor."

Abraham Lincoln said those words at Springfield,. Ill., on Oct. 1, 1854.

Private Medical Plans Can't Work

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

My compliments to Dr. Paul O'Rourke and William Dempster for their thoughtful letters on medical care for the elderly. They join Basil C. MacLean, M.D., recently retired president of national Blue Cross who recently stated: "experience has led me at last to conclude that the costs of care for the aged cannot be met, unaided, by the mechanisms of insurance or prepayment as they exist today."

I do not myself criticize voluntary plans or commercial carriers for their failure to provide adequate comprehensive coverage for citizens over 60 or 65. They simply cannot do this, individually, and stay in business: they will lose out to other carriers whose premiums can be lower because they do not cover elderly risks.

Just a glance at two facts reported recently by Health Information Foundation show what they're up against: Persons 65 and over average 7.6 annual out-of-hospital visits with doctors; this is 40% higher than the average of 5.3 for the entire population including the elderly. Again the National Health Survey reports the admission rate to short-stay hospitals are about 20% higher for persons 65 or over than for the total population. You cannot provide comprehensive coverage for such a high-cost group and keep your premiums down for the lower age brackets.

But I do criticize commercial carriers and voluntary plans and organized medicine when they try to block the only possible approach to a solution of this increasingly serious social problem. Of course, virtually every advance in this general field over the past two generations has been opposed by the medico-politicians: including the American Hospital Association and Blue Cross; so we should not be too surprised.

AMA deserves unstinted praise for its work in protection against nostrums and quackery, for its sponsorship of "refresher" conferences and institutes for doctors — and unstinted condemnation for its blind opposition to progress in providing comprehensive medical care for people of all ages and walks of life.

Recently I reviewed a dozen or more commercial plans for a medium-size employee group seeking a reasonably broad coverage health plan. Very few would provide continuation of coverage past age 65 even if the coverage was purchased while gainfully employed at an earlier age. Those that did provide coverage hedged it with reduced benefits or increased rates or both.

The much-touted "65 Plus" commercial plans offer a good public relations argument with no real substance: preexisting conditions are not covered, coverage is far from comprehensive and premiums are much too high for income which frequently reduces sharply with retirement. And if you set up a system for "screening" out those who are able to pay, you raise the administrative costs substantially.

There is no practical alternative but for we who are younger to pay now for the medical and health security of those older—confident that we will be similarly covered in our turn.

HIGH PRICE FOR GENEROSITY

Trying to be a gentleman cost a gentleman $50 in Milwaukee not long ago.

When a woman autoist became ill, the 63-year-old man volunteered to drive her home in her car. But his noble gesture was short-lived. He hadn't gone two blocks before police, checking on motorists, found that he was without a driver's license.

When he appeared in court, the judge imposed a $50 fine.

Don't be surprised if difficulties, misunderstandings, and even downright ingratitude test your sincerity when you are working for the best interests of others. The Lord Himself paid this price for befriending the poor, the ill and the outcast.

In fact, it will be a real proof of your love for God if you persevere in seeking the well-being of others, especially those in need.

You will know in your own heart that you have done your part regardless of how others treat you. Better still, God sees that you have triumphed over discouragement and He will reward you for it.

"If the world hates you, know that it has hated Me before you."—(John 15:18)

Thanks to You, O generous Father, for the countless blessings You shower on all of us.

Psychiatrist Could Go Psycho Listening To These Tired Quips

"What do you guys really think about while patients are telling you their troubles?"

"How come you charge my wife $30 an hour to listen to her — and I've been listening to her 25 years for nothing?"

"Enough of my worries, doc. Now you lie down on the couch and tell me what's on your mind."

"No, he's not a real doctor. He's one of those head shrinkers."

"Now don't you try to tell me I secretly hated my mother. Why, when she died, I bought her the biggest headstone in the cemetery."

"Ever since I got that letter from the International Revenue Service, I've had the feeling I'm being followed. Is that a delusion of persecution, or a delusion of grandeur?"

"Night after night I have this weird dream of flying through the air with my neighbor's wife. I can't understand it. She's the homeliest dame in the block."

"Before I lie down, I'd like to ask you one thing. Do you accept credit cards."

"My problem is that lately my wife seems to be getting better looking. Do you think it's my eyes that are going—or could it be my mind?"

"It's about my husband. He mumbles in his sleep. No, I don't want to cure him. I just want you to find a way to make him speak more clearly."

"You're my last hope, doc. Just answer me one question. Can psychiatry help baldness?"

"You psychiatrists must have your own troubles, too. Who do you tell them to?"

"We have a mother-in-law problem in our home. Whose story do you want to listen to first—hers, my wife's or mine?"

"IT'S ABOUT my drinking. After my eighth martini, my mind begins to wander. Do you think I should switch to vodka?"

"Can a neurosis cause fat? The reason I ask is — ever since my wife started acting neurotic I've been putting on weight."

"NOW DON'T tell me what I need is a new hobby. My husband has a new hobby, and that's why I'm here. His hobby is his secretary."

"The way I diagnose it myself is that I've got an inferiority complex. Lately I been getting the feeling I'm dumber than my boss."

TO PROVE YOU'RE YOU

Some Day You May Be Glad Census Counted You

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — You may be glad some day that the census taker counted you 'way back in April 1960.

People who can't locate a birth certificate often find that the Census Bureau can furnish an acceptable substitute—a copy of the information listed about them in census files.

Nearly one billion names, together with identifying data, are filed in an agency warehouse at Pittsburg, Kan. The billion names include many duplications, of course, since a census is taken every 10 years.

You can find out what the files say about you by paying $3-$4 if you want the information in a hurry. Before sending any money, you should get an application form by writing to the bureau's Personal Census Service Branch, at Pittsburg.

Use of the census files spurted in the late 30s with the advent of the Social Security program. Many people had to supply proof of age in order to get coverage. About 200,000 people a year now use the agency's special service and 3½ million have done so since 1936.

Proof of age is not the only help the bureau can supply. Some people have to establish their relationship to someone else in order to claim their share of an estate. Such questions often can be settled through census records.

If you were counted in 1880, 1900 or 1920, finding your file should be a simple matter. WPA workers during the depression filed all the reports for those years in alphabetical order.

For other years, records are filed according to the communities in which people were counted. When you send in an application, you must give your address at the time of the census involved and the names of the people you lived with.

You can only apply for information about yourself. However, you can have your report sent to someone else. Even then, you will be notified if the record shows something that might embarrass you. Some people, for instance are counted in jail.

Phil Rizzuto, star Yankee shortstop now turned video announcer, nominates Leroy (Satchel) Paige as the greatest pitcher he ever saw. Once old Satch permitted Phil to advance as far as third base with nobody away, then called to him, "Stop jumping up and down on that base, boy. You ain't goin' nowhere!" He then proceeded to fan the side on 10 pitches.

After the game, Rizzuto asked Paige, "How come you needed 10 pitches?" Satch answered in all seriousness, "It was a lousy call. The Old Man never throws a bad ball at a time like that."

Audit Shows Tiburon Sanitary Directors Doing Pretty Good Job

(NOTE: A recent Reporter's Notebook dealing with the 3-R School appeared under the picture and by-line of Deedee Abramson. This was an error. The article was actually written by Bryce Anderson.)

With all of the interest in the Tiburon Sanitary District No. 5 recently, its annual audit comes in for a bit more scrutiny than usual.

The district's current tax rate of 60 cents per $100 assessed evaluation is the maximum rate allowed. According to district secretary Robert A. Sterling, "the actual costs of operation, as shown by audit, were less than 45 cents per $100 assessed evaluation. The remaining 15 cents go into the reserve savings fund."

He notes that the sum of $5,607 in connection fees received from new construction during the 1958-1959 year also was deposited in a reserve fund, available only for capital construction.

THE EVER-VIGILANT board of directors figures that further economies along the lines of actual costs of treatment are generally achieved through larger volume treatment plants. Since the present plant is now operating at near-capacity, the board is considering all possibilities of enlarging treatment facilities to achieve more economical operation.

Overhead (fixed costs) represent about 28 per cent of the budget, a sum far exceeded in most districts.

In 1923 the district tax rate was 15 cents per hundred, and in 1924 the district ended the fiscal year with a balance of 21 cents.

THE TREATMENT plant, located on Tiburon boulevard, represents an investment of moer than $160,000 at 1949 prices. A recent engineering estimate gave a value of more than $230,000 as a replacement cost.

From a perusal of the audit reports, it becomes apparent that the directors are doing all they can to plan for the increased population on the Tiburon peninsula without the present residents being prohibitively taxed for the future service.

MANY A LENGTHY discussion of a controversial subject by trustees of the Reed Union School District has been heightened by the somewhat dramatic antics of trustee Mrs. Ahleen Tresnon.

Mrs. Tresnon, who argues long and well for what she believes, is prone to show her pique by scribbling notes to herself on small pieces of paper and then crumbling them.

During a recent discussion of the school bond issue, when the board was divided 2 to 2 with a deciding vote cast only after hours of heated debate, trustees found themselves glaring with animosity at one another when it was all over.

There was a tense silence, broken only by the scraping of a match which Mrs. Tresnon lit. With all eyes upon her, she dramatically held up the piece of paper on which she had written her arguments for the plan which was voted down . . . and silently burned it in the ashtray.

As the flame flared up the tension broke and the animosity went out with the curled ashes. All of which proves even school board meetings have their dramatic moments!

Don't Count The Navy Out As America's First Line Of Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy—apostle of the moving duck theory as against the sitting duck—would like to be this country's first line of defense. It may never be, but it's making progress.

Since World War II, the sea-going arm of national defense has been overshadowed by the development of the fast, long-range bomber and the intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM).

Then the Navy began development of an atomic-powered submarine capable of firing the Polaris missile—with a nuclear warhead, 1,200 miles. In time it hopes to have 45 such subs. It has only two afloat now. None will be in operation till fall.

LAST WEEK President Eisenhower approved stepping up the production rate. In three years the Navy may have 21 of these submarines which can stay out of sight of an enemy, slip close to a continent, and start firing.

Each Polaris sub can fire 16 missiles.

An enemy would know the launching sites of this country's ICBMs and its shorter range missiles abroad because they'd be on fixed platforms, immovable. They'd then be sitting ducks for enemy missiles turned loose in a surprise attack.

BUT THE POLARIS submarines are like moving ducks whose locations would be unknown to an enemy and—in case an enemy began a missile attack on this country—could fire their own 1,200-mile range missiles against any enemy target.

Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, has argued that if a nuclear war started—since all the destruction would be on land on both continents—the Navy, not a stationary target, would be the only defense line left.

Burke doesn't sell the aircraft carrier short, either, and naturally, since he's an admiral. No matter what anyone else thinks of the future role of carriers, the Navy brass is high on them.

But there's a difference between the use of a carrier and the use of a Polaris submarine. The former would be at its best in a limited war, such as around Formosa. The Polaris-submarine missile would be mainly for all-out nuclear war.

BURKE HAS SPOKEN out a number of times on the two subjects:

"As long as you need manned aircraft for any type of warcraft, you'll need carriers. And you'll need manned aircraft as long as you need search and attack missions where you've got to look for your target before you strike it."

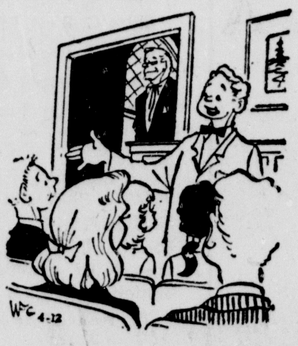
He has described the use of the Polaris sub this way:

It "is good for only one thing—to destroy cities. It's the best city destroyer in the world. It will destroy any city you want — any place, any time. That's all it's good for, though.

"It's no good for destroying a village. It's a good weapon for mass destruction. Carriers on the other hand can do mass destruction if they want to, but that is not their primary job."

The Navy also puts up this argument: A Polaris sub costs about 100 million dollars. Forty-five of them would cost 4½ billion dollars. But they would last for about 20 years.

The Country Parson



"When we're young we want to change the world — when we're old we're afraid our children will."

Probe Pledged After Complaints About Pool

The district attorney's office promised an investigation this afternoon of a deep pool in a San Rafael residential neighborhood which residents decry as a peril to their children.

The pool water is used to irrigate property surrounding the Colonial Motel, motel owner Charles Owens said. "There's nothing unlawful about it," he added.

The pool is just off Vineyard drive, almost opposite the home of Edward N. Rimola. The Rimolas and others in the neighborhoood have demanded some measure be taken to provide protection around the pool, or that it be filled in.

Owens said the pool has been there 25 to 30 years. He had it fenced about six to eight years ago, he said, and "the day after, the kids had cut the barbed wire."

Owens said it has been necessary to keep mending wire around the pool. "I'm going to fill it in," he said, but declined to say when.

Water in the pool was measured last year at about 10 feet deep.

Strands of barbed wire, widely spaced, now surround the hole, which is roughly 50 by 50 feet, with steeply sloping sides.

Privacy Of Homes Is Lynwood Topic

A solution to the problem of privacy for residents of Lynwood Park whose homes face the Leafwood Terrace apartments, under construction on Leafwood drive, will be sought at a meeting of the Lynwood Park Improvement Assn. at the Lynwood School at 8 o'clock tonight.

Association president Arthur W. Owen said occupants of the new apartments will look into the windows of Lynwood residents on Sunset parkway.

A mutual tree-planting project may be considered, Owen said.

Multiple zoning for the apartment sites was approved some time ago by the Marin County Board of Supervisors over the objection of the county planning commission, Owen said.

Cat Fanciers Here Elect

Elected as directors were Dr. Mary R. Jaros of Greenbrae, Mrs. Arne Kionig of Kentfield, R. D. Layman of Corte Madera, Robert Ebert of Sunnyvale and Frank Bucquoy of Concord.

It was announced the group's annual cat show will again be held in the Corte Madera Recreation Center. It is scheduled for Oct. 29-30.

After the meeting, Mel L. Morse, humane society director, showed the group new cat cages recently installed in the society's shelter. The cages were donated by the Marin fanciers.

Richardson Bay School Clerk Resigns Post

The Sausalito School District Board last night accepted the resignation of Mrs. Myna Lindberg, clerk at Richardson Bay School, to become effective July 1.

Mrs. Lindberg, who lives at 6 Tamal Vista, Corte Madera, has been with the district 15 years, according to Supt. Marcus F. Davis, and has reached the retirement age.

PLANNERS' DECISION

Corte Madera Says 'No' To Trampolines

The town's planning commission, after a public hearing last night, unanimously turned down luggage manufacturer H. M. Koch's proposal for a trampoline center on Tamalpais drive adjacent to the Corte Madera Shopping Center.

Commission chairman John Adlard said the trampoline center does not qualify as a conditional use under the town zoning ordinance. "It didn't fit into our idea of a shopping center," he reported.

Some of the commissioners also felt the center might become a health hazard or create a traffic problem.

Under Koch's plan, 20 trampolines would have been installed on the site for public jumping at a nominal fee. (The City of Novato has approved a similar trampoline layout for the Nave Shopping Center there.)

The commission unanimously approved a proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance that would automatically designate any land being annexed to the town as "R1A"—low density single residential zoning—for an interim period until the property could be zoned in conformity with the general plan.

In other matters, the commission:

1. Set a special meeting to consider a tentative map of the Russell Jones subdivision for April 27.
2. Approved architectural design and landscaping for a six-unit apartment house on Redwood avenue near Pixley avenue, to be built by Allison E. Schofield of Muir Beach.
3. Set for May 19 a hearing on a proposed amendment to an ordinance that would give Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wilkinson of Marina Village the right to rebuild on their lot at 2 Harbor drive at any time in the future they might wish to do so. Town acquisition of a seven-foot wide strip at the side of the lot, in connection with reconstruction of Paradise drive, reduces the lot to substandard size.
4. Announced it would elect officers at the May meeting.

Solon Warns Broadcasters To Cooperate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.) today advised the broadcasting industry and the Federal Communications Commission to cooperate with Congress in writing laws to outlaw quiz show rigging and payola.

Harris is chairman of a House subcommittee considering proposals for strict new curbs on television and radio.

"It seems that some elements in the industry are inclined to consider some of these questions in a rather jocular vein," he said.

Harris, in a statement opening an expected two days of hearings on various new broadcasting industry controls, also renewed criticism of the FCC.

He made an obvious reference to congressional charges that the FCC failed to perform its duties in cracking down on rigged TV quiz shows.

"The problem of legislating in these areas is not made any easier when there is some doubt whether the Congress can count on responsible cooperation on the part of the regulatory agencies whose job it is to administer broad delegations of power in the light of the rule of reason," Harris said.

Man Jailed After Crash

William Harold Cheek, 30, of 705 Monticello road, Terra Linda, suffered a bruised knee and got a drunken driving citation in a head-on two-car collision on Lincoln avenue in San Rafael yesterday.

Driver of the other car was Renee Maxine Myers of Santa Rosa, who told police she was headed north on Lincoln avenue about 4:50 p.m. when she saw a car heading in her direction on her side of the street. She tried to pull to the right but could not do so because of cars parked along the curb.

Cheek told police he did not know how his car got on the left side of the street. He was treated at Marin General Hospital for a bruised knee and booked in county jail. His wife bailed him out at 7:30 p.m.

FRIDAY MAY BE MOVING DAY IN MARIN CITY

A final inspection of the new low-rent housing project units will be made by the Marin County Housing Authority at 8 a.m. Friday and, after the signed acceptance of the units, tenants will be allowed to begin moving in.

Bert Klahn, executive director, said he thought the inspection and signing of the acceptance would be over by 9 a.m. and tenants might move in immediately.

Warning On Marin City Rents Issued

Bert Klahn, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority, issued a strong warning today to delinquent tenants that, unless they make prompt payment and clean up their records, they will not be admitted to the new low-rent project when it opens, presumably on Friday.

Klahn said this decision was made by the commissioners of the authority at their meeting yesterday.

"This means that the housing authority will no longer tolerate tenants with weak payment records and such tenants will be eliminated from the project by eviction," he declared.

Firm Plans Apartments Instead Of Factory

Colonial Wax Products Corp. of San Rafael will not put up a candle factory at Fairfax street and Bellam boulevard in the East San Rafael Assessment District.

Instead, the corporation is asking for a permit for an apartment building where the candle factory was formerly planned. The request is to come before the San Rafael Planning Commission at its meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the city hall.

The planners have an agenda of 20 items for tonight. They include a request to renew an expired use permit for a mortuary at Lincoln and Prospect avenues, request for a bakery manufacturing and sales office across the highway from Terra Linda, and several rezonings, variances and small subdivisions.

George B. Miller, co-partner with Martin Kuehl in a San Francisco mortuary, wants to renew a permit for a mortuary on the northwest corner of Lincoln and Prospect avenues. Miller got a use permit in 1957, which has expired. "We just want to keep the permit active," Miller explained. He said he has no immediate plans to put in a mortuary because he wants to wait until the highway widening at Puerto Suello Hill has been cleared up.

"Eventually, we hope to build a beautiful mortuary," Miller said. "But that will be some time yet." Plans call for a 10,000 square foot structure with 70 parking spaces.

D. R. Cullen wants to locate a bakery manufacturing and sales office in an existing building at 4180 Redwood highway, across the highway from Terra Linda. It is located at Joseph court and the highway frontage road.

Third public hearing is set for the proposed apartment zoning of an area bounded by Belvedere and Canal streets and Bellam boulevard.

A public hearing will be held on a chapel proposed by San Rafael Military Academy at Fifth and Cottage avenues.

Incorporation Move Made By Foundation

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced that Marin Medical Foundation of Marin County has filed articles with his office to form a non-profit corporation.

The foundation listed its directors as Rafael G. Dufficy, Jr., 4 G street, Leonard A. Thomas, 2417 Fifth avenue, Desmond MacTavish, 11 Treehaven drive, San Rafael.

Dodgers Open Defense Of World Title Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hopeful but not overconfident, the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers begin the defense of their National League championship against the Chicago Cubs in Memorial Coliseum tonight.

Some 50,000 fans are expected to be on hand when league President Warren Giles throws out the first ball just before 8 p.m. Clear but cool weather was predicted.

The attitude of the Dodgers was expressed, somewhat humorously, by Manager Walt Alston when he said:

"This club is not overconfident. In fact, there were a few days this spring when I wondered if we were the world champions."

The crack was made last night as the Dodgers, as well as the Cubs, were guests at the third annual party given for the local club by the Baseball Writers Assn. before some 1,200 fans in the Beverly Hilton Hotel ballroom.

Walter O'Malley the Dodger president, declared: "We are going to try to win another pennant back-to-back."

The individual hero of the evening was plucky Don Zimmer, the veteran Dodger third baseman who was traded to the Cubs last week. Charlie Grimm, the Cub manager, introduced Zimmer midway in the presentation of his players. At the instant Zimmer's name was mentioned the entire Dodger team seated on the dias arose as one cheered and clapped their hands. Zimmer, emotionally overcome, had to wipe tears from his eyes, but declined an invitation to go up and say a few words.

The Los Angeles writers honored Cubs shortstop Ernie Banks with a special award for meritorious service and contribution to baseball. Banks accepted and remarked that he was just as nervous "as I will be facing Don Drysdale in the opening game."

Royals Get Big O; Knickerbockers Draft Cal's Imhoff

NEW YORK (AP)—The big question among the National Basketball Assn. brass today was:

Will Oscar Robertson cast his lot with the league or will he go along with the Harlem Globetrotters?

They won't have their answer until after the Olympics this summer, because the towering University of Cincinnati All-America is a member of the U. S. team that will compete in Rome.

Robertson, who piled up a record-breaking 2,973 points during his collegiate career, was selected by the Cincinnati Royals at the annual NBA draft session yesterday.

All-Americas Jerry West of West Virginia and Darrall Imhoff of California, were drafted by the Minneapolis Lakers and New York Knickerbockers, respectively.

Lions Trade Off Fullback Johnson

Detroit traded Johnson, former San Francisco 49er, to Pittsburgh yesterday for the top Steeler draft choice in 1961 and 1962.

MARIN KEGLER BARELY MISSES PERFECT GAME

He cranked off 10 strikes, but left one pin standing on his next frame and had to settle for a 289. Although he missed his perfecto, Christian had the satisfaction of breaking Greenbrae's high single game of 280, held by Zeno Gelatti.

Christian's great effort came in a pot game after his Marin Bowl team defeated Diablo Bowling Supplies for the 830 League championship. The total pinnage was 2,699 to 2,677 for the three games. Mike Weddell's 612 and Christian's 594 paced the winners; Austin Crane's 568 was high for the losers.

Sal Sent To Tacoma

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants sent outfielders Sal Taormina, a veteran, and Mattie Alou, a rookie, to their Tacoma farm club in the Pacific Coast League today. The Giants also announced that veteran infielder Danny O'Connell is joining the Tacoma club. O'Connell had been given a release earlier by San Francisco to try to get on with another major league club.

Giants Open Chase For N.L. Pennant

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants took the wraps off their new ball park today as well as what is tabbed as a pennant-bound team when they opened the National League season against the St. Louis Cardinals.

Manager Bill Rigney of the Giants, pronouncing his club "in great shape," was scheduled to send Sam Jones out to the mound to face the Cards' Larry Jackson. Both are right handers. Jones, 21-15 last year and the league's best earned run average man with a 2.82 mark, turned back St. Louis four times last year without a loss. Jackson had a 2-3 record against the Giants in 1959.

A sellout crowd of 43,000 was expected to jam the streets leading to Candlestick Park, the new home of the Giants.

Both Rigney and Card manager Solly Hemus said they were pleased with the park after their teams went through wind-whipped workouts yesterday.

"This will be a better place for us to play than Seals Stadium," Hemus said, referring to the former Giants' park which has been razed. "We won't have that problem of the jet stream to left field which helped such batters as Ed Bressoud and Jim Davenport. They both hurt us with home runs in that old park."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon headed the list of dignitaries showing up for opening day. Others included Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, National League President Warren Giles, American League President Joe Cronin who is a hometown boy, Mrs. John McGraw and Ty Cobb.

Today's inaugural launched a clutch year for the Giants and Rigney. They set the pace in the National League for six weeks last season, then folded while losing seven of their last eight games. Since then, Rigney has been signed to a contract which calls only for one year while the team has shored up its pitching and defense.

The main acquisitions have been pitchers Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes from Baltimore, who should help spell the starting unit of Jones, Johnny Antonelli and Mike McCormick.

Marin Team Wins Marathon Race

Other Marin team members were Bill Ranney of San Rafael, Bob Hope of Mill Valley, Henry Stroughter of San Francisco, and William Mazzini of Cloverdale.

Test Set For Count Device

BOZEMAN, Mont. (UPI)—Promoters of the Gene Fullmer-Joey Giardello middleweight championship bout have announced a new electric knockdown timekeeper would be used in the fight, the first time such a device has been used for a title contest.

The device is the invention of Charles Reed of 26 Somerset lane, Mill Valley.

The timer counts off 10 seconds when a knockdown is registered, then automatically takes a picture of the ring, showing the position of the fighters to determine if there was a knockout.

Co-promoter Norman Rothschild said the knockdown timekeeper was being used in order to avoid controversy such as occurred last Friday in the Bartolo Soni-Lamar Clark heavyweight bout in Ogden, Utah.

Giant Pitching Worries Connolly; Fears Antonelli May Be Slipping

CONNOLLY

With or without a bottle, I cannot raise a faint glow of anticipation for a 1960 pennant for our S.F. Giants, unless I can tolerate the so called "strong pitching staff" that in a three-game stretch saw the team score 27 runs and lose all three games.

Whether you agree or not, you'll have to admit the ball club has power and defensive strength if it only can get pitching to match.

So far I've restrained myself from saying too much about the staffmen. Some of them are reaching the peak and others are on the way down.

I'd say Johnny Antonelli, the wise-cracking lefthander is off color in his work to date. He may be slipping.

Sam Jones, the ace of last year's mound crew, hasn't had any control and, while he is expected to be at his peak this season, could very well be headed for trouble. Ol' Sam, crowding 35 years of age, pitched in and out of turn in 1959 and might do it again with the season getting under way today.

But so far he hasn't proved it. I hope he will before long.

MIKE McCORMICK, in spots, is hot and cold. He could be coasting and I think he, more than either Antonelli or Billy O'Dell, might be the hottest flinger with the Rigneymen.

Jack Sanford, for some reason or other, just lacks the oomph of an ace performer. He throws hard, works hard and seems anxious, but just too jittery, to give any bench manager peace of mind. The only time I like Sanford is when he gets the last man out and the game is over. He hits me that way.

O'Dell, off his spring exhibitions, could be one of the best southpaws in the league. He has the know-how and the tools. All he needs is his share of luck and some runs in the early part of the game. I'd say that O'Dell, with a few runs spotted him, will be exceptionally hard to whip.

BILLY LOES may or may not make it. If he doesn't, he gave everybody the answer by saying his arm hurts every time he combs his hair.

Loes is on the safe side no matter what happens. He admits he's pitching all the time with pains in his arm and shoulder. So if he wins, he can credit his teammates; if he loses, his arm is to blame.

Stu Miller could see a lot of spring "starting" work. He'd like nothing better. Later in the season when the sun beams down on him the heat could get him a relief job only. I'd like to see Stu given a starting call. I'm sure he'll deliver.

The rest of the Giant pitching staff, will see limited service unless the starters hit the toboggan.

SO IF our Giants are to do what the experts think they can do — win the pennant — the pitching will have to be a lot greater and sharper and steadier than it has been to date.

Which makes the story of the 1960 Giants a bit cockeyed from the dope sheet.

My only worry as the boys tee off today is that the pitching so gloriously strong in numbers, isn't short in durability. Without a stout-hearted staff the Giants can make all the runs in the book and still find them short-enders at the finish.

The ghost of 27 runs in three games and still three defeats, just doesn't sit right with this old codger.

Boxer Near Death

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Charles Mohr, University of Wisconsin boxer who suffered a cerebral hemorrhage in a collegiate tournament, remained unconscious, feverish and in very critical condition today. Hospital authorities indicated late last night his chances for recovery grew slimmer hour by hour. His status was changed to very critical from critical.

Closing Of Hamilton Field Flats Brings Heavy Storm Of Protest

The closure of Hamilton Field flats to fishing by 78th Fighter Wing at Hamilton Air Base has caused an overwhelming protest campaign against the proposal.

The Marin Rod and Gun Club and sportsmen of the Bay Area have protested the contemplated action by bombarding the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers at 180 New Montgomery street, San Francisco, with letters, petitions and personal calls.

All protests must be sent to the above office before Thursday after which time a public hearing will be held.

The proposed danger area would extend 2½ miles beyond the shoreline in the shape of a wedge. North and souht boundaries of the perimeter would be the Hamilton Field pipeline and the Petaluma River channel where it enters the bay.

The danger zone purportedly is a protective measure for the base firing range. It was built 23 years ago and now suddenly is "dangerous." The abutment behind the target pits rises 10 feet.

By raising the height of the abutments the problem in question could be easily remedied.

Marin Rod and Gun Club representatives will meet with the Hamilton Field officials this week, when they will try to determine ways and means of keeping the area open to fishing.

However, if a settlement is not agreed upon, the officials of the Marin Rod and Gun Club will explore every avenue, along with every sportsmen's group, the Department of Fish and Game, and Federal representatives from Northern California.

Club Group Takes Conservation Tour

A committee of 12 officials and members of the Marin Rod and Gun Club toured northern Marin last Sunday checking every conservation problem, boat launching ramps, streams, reservoirs and every item appertaining to better conservation of our natural resources.

The group was headed by Rob Roy, who for years has been a staunch advocate of improving our streams, lakes and protecting lands from erosion.

First stop was at the proposed boat ramp at Black Point which received the approval of all present.

The caravan viewed Sausal Creek and recommended it should be check-dammed (it runs into Salmon Creek). Small dams should be constructed to stop erosion.

Many reservoirs have been built by land owners to catch run-off water in order to supply stock needs.

Headwaters of San Antonio Creek has been blocked so that normal flow never reaches the mouth of the stream on Petaluma River. We saw the great divide—where on one side of the mountain water flows to Sonoma on the northeast and emptys into San Pablo bay, while on the west side the water drains to the Pacific Ocean.

Stemple Creek area afforded good hunting years ago. Plenty of water this year in the lake at headwaters of Stemple Creek. We stopped at nearly every bridge, checked water flow and land elevation.

In another section, the Americano Creek was the division between Sonoma and Marin counties in the water flow.

We visited Tomales, Valleyford, Dillons Beach, Marshall and Nicasio.

Stemple Estero, where it emptys into the sea, has brackish water backed up for several miles.

At a later date the Point Reyes Peninsula and other sections will be visited by this committee.

Auxiliary Plans Rummage Sale For May 6-7

The auxiliary has set the dates of May 6 and 7 for its annual rummage sale, the proceeds of which go toward conservation projects. The location of the sale has not yet been definitely confirmed, but will be published later. Meanwhile, any members having items for the sale may bring them to the meeting at the club house on April 26, or contact Mrs. Carolyn Lato in Mill Valley at DUnlap 8-5957; Mrs. Elsie Ware in San Rafael at GLenwood 3-6769, or Mrs. Regina Murray in San Anselmo-Fairfax area at GLenwood 4-2827.

Entertainment chairman, Mrs. Lane Harrington, has arranged for an accordion recital following the meeting on April 26. The performers are pupils of Mrs. Margaret Maciel, an auxiliary member.

Helen Schacht was elected a director at the last meeting of the board of directors, to fill the unexpired term of Mildred Smith, and will be installed during the business meeting.

Mrs. Robert Sturges, fishing chairman, is planning a day at the pier on Monday, April 25, and the group will meet at the pier at 10:30 that morning. We are hoping the big ones will be down from the delta country by then.

Pt. Reyes Park Film Showing Scheduled

A pictorial presentation of the proposed Pt. Reyes Park project will be presented to the membership of the Marin Rod and Gun Club at their monthly meeting, Friday, April 15, 1960 at the clubhouse at Point San Quentin.

The old story of one picture being worth a thousand words will be graphically illustrated by the picture story of this proposed new recreational facility. It has become a contraversial subject in the area and the presenttation at the meeting should prove enlightening on many of the points in question.

Mr. Robert Luntey, of the National Parks Service, is scheduled to be on hand to answer questions and give other valuable information. For or against, come to the meeting and enjoy yourself.

President Peter Bertoni urges every member to attend this meeting—come and bring your friends.

Initiation of new candidates will be held. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Abalone Season Open Till Jan. 14

Abalone fishing season opened March 16 and will close on January 14, 1961.

Low tides will exist in April, however in May exceptionally low tides will give abalone fishermen every opportunity to have a successful catch.

Remember—it is necessary to own a state fishing license to legally take these mollusks. Fishing time one half hour before sunrise to one half hour after sunset. Limit is 5 abalone and the Red variety must measure 7 inches across the shell.

Marin Rod & Gun Club Barbecue, July 24

The annual chicken barbecue of the Marin Rod and Gun Club will be held on Sunday, July 24. The affair will again be held at the new picnic and barbecue grounds adjacent to the clubhouse at Point San Quentin.

Last year 1200 attended the fine days outing. Plans are being made to serve as many as our facilities will accommodate.

Club's Monthly Meeting To Be Held On Friday

Do you fish Papermill Creek? Have you gone home empty-handed more times than you care to remember? Would you like to see a program put into effect which would definitely result in heavier runs of silver salmon in that area? If the answer to these questions is yes, then you owe it to yourself to attend the April 15 meeting of the Marin Rod and Gun Club.

A highly interesting and informative talk on this subject will be given by Warden Al Giddings of Marin County who has made an intensive study of declining fishery in the Papermill Creek area, and has recently submitted to the Department of Fish and Game a report of a 10-year patrol survey of the fishery.

Warden Giddings is of the firm opinion that one of the principal solutions to this serious problem is the annual planting of yearling silver salmon in the live streams which would enable the fish to go to sea shortly after planting. He will explain in detail how a project of this nature would afford a progressively greater take each year, and how the club could avail itself of the opportunity to participate in such a worthy conservation program.

This matter is of vital interest to all anglers in the county. And to you, as members of a sportsmen's organization dedicated to conservation, it is of even greater concern. So be sure to attend the meeting and hear this important message from Warden Giddings.

Army Schedules Cleanup Of Bay

The biggest clean-up job in the area is scheduled to take place on the weekend of April 23 and 24 when the Army Engineers conduct a big sweep of San Francisco and San Pablo Bays.

The floating debris that is causing considerable damage to pleasure craft, endangering water skiers, and making life miserable for fishermen will be gathered by volunteers and taken to barges anchored at strategic locations to be disposed of. One such barge will be located in the vicinity of the Marin Rod and Gun Club's pier to receive flotsom and jetsom; many of the members will be afloat helping rid the bay of the menace. You can help too; contact secretary Paul Ware of the Marin Rod and Gun Club or the Army Engineers.

Boatmen from every club in the Bay Area will help in this worthwhile project. A real crackdown by the authorities is due against careless people who are responsible for littering up the bay waters.

Park Hearing To Be Held On Thursday

A meeting pertaining to the Point Reyes recreational area as outlined by the United States Park Service will be held on April 14, at the College of Marin, starting at 10 a.m.

The hearing will be public and is being held by the Senate committee on Interior and Insular Affairs at which time all pro and con arguments will be presented.

The congressional committee will tour the proposed area by land and air in order to better understand the proposal.

Many conservationists favor the acquisition of the area now. If delayed it will be too late and with the growing population of over 3½ million in this area at present with an anticipated growth of nearly 6 million in the foreseeable future, something must be accomplished now.

Dr. Gail Adams, conservation chairman of the Marin Rod and Gun Club and other members will be present at the hearing. Our organization is in favor of establishing the recreational area along the shoreline from Bolinas to Point Reyes.

DRIFTWOOD AND SAND—A family and their dog walk along the beach near the Bolema Club, making tracks in the sand and looking over the sea-battered driftwood. Beaches are only part of the beauty of the Pt. Reyes Peninsula.

BEAUTIFUL PT. REYES: SUBJECT OF HEARING

From Inverness Ridge, outlined with stately evergreens, one can see the Pacific Ocean on the Pt. Reyes Peninsula. There is contrast and color in the big area proposed for a national seashore area. There will be a U.S. Senate hearing on the proposal Thursday at College of Marin in Kentfield.

THE BEAUTIFUL LAND—This is a lake on the Tevis ranch near Double Point, and around it are fine examples of the varied flora of the Pt. Reyes Peninsula. This is a study in the contrast of the rugged beauty of the land near the peaceful sea.

THE DUNES, THE SEA—Cattle graze on a sunny heath north of the Radio Corp. of America area on the Pt. Reyes Peninsula. Dunes fall away to the sea in some areas and in others sharp cliffs fall off to warm beaches. The coastline is rugged, beautiful and varied.

DRAKE'S BAY—Drake's Bay lies in the distance while a finger of sea reaches inland to near this ranchhouse. These grazing lands lie near the ocean, sunswept and seaswept, much as they were when Sir Francis Drake landed near here in the 16th Century.

SEA FOAM AND BEACH — High sharp cliffs drop to soft beaches on the Pt. Reyes Peninsula and the sea foams ashore. This is almost a primitive area, much the same as it has been from the days of the Indians. (Independent-Journal photos by Dick Steinheimer)

Five Homes Will Be Featured On SH Kent Woodlands House Tour

The beautiful trees and hills of Kent Woodlands will be the setting for the first event of the 1960 season of Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary when they present the Kent Woodlands House Tour on Wednesday, April 20, from 1 to 5 p.m.

Five distinctive homes will be shown with a champagne fashion show to be presented at the home of the John Willcutts, which was once a part of the Kent Estate. It has a most interesting history beginning with its use as the overflow house for the many guests who frequently visited the Kents. The present garage was originally the laundry room for the estate. During later years when the Grape Festival was held on the Kent estate, the living room of the Willcutt home was used for the "shadow shows." Assisting Maudee Willcutt will be Mrs. Thomas Jones and Mrs. Vernon Norris.

Also a part of the Kent estate is the Lorry Di Grazia home, originally built by Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kent in 1933. It was the only home being built in Marin County during this difficult year and was designed by Henry Howard now of New York. It is situated on a lovely knoll overlooking the old Kent home. The garden was originally all California native plants and trees, but many have disappeared and been replaced by "foreigners." The driveway, however, is still landscaped in the native flora. Mrs. Miriam Delaplane will be assisted by Mrs. Henry Wickert and Mrs. Phillip Crane.

The Edward Hinshaw home was built in 1952 and is a lovely contemporary modern done in adobe brick and designed by George Rockrise. The focal point of this lovely home is the cathedral beamed ceiling in the living room. Antiques and oriental art treasures have been combined to give a wonderful warmth. Of particular interest will be Mrs. Hinshaw's collection of hand carved miniature birds and oriental porcelains. Hostesses for the Hinshaw home will be Mesdames Robert Mills, Spencer Smiley Jr., George Stempel and E. W. Peterson.

NEWEST HOME

The newest home on the tour is that of the A. L. McCormicks just completed this past November. It is contemporary Georgian in design set in a lovely garden designed by Herman Hein & Associates. Mrs. McCormick has a fabulous collection of china animals and jewel boxes which she began when she was a child. Mrs. J. Kenneth Peters will be assisted by Mesdames Joseph Wilson, William Cassidy Jr., and Samuel Crowell.

A modern traditional home built for the personalities of its owners is the charming residence of the Howard Hammonds. Of particular interest will be Dr. Hammonds' silversmith workshop, built as an integral part of the main floor. Many of Dr. Hammonds' lovely hand-forged silver pieces will be displayed. Hostesses assisting Mrs. Hammond will be Mesdames August C. Belden III, Paul S. Smith, Newton Longfellow, James J. Levensaler, and James Pressley.

Mrs. Lawrence Mayer will assist her sister, Mrs. Mozart Kaufman at the latter's home designed by John Lord King high in the hills of Kent Woodlands. It is four years old, the Kaufmans having lived there two years. Mrs. Kaufman has a pewter collection and some fine paintings, most of which were picked up in Europe. Also hostessing will be Mesdames Peter Phelps, Philip Brown, Eugene Kern and Hugh Carruthers.

TRANSPORTATION

Buses will be provided for transportation throughout the tour, and it is urgently requested that guests park their cars at the entrance to Kent Woodlands or in one of the parking areas just outside the entrance. The College of Marin has offered the use of the old Tam Center parking area, and immediately adjoining this the Marine Reserve 14th Rifle Company's parking area will also be made available for parking. It will be impossible for the buses to get to some of the homes if any cars are allowed on the tour.

Anyone interested in attending the House Tour may obtain tickets from any Auxiliary member or by contacting Mrs. John Rakow of Ross.

SPRING FEVER TO INVADE FOCUS SHOW

That delightful seasonal disease "Spring Fever" invades Rickey's Fashion Focus luncheon on Tuesday to be spread infectiously with the fashion flair of a distinctive San Rafael style shop.

Fashionable carriers of this irresistible form of contagion will be eight attractive members of the Blessed Sacrament Women's Guild, honored as the Fashion Focus guest of the week.

Seven short springs ago, the Blessed Sacrament Women's Guild was organized with 90 members to serve the rapidly growing area north of San Rafael. Now there are more than 300 guild members dedicated to furthering the religious and civic life of their community, with the new Blessed Sacrament School as their special responsibility.

No innoculation yet discovered can keep Tuesday's Fashion Focus audience from catching "Spring Fever" communicated via colorful sportswear, a carnival of happy cottons, town and country classics and romantic dresses for late-day and conversation-causing coiffures by a San Rafael salon.

To completely succumb to pretty looks to take you springing into summer, reservations may be made by calling Rickey's.

Auxiliary Selects New Uniforms

Members of the Marin General Hospital Auxiliary met recently in the Hospital Annex for a luncheon and a general planning for the forthcoming Ballet Aquacade, to be held June 4 and 5, for which they are co-sponsors. New stationery for the Auxiliary was approved by the group, according to Mrs. Harrison Leppo, president.

Other projects for the newly-formed, fund-raising group to assist Marin General Hospital were discussed.

Uniforms have been selected and are to be made of either green or aqua-striped material.

Rod Duncan Claims Bride In Berkeley

At the All Souls Church in Berkeley, Dorothea Lucinda Jones became the bride of Roderic Duncan Saturday afternoon. The bride's gown of white peau de soie was appliqued in a lilies of the valley design. Her satin cap trimmed with pearls held her short veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of Eucharist lilies.

Mrs. Raymond Boyd of Montrose, Colo. was her sister's matron of honor and Nancy Robinson was maid of honor. They wore bone colored chiffon sheaths with pleated cummerbunds and floating back panels.

James Driscoll, who was with the bridegroom in the Ford Interne Program in Sacramento, was best man and in the ushering contingent were James Davis, a former UC classmate, Bert Millard, a Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity brother, and Chris Green, a classmate of Roderic at Boalt Hall School of Law at UC.

After a honeymoon in Southern California the young couple will reside in Berkeley until Roderic completes his last year of Law school.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Bennett Jones of Denver and she was graduated from the University of Colorado, where she was a Phi Beta Kappa, Delta Gamma, and member of Mortar Board.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Duncan of Belvedere are parents of the bridegroom. He is a graduate of Tamalpais High School, College of Marin and UC. He worked on several newspapers and was a sports writer for the Independent-Journal.

Guild Plans Beat Party On April 30

Excitement is running high for members of the Sleepy Hollow Guild of Sunny Hills who are preparing for their annual dinner dance, this year Beatnik style, to be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, April 30, at the Sleepy Hollow Center. It is titled "Party Pad."

Co-chairmen Mesdames William Worth and Alfred Porter have planned the cocktail hour to include music by the Dave Spears Quartet with dancing later by an orchestra. Word has it that a prominent businessman will perch on top a ladder and read poetry "real beat" to carry out the party pad idea. Abstract paintings will provide the unusual approach to decorating according to Mrs. Alfred Nanizzi who is being assisted by Mesdames Robert Grant, Ernest Winkler, H. W. Laster, and Charlotte Hardeman. Any and all mediums have been employed by the self-styled artists, all members of the Guild, who will show and sell their art that night.

Round-The-World

Mrs. John Klinicki, 614 Manzanita avenue, Corte Madera, will leave April 16 from San Francisco International airport to begin a three-month round-the-world tour.

Stops include Honolulu, Japan, Athens and western European cities.

Marin Delta Zetas To Elect Officers

Officers for the coming year will be elected at the Delta Zeta Marin County alumnae chapter meeting, Thursday, April 21, at 7:30 p.m., in the Lucas Valley home of Mrs. William Brook.

The slate of officers will be presented by the chairman of the nominating committee, Mrs. James Smith of Terra Linda. Mrs. Earl Koehler of Lucas Valley is co-hostess of the meeting.

A report on the sorority's recent successful luncheon and bridge afternoon to benefit the Hearing Society of Marin will be given by the event chairman, Mrs. Robert Tanem of San Rafael. Over 100 local women attended the annual affair in March at Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

A discussion of the coming year's activities of the Hearing Society will be led by Miss Slavka Cibilich of Corte Madera, alumnae philanthropies committee chairman and newly-elected president of the society. She will outline the local group's participation in the May Society observance of National Hearing Month and project the Society's financial aims for the coming year.

President Mrs. Smith will review the Northern California State Day celebration held last week in Palo Alto and read the local alumnae report which she gave at the all-day workshop session and luncheon. The workshops were attended by Mrs. Smith, Mrs. William L. Blair of Fairfax, province director of the five Northern California college chapters, and Mrs. Thomas J. Mellon of Kent Woodlands, who was honored last month as Delta Zeta's first recipient of the Civic Achievement Award given by the Marin County alumnae chapter annually.

Alumnae will start preliminary planning on their semi-annual "get-together" for husbands and members which will be held in June this year. Traditionally, an outdoor barbecue supper and evening of entertainment is planned to introduce new members to the alumnae group.

Child Health Meet

The Larkspur-Corte Madera Child Health Conference will be held tomorrow from 9 to 11 a.m. at the Redwoods Presbyterian Church, Magnolia and Alexander avenues, Larkspur. Dr. Marilyn Hicks, attending physician, will be assisted by Mrs. Helen Engh, public health nurse, and volunteers from Larkspur and Corte Madera P-TAs. Appointments may be made by phoning Mrs. Richard Glassman, Larkspur.

Auxiliary Holds Bonnets Parade

Carpenters Ladies Auxiliary No. 495 held a gala Easter hat parade at its recent meeting at Carpenters Hall, San Rafael. All members present wore original creations ranging from the humorous to frilly varieties.

Judges Mesdames Willard Scovill and E. C. Beckius selected the following winners: Prettiest, Mrs. Marie Stone; funniest, Mrs. Henry Zackow; cutest, Mrs. Jesse R. Cornwell; homemade, Thelma Fitzmorris. There was a tie for the most original so the judges awarded two prizes to Mrs. Eva Jackson and Mrs. George Haskin.

An original skit written by Mrs. Beckius entitled "Gertie and Jimmy Hunt Easter Eggs" was presented with narration by Betty Beckius and the parts of Gertie and Jimmy being taken by Mrs. Clarence Haskin and Jane Beckius respectively.

Marin Women

Haiti Religion To Be Topic For Churchwomen

"The Religious History of Haiti" will be the subject of the speaker, Mrs. Milton Farmer, at the meeting of the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Church of the Nativity on Tuesday, April 19, at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Gwynn Thomson, 312 Miller Creek road, Marinwood.

Mrs. Farmer, an energetic traveler, will illustrate her talk with colored slides taken on her visit to Haiti in 1958. While in Haiti, Mrs. Farmer was the guest of the Rev. and Mrs. Hall Partrick. Rev. Partrick was then Dean of the Episcopal Seminary of Haiti.

For many years Mrs. Farmer has been an enthusiastic worker for the Episcopal Churchwomen. She is the past president of the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Diocese of California, and this year conducted the Marin Convocation Workshop on programs.

Rev. Peter Farmer, the first vicar of St. Francis Episcopal Church in Novato, is her son.

A business meeting will follow the program. Mrs. Robert Bramman, the ways and means chairman, will present plans for the sponsorship of the Ross Valley Players' production of "Sabrina Fair" on Friday evening, May 20.

Dessert and coffee will be served after the business meeting. Co-hostess for the evening is Mrs. Richard Leaird.

Novato Court's Show Will Have Venetian Theme

The Catholic Daughters of America Court of Novato and friends will spend "An Afternoon in Venice" May 4 when their annual evening fashion show will be given, at 8 o'clock in Our Lady of Loretto parish hall, Novato.

With a limited supply of tickets available, early reservations are requested. Those interested in attending may contact Mrs. Eugene Cordone, 570 Sunset Parkway Novato who is reservations chairman.

Bethel Rummage Sale

At a recent meeting of Bethel 48, International Order of Job's Daughters, it was disclosed that a rummage sale will be held on April 14, 15 and 16th of this month for the senior princesses project. The sale will be held at Fourth and C streets.

It was announced that there will be such things as chaise lounges, baby cribs, radios, toys, and clothes.

Hospital Volunteers Workshop Set May 12 At Marin General

An innovation in Marin County will be a workshop for hospital volunteers which will be a highlight of National Hospital Week May 8 to 14. Sponsored by the Marin General Hospital Service League, the workshop for hospital volunteers will be held at Marin General Hospital on Thursday, May 12, according to Mrs. John Kyle, general chairman for the educational event.

Invited to attend are not only members of the Marin General Hospital Service League and the Marin General Hospital Auxiliary but also members of the Ross General Hospital volunteer workers, as well as women from Novato who are forming a service group to do volunteer work for the Novato hospital which will operate in the future. The volunteers from Novato are being organized under the direction of the Novato Junior Women's Club, according to Mrs. Eugene Biddle.

WORKSHOP COURSE

The workshop training course will start at 10 o'clock in the moring with coffee, enrollment and introductions.

The formalized program will start at 10:30 a.m. with a talk by S. Ames Pence, administrator of Marin General Hospital, who will talk on "Relationship of Volunteers and Administration."

Dr. Wilson P. Goddard, president of the board of directors of the Marin County Hospital District, will talk on "The Relationship of Volunteers to the Medical Staff and the Board of Directors."

An interesting account of nursing in the hospital will be given by Miss Amelia Ditt, director of nursing at Marin General. She will also discuss "The Relationship of Volunteers to the Nursing Staff."

Director of Volunteers for Marin General Hospital, Mrs. Frank Moore, will cover recruitment, orientation, and training of volunteers.

A PARADE

A parade of hospital projects and activities will be presented by Mrs Leslie Clason, vice president of the Marin General Hospital Service League. Chairmen will be present to present and discuss their projects.

From 11:45 to 12:15 p.m. there will be a discussion break and at 12:15 a basket lunch will be served to all of the volunteers attending. During lunch, a "buzz" session will be conducted by groups with common interests or problems.

At 1 p.m., the highlight of the program will take place when a talk on communications will be given by Dr. William Pemberton, an expert on semantics. Following his talk, tours will be conducted for those guests who would like to know more about the operation of Marin's community hospital.

Laurel Dell P-TA To Elect Officers

The most important meeting of the year for the Laurel Dell P-TA will be the one held on April 21 at 7:30 p.m., with Mrs. Lester Ecke, president, presiding. All members are urged to be present.

The main item on the agenda will be the election of officers for the coming year. A nominating committee has selected a slate of officers to present to the membership.

Also to be presented will be expenditures of funds rasied and plans for the May Festival to be held May 14 at the school.

Of special interest for the evening will be short talks by exchange students, Miss Nina Knudsen from Holte, Denmark, and Miss Jill Sigler, San Rafael, home from Turkey. Refreshments will be served following the meeting by the sixth grade mothers.

Ewalds Will Speak At Guild Meeting

The St. Charles Guild of Holy Innocents Episcopal Church in Corte Madera will host a dessert on Tuesday evening, April 19, at 8 p.m. at the parish hall.

The evening will be an informal get together called, "South Seas with the Preacher."

The Rev. and Mrs. Tod Ewald have recently returned from their trip to the South Seas and will give a talk on their experiences on the trip. The talk will be divided into three parts: Life aboard ship, life in the islands, and the church in the South Pacific. Dessert will be served after the talk. The public is invited to attend. Anyone wishing to attend must contact Mrs. Tom Garrett or from anyone of the Guild members.

Mrs. S. C. Stapp Is Named President Of Sausalito Club

The president-elect of the Sausalito Woman's Club is Mrs. S. C. Stapp. At Thursday's business meeting the report of the nominating committee was given by its chairman, Mrs. Richard E. Cruikshank.

Others elected to office for the 1960-61 season are:

Mesdames Robert Scarborough, first vice president; Delman D. Smith, second vice president; Wiley Smith, treasurer; Henry G. Douglas, recording secretary; James F. McIndoe, financial secretary; and board members, Mesdames Mervyn S. Cowen, Raymond G. Gergus, Byron Mayo, Clayton D. Mote, Wint F. Saint and Warren Zimmer.

Mrs. Richard F. Phillips will relinquish the gavel to the new president on June 2, when the installation of officers takes place at the annual June luncheon.

A native of Cleveland, Ohio, Mrs. Stapp has been a resident of Sausalito and 2 club member for almost 15 years and has served as a board member of the club and as chairman of many committees. Her civic and philanthropic interests include the Sausalito chairmanship of American Red Cross, a board member of Marin branch, Pro-America, and a volunteer at the Sausalito Salvage Shop.

Other business at the meeting for members only, included donations to Marin Society for Crippled Children; Sausalito Little League; Richardson Bay Recreation League and a membership in the Marin Conservation League.

Mrs. Phillips showed the members a gift from Miss Fanny Schoobert, the only living founder of the club. It is a handsome silver punch ladle and will be "christened" at the June luncheon.

Before the meeting, Mrs. George W. Quinn Jr. was a luncheon hostess for the members of the nominating committee and the new officers.

Greeting members at the clubhouse were Mesdames W. D. Funk and Charles P. Knaebel. Mrs. Leonard G. James was tea chairman and Mesdames Walter D. Barkdull and Frank E. Rossman poured.

This Thursday, the garden section, headed by Mrs. Wint F. Saint, will have a garden tour arranged by Mrs. Justin M. Day. Four outstanding Sausalito gardens, one with a swimming pool, will be visited. Starting at the clubhouse at 10:30 a.m., the tour will end at the Day residence where coffee will be served on the deck.

'Africa' Topic For Guild On Thursday

"Africa," will be the topic on Thursday, April 14, for the Women's Guild meeting of the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo.

Enoch Abenoyap, of the Cameroun, will speak about work awaiting him there as will finish his work at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in June. Abenoyap is studying here on the Agape Fellowship for a year. This was granted to him by the World Service Department under the Board of Ecumenical Missions and Relations. He also spent a year at Lincoln Seminary and received his B.D. Degree there. He is an ordained minister and will preside over a circuit of churches in the Cameroun. It is a great privilege to hear him and to know more about his work.

Dr. John Milton Kelley, well-known music director from San Anselmo's Seminary, will show pictures taken on his good will tour to Africa. Dr. and Mrs. Kelly spent six months or more traveling by air to strategic spots in Africa and presenting programs with the Princeton group sent there by the State Department.

Mrs. Robert Clapham will bring the devotional message. Following this a solo "He Was Despised," from the Messiah will be sung by Mrs. Wesley Honeyman.

Luncheon will be served at noon by Mrs. Lewis Cummings Circle. Mrs. Bradford Muse will preside as chairman.

PATRICIA F. KNISER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Kniser, 315 Laurel avenue, Novato, has won the silver wings of a United Air Lines stewardess. After 4½ weeks at the company's stewardess training Wyo., she now serves school in Cheyenne, aboard Mainliners flying in and out of the New York area. Miss Kniser is a graduate of San Rafael High School.

Familiar words? I doubt it! Yet fifty years ago they were in common usage in every American home.
As times change, we discard and replace an astounding number of things, modes, and habits. At the present time our way of living is keyed to speed and the availability of both commodities and ideas. The prospect of preparing an infusion of the bark, leaves and leaf buds of the laurel tree in order to make sassafras tea is not acceptable today. (sounds ugh, doesn't it?)
So, we shelved that item and replaced it with more pleasing and quickly prepared hot drinks. Good old sarsaparilla is gone too, and no regrets. (made from the bitter-flavored roots of a certain species of smilax . . . did you know that?)
Syllubub is another unlamented concoction blended of cider and cream, varied by using rum or wine. Well, you could TRY it if you like.
So, I bring you to another phase of modern living . . . diversion in time of leisure. You COULD dance the minuet providing you had a partner and the proper music. I think you'd prefer to dance in tune with your times. Why don't you?
Phone the Arthur Murray Studio: GL 4-6652 and make an appointment to learn those modern steps you've been wishing you could do. Nothing slow and tedious . . . streamlined, speedy instruction.
Tell them I sent you.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, April 12, the 103rd day of the year, with 263 more in 1960. Passover, first day.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1777, Henry Clay, American statesman and orator, was born.

In 1861, Confederate forces opened fire on Fort Sumter.

In 1945, the 32nd President of the United States, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, died in Warm Springs, Ga.

In 1955, an effective anti-polio vaccine was announced, developed by Dr. Jonas Salk of Pittsburgh.

A thought for today: Franklin Delano Roosevelt, in his fourth inaugural address, said: "We have learned that we cannot live alone, at peace; that our well-being is dependent on the well-being of other nations, far away."

It's Not Smart Economy To Cut Costs On School Books

Do your children have good school books? Are there enough of them to go around?

They can't be educated without books.

Remember the texts you used — the big thin geographies, the drab little spellers, the fat arithmetics? They have been improved. Nowadays they are beautifully illustrated. They are very carefully written. There are books for fast learners, average learners and slow learners.

Teachers in some school districts complain about textbooks. They say they don't have enough books to go around.

It's odd. Some school districts erect expensive new buildings. They install fine new equipment. They hire good teachers. Then they cut the book budget to the bone. That is not smart, it it?

Another complaint is that school leaders order textbooks without consulting the teachers. The right way to choose books is to have teachers and principals do the selecting. They should try out all available books, carefully. Then they should decide which ones are best.

Politics shouldn't enter into the choice of school books.

I believe that neither of these criticisms apply here, in the local schools. I think they do apply in some other places.

Help your children take good care of their books. Teach them how to open a new book carefully, without breaking the binding. Teach them not to turn down leaves, or mark the pages. If the school encourages paper book covers, have them use them.

READERS' FORUM

(Q)—"How often should a 3-year-old be spanked? If I gave way to my feelings I'd spank my son four or five times a day. Would this be wise?"

—A.R.D.

(A)—No. Reserve your spankings for the few most dangerous things he does. Then spank hard enough for him to remember it.

Go-Kart Klub To Be Organized Thursday Night

Organization of a Marin County "Kart Klub" will take place tomorrow night at a meeting in San Rafael High School, it was announced yesterday by Tom Parks of San Rafael, one of the organizers.

The meeting will be held in the high school's "Little Theater" starting at 7:30 p.m., Parks said, and all interested persons are invited to attend.

Parks described "Go-Karting" as . . . a sport for kids from 6 to 60 years of age, a real thrill and excellent training for safety on the highways."

A Kart is equipped with a two-cycle engine, a "GO" pedal and a "STOP" pedal. It is three feet wide, five feet long, two feet high and weighs about 100 pounds. The driver's posterior is only two inches or so above the ground, so it gives the impression of going 90 mph when actually you are trevilling at 25 or 30 mph.

Parks said plans are in the making for construction of a Kart track north of San Rafael in the near future.

Reception Fetes Pastor, Wife In Corte Madera

A silver anniversary surprise reception was held for the Rev. Gerald Moyer, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Corte Madera, and Mrs. Moyer at the church on Paradise drive Sunday evening.

More than 100 of the Moyers' friends from throughout the Bay Area gathered to present a "silver tree" hung with silver dollars, and a large tiered wedding cake, in honor of the Moyers' 25th wedding anniversary. There was a buffet table. No formal program was included.

In Marine March

Back From Pacific

Carl W. Carlson, Navy fireman apprentice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilber H. Carlson of 515 Mission avenue, San Rafael, has returned to Alameda aboard the aircraft carrier Midway after a seven-month tour of duty with the 7th Fleet in the Western Pacific.

Yesterday's Answer

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Brown Signs Bills For Bond Votes

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday signed a bill to put 700 million dollars in bond issues on the June primary ballot—400 million for veterans farm and home purchase loans and 300 million for local school construction bonds.

Bond issues usually appear on the general election ballot in November. But Brown had asked for special legislation so this year's bond proposals wouldn't conflict with his $1,750,000,000 water bond issue to go before voters in November.

The measure by Assemblyman Carley Porter (D-Compton) also puts on the primary ballot a proposal that would allow future bond acts to be submitted at primary as well as general elections.

Merchants Group Forms Committee In Corte Madera

The Corte Madera Shopping Center Merchants Council board of directors has formed a new committee to direct promotional activities of the center through next fall.

Robert Guelld, promotional manager of Montgomery Ward and Co., heads the promotional committee. Other members are Dean O'Connor, assistant manager of J. C. Penney Co.; James Zierolf, manager of Littleman's Market; Harry Baker, manager of Gallenkamp Shoes; Adrian Taylor, manager of W. T. Grant Co., and Cary Bowles, representing Madera Gardens Development Co.

The committee's first project will be May Dollar Days.

Ex-Marin Labor Leader Honored

Tribute was paid to the late Jack Wise, a leader in Marin building trades labor in the 1930s, at last week's meeting of the Marin Labor Council. The meeting was adjourned for one minute of silence in memory of Wise, who was a former delegate to the council.

Wise was a charter member of the Marin Laborers Local 291 and served it as secretary-treasurer from 1937 to 1940. When he went to Alaska he became an Iron Worker and also carried a card in the Pile Drivers Union while engaging in heavy construction in Alaska. He died last month in Seattle.

Catholic Schools Close Tomorrow

Marin County's Catholic grade and high schools will close for Easter vacation at 3 p.m. tomorrow. They will reopen on Wednesday morning, April 20.

Public schools are closed all this week.

THERE WAS AN OLD WOMAN WHO LIVED IN A SHOE—

If your lovely wife is tired of "just not enough bedrooms" for your brood, then see this true family home in Ross. 5 bedrooms, 2½ baths, and more extra rooms, for laundry and sewing, or just plain storage than you've ever dreamed of. On a large pool size lot, close to stores and schools, and whatever you need for a carefree, convenient family life. Yes, the home is old, but has a new roof, an excellent, giant heating system, and is wired for 220 V. These are the facts. You must see this home to appreciate its charm and possibilities.

LARGE FAMILY!

Put 'em here, pal! We have a 4 bedroom home with 2½ baths, plus electric kitchen and a great big family room for the just listed price of $28,950. Located on a level street in Hawthorne Hills, the home boasts a clear view of Mt. Tamalpais and Ross Valley. The family room and one bedroom and ½ bath are below the main living area of the house. No need to have your large and lovely living room, with towering brick fireplace wall, cluttered with children's toys and play equipment. There's a separate utility room for storage, sewing or whatever-you-wish. Assume existing financing of $21,000 at approx. $155 per mo. Carpets and drapes included. Let us show you today.

Probation Given In Delinquency Case

Jimmy Jones, 38-year-old San Francisco cab driver, drew two years supervised probation and $100 fine Friday for staying overnight with two 16-year-old runaway girls in Mill Valley last January.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court sentenced Jones yesterday for contributing to the delinquency of minors. Jones must obey all probation rules and stay away from minors under 18.

The girls, who ran away from Lafayette to seek singing careers for themselves, said they went to a home on West Blithedale avenue in Mill Valley and stayed with Jones and two other men. They said they did not tell the men their ages until the last day, and the men then told the girls to leave.

The other two men, San Francisco singer Wally Hawkins, 23, and Worthington Lee, 23, of Mill Valley were sentenced previously.

12-Month School Session Studied

A committee has been formed to study the possibilities of holding school 12 months a year in the Mill Valley School District, Supt. G. Robert McConnell said today. A first meeting has not yet been set.

Committee members, representing citizens and employees of the school district, are Stephen Cook, Archer Forsyth, Donald Greene, maintenance foreman for the district; Robert Petersen, teacher at Edna Maguire School; Guy Poorman, principal of Tamalpais Valley and Marin Terrace Schools; Robert H. Andresen, school trustee; Robert K. Gordon, Mrs. Arne Anderson, Mrs. T. E. Theiss Jr. and Mrs. Willard Tribble.

New Car Smog Control Device Nears Market

DETROIT (UPI)—A new device which would provide a "practical and effective solution" to the problem of exhaust gases from cars will be on the market before the end of the year, the president of a Portland, Me., research and development company says.

Herman Cohen, president of Norton Portland Corp., said the U. S. Army Tank-Automotive Command Center here has expressed interest in the device and it is now undergoing final tests.

FOR ALL VEHICLES

Cohen said his company had been working on development of the device, which fits comfortably in the palm of the hand, since 1947. Originally the work was concentrated on devices to control exhaust fumes of vehicles which operated inside buildings, he said, but work was continued until a device practical for all vehicles was developed.

Cohen said he was not in a position to discuss price because the device would be marketed by Ebco., Inc., a licensee of Norton Portland, but added "it will be far less than $100."

TROUBLE-FREE

Known as "Monoxit," the device will provide trouble-free operation for the lifetime of vehicles using it, Cohen said. By eliminating known damaging elements it also will tend to lengthen the life of mufflers and tailpipes, which account for 17 to 18 per cent of the dollar volume of replacement parts sold each year, he said.

The device is an afterburner which can be attached directly to the exhaust manifold under the hood of vehicles. It will come in "about a dozen" sizes to make it applicable to all cars.

Air is pumped into the exhaust in a shielded ceramic chamber, Cohen said. A battery-powered glow-plug in the chamber is heated to an intensity of burning off unburned hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide.

The Automobile Manufacturers Association, which has been guiding the auto industry's attempt to develop an exhaust control device, said it was not familiar with the new device.

Sunrise Services Planned On Tam

Easter Sunrise Services will again be held this year at Cushing Memorial Theater on Mt. Tamalpais.

This annual event is cosponsored by the citizens of Mill Valley and personnel of the 666th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron stationed on Mt. Tam.

The sunrise services will begin at 6 a.m.

Parking space is available. Boy Scouts of Mill Valley will assist in parking and ushering. Signs will be placed along the Panoramic Highway leading to the mountain theater. The members of the Hamilton Air Force Base contingent will do this placing.

School Job Contracts Up For Approval

Contracts for the addition of tennis courts and remodeling of the girls' lavatory at San Rafael High School will be put up for approval at the San Rafael Board of Education meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at 215 Mission avenue.

The contracts will be drawn with the architectural firm of Gromme, Mulvin and Priestley of San Rafael.

Plans for a national school public relations seminar will also be discussed.

A progress report on the Terra Linda High School access road will be presented to the board, and four teachers' names will be placed before the trustees for appointment.

6 Conferences Scheduled To Discuss Credit

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Consumer Counsel Helen Nelson of Mill Valley has announced a series of six conferences to be held throughout the state to discuss credit—"the No. 1 consumer problem in California."

Consumers, businessmen and representatives of community organizations have been invited to attend the discussions with Mrs. Nelson and experts from state agencies.

Mrs. Nelson said she hopes to gather accurate information and recommendations on problems faced by consumers in credit buying, with special emphasis on cost, revolving accounts, installment buying, personal loans, door-to-door credit buying and credit to teenagers.

The first meeting is scheduled in Fresno Thursday. Other conferences will be held in El Centro April 25, San Diego April 26, San Francisco May 5, Los Angeles May 9 and 10, and Salinas May 11.

Yosemite Roads Open

YOSEMITE (AP)—All of the main roads in Yosemite National Park excepting the one over Tioga Pass will be open by Easter Sunday, the parks service announced yesterday.
